POLITICAL HOLIDAY ENDS IN WORD WAR

Republican Leader Assailed for Use of Ugly Language in Disregarding Facts.

By EDWARD T. FOLLIARD.

The "political holiday" decreed recently by certain Republican leaders, but interrupted Wednesday by Senator Simeon D. Fess (Republican), of Ohio, was further enlivened yesterday when Jouett Shouse, chairman of the Democratic national executive committee, got back to town.

On Wednesday, Senator Fess, who is chairman of the Republican national executive committee, charged that Mr. Shouse had told a "deliberate lie" in a speech he made in San Francisco.

Yesterday Mr. Shouse denied the charge, assailed Senator Fess for his careless use of the "short and ugly word," and, then resorting to an old Al Smith stunt, cited the record to show that the senator himself had once admitted telling a falsehood to the "newspaper boys."

Fess Accuses Shouse.

Senator Fess, quoting an article from a San Francisco newspaper, accused Mr. Shouse of saying that the Republican national committee had purchased 10,000,000 copies of a magazine that contained an attack on the Catholicism of John J. Raskob, chairman of the Democratic national committee. The magazine article that Mr. Shouse referred to, Senator Fess said, was written by Robert Cruise McManus.

Replying to Senator Fess yesterday, Mr. Shouse said that his statement was "wholly without foundation of fact." He said he had never heard of McManus.

"In the speech at San Francisco," he said, "I called attention to an article published in Scribner's Magazine, of last September, excerpts from which were reproduced in a pamphlet issued by the Republican national committee under the heading, 'Smear Hoover—Raskob's Order to His Subsidized Propagandist.' (The excerpts were from an article by Frank Kent.)

Shouse States Charge.

"I definitely charged," continued Mr. Shouse, "that the Republican national committee had flooded the country with copies of this pamphlet, indeed that the pamphlet constituted a very considerable part of the publicity of the Republican party in the congressional campaign of last fall.

"It never occurred to me that even the management of the Republican national committee could be so stupid or so extravagant that it would buy copies of a magazine, when it might reproduce in pamphlet form the portions of an individual article pertinent to its purposes and circulate them as it pleased. (Senator Fess had represented Mr. Shouse as saying that the Republican committee bought 10,000,000 copies of a magazine.)

Answering Senator Fess' charge that he had told a "deliberate lie," Mr. Shouse said:

Ugly Word Stressed.

"The short and ugly word is one that gentlemen are very careful about using, and any man having the slightest regard for his reputation, particularly a man occupying high official or political position, might be

Calvin Coolidge Says:

The old question of conservation of natural resources has become acute again in the inverted form of overproduction. The same producing interests which formerly looked with disfavor on conservation as a limitation on the use of their property regardless of its becoming exhausted, are now the most solicitous for some restriction.

This is a distinct change of attitude. A few years ago the National Government established a commission to propose conservation of petroleum. That industry did not receive the proposal with favor. Improved machinery, new methods of operation and large investments of capital have brought on the market so much oil, copper and lumber that a fall in prices has made much of their production unprofitable. Yet it is generally agreed that these supplies are limited and it is only a question of time when a real shortage will come.

No doubt the public is securing commodities at prices below cost. But things are so ordered in this world that it is not to the final advantage of the public to buy large supplies below cost. The reaction is sure to be bad. Some action for conservation without unlawful restraint of trade is needed for the present and future public welfare.

Sergt. Maj. Kuster Wins in Ad Contest

To George B. C. Kuster, regimental sergeant major of the Thirtenth engineers, at Fort Humphreys, Va., goes the distinction of writing the best ad submitted in the second week of The Post-Zain Amateur Ad Writing Contest.

Sergt. Kuster wins $100 in cash. His amateur ad on Associated Bakery Unions was voted the best of thousands sent in, by Judges Charles Finney, Howard Berry and Jesse Ramsdell.

The surprise of Sergt. Kuster, when informed of his good luck, was only equaled by the pleasure displayed last week by Mrs. M. L. May, winner of the first of the weekly prize awards. Like Mrs. May, he was incredulous of the contest editor's announcement.

"I knew though that if I kept on writing ads every day I would win a prize," he added as an afterthought. He said he wrote 20 ads in the first week, and has only 6 more firms to write about before he completes the list of 35 advertisers cooperating in the contest.

What would he do with the money? Why he expects almost any day now to be transferred to Hawaii, or even Panama. And can a sergeant major in the engineers make us of 100 berries in Hawaii or Panama? Don't ask foolish questions.

Sergt. Kuster said he got his inspiration for his $100 prize winner from a letter written by District Health Officer W. C. Fowler, to Gardner Johnson, president of the Gardner Johnson Advertisers Service Bureau, which was reprinted in an advertisement.

The letter stated that "all bakeries operating within the District of Columbia are subject to the same careful supervision and inspection for cleanliness and sanitation."

Following are the winners of 175 prizes in merchandise offered for "runner-up" ads submitted in last week's contest:

$951,000 LIEN ON BROADMOOR SHOWN UNPAID

STATUS OF HOLDERS STILL UNREVEALED

Rheem, Explaining Issuance of Later Loan, Says He Foresaw Profit.

Creditors examining tangled affairs of the Swartzell, Rheem & Hensey Co. yesterday questioned methods of financing the Broadmoor Apartments, failed in an effort to uncover the status of noteholders, then returned to their inquiry into Westchester Apartments operations.

Both of the projects were financed by the bankrupt concern. Their history, disclosed in yesterday's testimony, closely paralleled the the Shoreham Building transactions, aired earlier in the hearing.

Edmund D. Rheem, executive vice president of the defunct firm, again went before the referee in bankruptcy to answer questions of creditors. He appeared anxious to please, and only once claimed immunity from responding on the ground he might incriminate himself.

Records Are Produced.

This was when Attorney M. D. Rosenberg asked what was done with $1,125,000 received from the Metropolitan Life Insurance Co., for retirement of $1,350,000 in notes on the Westchester Apartments.

Attorney E. Hilton Jackson produced company records to show that $951,000 of notes on the new Broadmoor are still outstanding and unpaid. Jackson Tuesday had produced similar "memoranda" from the files of the company alleging $815,000 of notes on the released Shoreham Building property had never been paid. Rheem said the "memoranda" did not constitute an accurate record.

Jackson asked Rheem if any of the notes on the original $1,250,000 Broadmoor trust had been paid. The witness replied he did not know; that he was out of the city at the time and had no recollection of the payment.

Taken Up In 1930.

Earlier Jackson developed that the original trust on the Broadmoor was taken up in February, 1930, five years before maturity, and that a later trust for $1,100,000 was issued. Jackson asked why the company took up the trust five years before it was due. Rheem said he thought he could reinvest the money at a profit.

The attorney asked Rheem to account for the difference in the amount of the two trusts. Rheem answered that his company purchased a $150,000 second trust note of the Broadmoor Corporation to make up the difference.

The inquiry next turned on the Westchester Apartments, Attorney George E. Sullivan leading the questioning. Sullivan sought to question the witness on items appearing in the audit of the company's books made by the receivers. Rheem said he had never seen the audit and declined to submit to the examination on the advice of his counsel, Leon Tobriner.

Sullivan sought to have the witness agree to verify a number of items in the audit, outside of the regular bankruptcy hearings, but Tobriner vigorously objected.

Says He Is Willing.

"I am perfectly willing to tell you anything I am able," Rheem said, "but I have never seen this book before. It would be necessary for me to verify thousands of figures. I do not think that is my responsibility."

When Sullivan said the figures should be checked by the trustees, Referee Fred J. Eden asked if he would be willing to bear the expense, pointing out that the cost of the hearings is becoming heavy, and will come out of the estate.

"Of course, I don't mean that my clients should pay it," said Sullivan. "They have been stung enough."

Rheem testified he was not allowed in the company offices at the time the bankruptcy schedule was being prepared, and so could not know the amount of money due to noteholders at the time of the bankruptcy. He admitted auditors going over the company's books frequently consulted him, and that he "advised" them, not

Will Name Body to Decide Government's Form on This Date.

Madrid, April 23 (A.P.).—The new Spanish cabinet tonight tentatively set June 21 as the date when the people of Spain will determine by a general election what form of government they desire. On that day they will select a constituent cortes (parliamentary assembly) which will draft a new constitution for the country.

The cortes thus will determine the type of government which will succeed the present regime of Provisional President Niceto Alcala Zamora. Should the monarchists carry the election, it is pointed out, King Alfonso XIII would restore his monarchy. If the republicans are victorious a regular constitutional republic will be established.

For the general election it is planned to reduce the voting age from 25 to 23 years.

Infanta Isabella Mourned.

Spain's new government paused today in the task of building a republic to grieve for the Infanta Isabella, whose death in Paris was the first monarchial casualty in the movement which swept away the Bourbons.

Madrid thought of her as a sort of beloved aunt, not only of the king, but of all Spaniards. People thought of her as the sweet old lady in the palace on Quintano avenue. Everybody liked her, and she liked everybody.

Alexander Lerroux, the foreign minister, spoke for republicans and monarchists alike this evening when he said, "she was a woman who never incurred the hatred of anyone. It was a great misfortune that she decided to leave Spain, for I fear that was what caused her untimely death."

Heart Attack Fatal.

Paris, April 23 (A.P.).—Infanta Marie Isabella Francoise, aunt of King Alfonso of Spain, died here today of a heart attack, three days after she entered France as an exile. She was 79 years old.

Death came at the clinic to which she was removed on a stretcher as soon as she came from Madrid last Monday. Her sister, Infanta Eulalia, and her niece by marriage, Infanta Beatrice, were at her bedside. Victoria of Spain came from Fontainebleau with her children after her death to spend an hour in prayer. Isabella received the last sacraments a few minutes before she passed away.

As the first member of the Spanish royal family to die in exile, her body will lie in view of friends until Alfonso returns from London, it was announced tonight. Victoria decided to await his coming before making a decision as to the funeral.

Infanta Isabella had long suffered from spinal trouble and was ill in bed when the royal family fled last week after the fall of the monarchy. Realizing she would not be harmed, they left her in care of Infanta Beatrice with the expectation she would follow later.

Though still ailing, she packed her bags and left the Spanish capital last Monday by train. She chatted vivaciously with other emigres on the tiring journey and arrived in Paris that night, apparently none the worse for her experience. Nevertheless, she was unable to accompany Victoria to Fontainebleau and remained in the clinic with a retinue of nurses and servants. The emotion generated by her exile is believed to have contributed to her death.

However, it was not her first experience in banishment. She saw her mother, Queen Isabella, dethroned in 1868 and left the country during the brief life of the first republic. She married Gaetan, Prince of Bourbon, in 1868. He died three years later.

Don Jaime Seeks Power.

ROLLICKING RENO

By J. F. McDONALD

State's Rum Freedom Aids Reno Gambling

City Has Always Played, Either Legally or Illegally, and New Law Only Makes Games Open to Public Eye Instead of Hidden in Cellars.

Reno, Nevada, April 23.—They gambled in Reno in the days of the Comstock kings, by the light of oil lamps and of pitch pine torches, and the booted desert rats rode in on burros to toss their new-won fortunes over the green tables.

They gambled under the glaring carbon-filament electrics in 1910, before the fifteen rounds of disappointment that they called "the last big fight," when Johnson ripped the blundering, ancient Jeffries into bloody ribbons.

Those were the days. Charley the Swede spun the roulette wheel back of Golden's barroom. Wong Git, the Hip Sing tongman, crony of Mock Duck, parked on Virginia street, admitting San Francisco was "more better" as a place to live than he had found New York and asking with satirical affection for the health of Dr. Parkhurst.

The pastor of the First Methodist Church announced, as subject matter for his Sunday sermon: "The Shame of Reno." But, a week before the fight, the county license bureau issued 219 licenses to traveling gamblers, in town with tents and portable roulette wheels, craps and faro layouts on the trail of sportsmen's dollars.

Only Mrs. Smith McKim complained the town was dull—and bad for the complexion, what with heat and drought—and Mrs. Edward Coyne found Sundays "endless" after New York. Others thought Reno bright enough.

They gamble still, in Reno—legally and under a State license law of March 19, as this series on "Rollicking Reno" has pointed out.

Reno, in fact, has always gambled, legally or illegally. The years between the passage of the anti-gambling law of 1910 and national prohibition may have seen the sprouting of some scruples. But prohibition stifled them.

That is what Mayor Roberts meant when, on the first day of lawful gambling (always excepting licensed card

D. A. R. ELECTS SEVEN OFFICERS IN CLOSE VOTING

New Leaders Represent Widely Separated Sections of U. S.

MRS. PATTON GIVEN HONORARY POSITION

Seven women representing widely separated sections of the country were elected to the high office of vice president general of the National Society, Daughters of the American Revolution, in yesterday's election.

The successful candidates were:

The vice presidents general elected with the number of votes cast for them were Mrs. Herbert Fay Gaffney, Atlanta, Ga., 1,388; Mrs. Charles E. Herrick, Chicago, 1,344; Mrs. James Thomas Rountree, Terrell, Tex., 1,229; Mrs. Charles F. Bathrick, Battle Creek, Mich., 1,229; Mrs. James Crankshaw, Fort Wayne, Ind., 1,229; Mrs. William Henderson Vaught, Wheeling, W. Va., 1,259; Mrs. William H. Pouch, New York, 1,255.

Mrs. James Franklin Trottman, of Milwaukee, Wis., and Mrs. Walter Christopher Johnson, of Chattanooga, Tenn., were the two candidates who failed of election. They received 1,207 and 986 votes, respectively.

Mrs. Alex Ennis Patton, of Philadelphia, was elected honorary vice president general for life by a two-thirds vote. She was unopposed.

Mrs. Alexander Ennis Patton, of Philadelphia, the only candidate for honorary vice president, was elected by more than a two-thirds majority. After news of her election became known early in the afternoon she was besieged with congratulations.

Excitement Greets Voting Results.

A stir of excitement went through the thousands of delegates in Constitution Hall at the opening of the night session when it was seen that Miss Katherine Nettleton, State regent of Connecticut and chairman of tellers, was standing beside Mrs. Hobart, the presiding officer on the platform. When she made her announcement the house rang with applause and the successful candidates were escorted to the platform and presented to the audience.

Modern aircraft was discussed by Capt. John H. Towers, Bureau of Aeronautics, Navy Department, in a speech in which he told of the developments in the science of aviation. Capt. Towers was cordially received by the delegates and his remarks, especially those touching on matters of national defense, were greeted with applause.

"The aircraft carrier of today is as radical a development as was the Monitor 70 years ago," Capt. Towers said. He predicted that before long sky traffic will be so thick in the commercial lanes that it will have to be controlled by aerial police.

Capt. Towers was warm in his praise of the dirigible Akron, which is nearing completion, pointing out that with its cruising radius of 8,000 miles, it could be used ideally for exploration purposes.

"During the year 1930," he said, "the Navy alone flew over 22,000,000 miles for each fatal accident and commercial aviation totaled almost 37,000,000 miles. In the tomorrow of aviation airplanes can and will be flown by children. The very youthful generation of today will accept flying as a means of transportation just as you accept motoring."

Dr. Laurence M. Gould, second in command of the Byrd Antarctic expedition, furnished one of the high points of the congress with his address, "With Byrd to the Bottom of the World," illustrated with films. Mrs. George Barnett, widow of Maj. Gen. George Barnett, as chairman of invitations for the congress, had received so many requests for tickets to this address that the hall was crowded to capacity.

The invocation was offered by Capt. Sydney K. Evans, chief of chaplains, United States Navy.

Dead Members Paid Tribute.

Tributes to 2,648 members of the D. A. R. who died since the thirty-ninth Continental Congress were given at a special memorial service in Constitution Hall yesterday afternoon. The list of dead included the honorary president presiding, Mrs. William D. Cabell, to whom tribute was paid by Mrs. Hobart, president

SNOW, FROST, WIND RANGE OVER NATION

Western States Hard Hit as East Reports Storm and High Winds.

San Francisco, April 23 (A.P.).—Snow, rain, wind, hail, sandstorms, frost, duststorms, lightning, forest and brush fires and sunshine were visited in strange profusion on Western States today.

Strong winds wrecked much of the tent city at the site of the Hoover Dam at Boulder City, Nev., whipped orchards and crops in the Pacific Northwest and Utah, damaged houses and trees in Utah, stranded motorists in Washington and interrupted wire and power service in several sections.

Reno, Nev., reported 11 inches of snow, the heaviest recorded in 50 years in April. More than a foot fell in California mountain districts and parts of Montana, Wyoming, Utah, Arizona and Colorado were covered. Rain fell in many parts of California, aiding crops and adding to irrigation water supplies.

Wind and frost damage was reported in orchard districts of Washington by the State director of agriculture. A sandstorm stranded motorists and otherwise interrupted traffic in central Washington. Several small forest fires were reported in western Washington and Oregon, all being spread by high winds.

Jamestown, N. Y., April 23 (A.P.).—A high wind partially wrecked a school and farmhouse near here late yesterday.

Windows in the school, in the West Oak Hill section, about a mile from this city, were shattered, and Harold Swanson, a pupil, was rendered unconscious when struck by a piece of wood.

Harrisburg, Pa., April 23 (A.P.).—A 7-inch snowfall in the Allegheny Mountanis hampered traffic on the Lincoln and William Penn highways

Bishop Cannon Opposed As College President

Bristol, Va., April 23 (A.P.).—The Herald-Courier says it has learned from a leading layman of the Methodist Episcopal Church South, that a petition urging the College of Bishops of the church, not to elect Bishop James Cannon, jr., its president, is being circulated among laymen.

The paper says it learned from the same source that Bishop Cannon is in line for the presidency of the college. The college will convene in Nashville, May 1.

HONDURAN TROOPS TURN BACK REBELS

(Copyright, 1931, by the Associated Press.)

Tegucigalpa, Honduras, April 23 (A. P.).—Federal troops turned back the rebel forces today in a desperate battle at Chamelecon, driving the enemy out of the area and saving the railhead at San Pedro Sula, not far away.

In the past two days that sector has seen the most vicious fighting since the rebellion began. The rebels attacked once, were repulsed; attacked again and were driven off, then spent all they had in the battle today.

Railway communications between San Pedro Sula and Puerto Cortes were resumed today.

The government is claiming important victories all along the line, but the losses at Chamelecon have not been estimated. Yesterday 29 men were killed and many wounded in a series of minor engagements along the north coast, where the rebels succeeded in paralyzing wire communications with Tegucigalpa.

A strong group of rebels was reported in advices from San Salvador to have been captured and interned by Salvadorean authorities when they attempted to invade Honduras from that point. Under the leadership of Ladislao and Pedro H. Ordonez, they were said to have been planning an attack on the Valle district, near Fonseca Bay.

The rebels defeated at Chamelecon were routed to the mountains and the government said they were now believed to be heading for the interior, possibly for the Indian territory around Intibuca and Quimyagley. Government advices were that they were led by Gen. Ferrera. They were being pursued by a large number of government troops.

According to information from the general staff this morning all rebel groups now have been cleared out of the Cortes area. They were believed to have abandoned the hope of attacking San Pedro Sula.

President Vicente Mejia Colindres, alluding today to the attitude of the two major political parties in Honduras toward the rebellion, made the following statement:

"Liberals of the republic, especially in the zone affected by the rebellion, spontaneously and unconditionally offered their cooperation to the government as soon as the revolt broke out. They offered their blood and their property to help quash the revolution.

"Nationalists also have offered their support and some of their most distinguished persons, such as Gen. Martinez Funes, have volunteered to assist."

Japanese Visitors' Guard Doubled as Plot Is Bared

Hotel Hostess Claims She Overheard Two Men Discuss Plans to Assassinate Prince and Princess Upon Arrival in Boston Last Night.

Boston, April 23 (A.P.).—A hostess at the Copley-Plaza Hotel, who said she heard two men plotting an assassination outside a window at the hotel today, caused the police guard to be doubled around the hostelry at which Prince and Princess Takamatsu of Japan were to stay tonight.

Mrs. Clara Burrell, hostess in the main dining room, told police she heard the men conversing outside an open window. She said she heard the word "assassinate" and it made her curious. Eavesdropping further, she said she heard one of the men ask, "How are we going to get them here? He has two bodyguards," to which she said, the other replied, "We have to do the job today."

Mrs. Burrell informed the manager, who in turn called police. Two squad cars were sent to search the vicinity.

Original plans were to have sixteen patrolmen and two sergeants on duty at the hotel when the royal guests arrived. After the disclosure of Mrs. Burrell, the detachment was doubled as a precautionary measure, and further augmented by plainclothes men and motorcycle officers.

Prince and Princess Takamatsu arrived here from New York at 7 p. m. on their American tour. They planned to remain here until Monday night, when they will leave for Montreal.

CLERGYMEN OPPOSE NEXT WAR SANCTION

Questionnaire Replies Show 10,427 Will Not Bear Arms.

New York, April 23 (A.P.).—More than ten thousand Protestant Christian clergymen in the United States are personally prepared to state it is their present purpose not to sanction any future war or to participate as armed combatants.

The number—totaling 10,427—represents 54 per cent of 19,372 ministers who replied to a questionnaire sent out by ten New York clergymen under the auspices of The World Tomorrow, edited by Kirby Page.

The other 8,945 clergymen were divided in groups of willing to participate, 6,628; in doubt, 2,980; no answer, 254.

Eighty-three per cent of the 19,372 clergymen were opposed to military training in schools; 66 per cent believed the United States should enter the League of Nations; 80 per cent favored a reduction in armaments even if the United States were compelled to take the initiative and make a proportionately greater reduction than other nations are yet willing to do.

Sixty-two per cent believed the policy of armed intervention in other nations for the protection of American citizens and property should be abandoned, and a like number believed the churches now should go on record as refusing to sanction or support any future war.

Thirty-four per cent said they could not conscientiously serve as official Army chaplains on active duty in war time, and 37 per cent did not regard the distinction between "defensive" and "aggressive" war as sufficiently valid to justify participation in a war of "defense."

Mr. Page pointed out that the replies do not reflect the attitude of several important religious bodies, namely, the Jews, Catholics, Lutherans, Southern Baptists and Southern Methodists.

"The total number of clergymen in the country exceeds 100,000," he said, "and it was necessary on the grounds of expense and time involved to limit the inquiry to 53,000.

Of the 53,000 clergymen circularized 33,628 failed to send replies before the closing of the canvass.

The groups represented in answers are Methodist Episcopal, Presbyterian, Congregational, Protestant Episcopal, Baptist, Disciples of Christ, Reformed, United Brethren, Evangelical Synod, Unitaran and Universalist, theological seminaries and miscellaneous clergy.

"It is significant," said Mr. Page, "that 17,700 persons, or 91 per cent, expressed a willingness to have their names and replies made public."

PROSPERITY DECADE IS SEEN BY SCHWAB

New York, April 23 (U.P.).—"The coming ten years are going to see the rehabilitation and improvement of properties. Electrification will receive new impetus. Prices will become better stabilized * * * In short, the American family will continue to enjoy a well-rounded, progressive existence, conducive to business prosperity and progress," Charles M. Schwab told the Nation's publishers tonight at the tenth annual dinner of the Bureau of Advertising.

Announcing himself as a "confirmed optimist," despite the fact that "optimism has come in for disrepute in the past ten years," the steel executive asked only for "common sense principles to guide us in planning for the business of tomorrow."

"After a man has lived through many years of industry," he said, "he accumulates patience and remembers at night that the sun comes up the next morning * * * I am not saying everything is all right. We have many things to correct. That is part of progress. The dangerous feature that I see in our present situation is not the lack of prosperity from which we have suffered in the past year and a half, but in the over-prosperity which preceded it and led to many changes in our ways of doing business."

While Schwab expressed himself as believing in "carefully thought out mergers," he pointed to its hazard, resting in "its tendency to curtail opportunity."

"If industry is led by men of administrative power, vision and intelligence," he continued, "our country will retain its leadership. Don't let any one tell you that America's enormous resources are the sole cause of her strength. There are several countries on the face of the globe which at least rival us in their supplies of coal, metals, oil and other basic products. But the manpower, the energy and the administrative enterprise have been lacking."

Comparing the "romantic figures of the past" with present-day industrial geniuses, Schwab cited the accomplishments of the General Electric Co. "under Young and Swope," and presented the names of "Teagle, Gifford, Farrell, Grace and Rosenwald as standing for industrial achievements more extensive than any witnessed by the preceding generation.

"We need to encourage leadership for tomorrow," Schwab said. "The

Talk With Mrs. Hoover Delights Mountain Girls

Students Recite and Sing for First Lady at White House.

Yesterday turned out to be children's day with Mrs. Herbert Hoover.

Jubilant indeed were Beatrice Stamey, Valley Kelly, Nell Turner, Floride Green and Mayme McEachern, who came from the mountain school sponsored by the Daughters of the Revolution at Tamassee, S. C.

Mrs. Hoover had sent for them because of her interest in mountain schools, and talked to them a full half hour.

"She had me recite for her!" said 11-year-old Nell, the youngest, red-headed, and with a sprinkling of freckles. "I said the piece that started 'The awfullest boy in this here town or anywhere is Elmer Brown.'"

McKee, daughter of former president and Mrs. Benjamin Harrison, and the following notable daughters of the District of Columbia organization: Mrs. Albert Carhart, of the Dolly Madison Chapter; Miss Daisy Brown, of Mary Washington Chapter, and Mrs. Hershel Main, former regent of the District.

Scripture reading and prayer was given by the Chaplain General Mrs. William Rock Painter, of Missouri. A lily was placed within a large wreath on the platform in memory of each person eulogized yesterday. Later a wreath was placed by Mrs. Hobart on the memorial monument to the pioneer women of the D. A. R. in the plaza of Constitution Hall.

Charter members were paid tribute by Miss Janet Richards, the well-known lecturer, herself a charter member who has attended all 40 Continental Congresses.

Soldiers' Graves Are Marked.

Bronze markers were placed on the graves of seven Revolutionary soldiers in Arlington Cemetery yesterday afternoon at a ceremony when Mrs. Hobart made a brief address. Representative Ruth Bryan Owen, of Florida and Representative Edith Nourse Rogers, of Massachusetts, were on the committee of arrangements, with Mrs. Amos A. Fries in charge of the exercises.

It became known yesterday that Representative Hamilton Fish, jr., announced as a speaker for this afternoon had, upon suggestions from D. A. R. officials, deleted from the formal introductions to his remarks certain criticisms bearing upon Secretary Stimson's policy in Nicaragua. It is understood, however, that Representative Fish will speak extemporaneously after the introduction. This is permitted without any attempt by the society to dictate such extemporaneous remarks.

In a formal statement Mrs. William Sherman Walker, chairman of the national defense committee, under whose department such matters come, declared:

"Mr. Hamilton Fish submitted to us the introduction to his address before the Continental Congress, D. A. R. Due to the fact that the reading public has too often interpreted the utterances of our speakers as being the expression or policy of the society, we requested Mr. Fish to allow certain changes to be made. To this request he most graciously consented, with the result that the original introduction was recalled. The Daughters of the American Revolution is on record as heartily approving the splendid work of Mr. Hamilton Fish and his committee in the recent investigation of communistic activities."

It is understood that Representative Fish will give the deleted portions of his speech in a "talkie" he will make Saturday and that similar material will be contained in a speech he is to make in Boston May 1.

Delegates to the congress of the Children of the American Revolution, in concurrent session at the Corcoran Gallery of Art, were guests of Mrs. Hoover at a special reception yesterday at 12:30 o'clock. Each delegate was given a hearty handshake. After they were greeted by Mrs. Hoover, they were called to the President's office, where he welcomed them and posed with them for a picture.

Pay Visit to Byrd's Ship.

During the afternoon the C. A. R. delegates were special guests on Admiral Byrd's ship, the City of New York. This visit was most entertaining, because of their interest in Admiral Byrd, who sent them a message from Little America during their last convention here.

The reading of national committee reports occupied most of yesterday's only business session, held in the morning. A resolution was passed thanking President and Mrs. Hoover for the White House reception Wednesday afternoon.

Among national chairmen who reported were Mrs. J. Warren Perkins, chairman of Ellis Island; Mrs. Charles Brand, chairman, correct use of the flag; Mrs. Charles A. Finley, conservation and thrift; Mrs. Eugene H. Ray, transportation, and Mrs. G. B. Puller, on "Genealogical Research." The only set address of the morning was that of Frederick William Ashley, who spoke on "George Washington in the Library of Congress."

H. J. Anslinger, United States commissioner on narcotics, will address the congress this morning. The rest of the morning will be given over to reports of committees.

Speakers at the afternoon session will include Representative Fish, Mrs. William Sherman Walker, chairman of the committees on national defense, and Dr. Thomas H. Healy, assistant dean of the Foreign Service School of Georgetown University. Senator George H. Moses, of New Hampshire; Miss Mabel T. Boardman, secretary of the American Red Cross, and Maj. Gen. William G. Everson, chief of the Militia Bureau, United States Army, will be among the speakers at the night session.

Children Hear Representative Owen.

Representative Ruth Bryan Owen was the principal speaker at the session yesterday of the convention of the Children of the American Revolution, who are holding their thirty-fifth annual convention at the Corcoran Art Gallery.

She made a particular appeal to the children as she told of her early childhood on the plains of Nebraska, of her life as an English woman when she was in the Holy Land through the World War and witnessed its seige and deliverance. She told of her own effort to make the children of Florida appreciate their own wonderful Government by bringing a large group each year to Washington so they may get a close-up of the machinery of government.

Resolutions against subversive propaganda and against the dumping of Russian goods were passed.

German-Austrian Union Is Assailed

Prague, Czechoslovakia, April 23 (A.P.).—A customs union between Germany and Austria, Foreign Minister Benes said in a speech here today, is a step not toward European federation, but toward the creation of opposing blocks of states waging economic and, later, political warfare.

The proposed Austro-German accord, he told the foreign affairs committee of the Czechoslovakian Parliament, is not calculated to improve the economic situation of Europe as a whole or of any state which adheres to it.

Czechoslovakia, he said, is antagonistic and will insist that the proposal be examined in all its phases, juridical, economic and political, by the League of Nations and, if necessary, by The Hague Tribunal. Further than that, Dr. Benes criticized the manner in which the proposal was announced and voiced a suspicion that the real objective of the union was of a political nature.

SHOUSE ANSWERS FESS' LIE CHARGE

Democrat Says Republican Admits Falsifying to Newspapermen.

At this point, Mr. Shouse went to the Congressional Record of February 9, 1928, a time when everybody was trying to figure out what Calvin Coolidge meant when he said he did not "choose to run."

"The good doctor," said Mr. Shouse, referring to Senator Fess, "was relating an incident that had transpired between himself and President Coolidge at the White House, and an interview he had given concerning the then President's intention of being a candidate for renomination and reelection.

Fess Language Quoted.

"I quote the exact language of Dr. Fess:

"'When I got out to the newspaper boys I said to the boys, "Make it perfectly clear that when I am talking about the President being drafted next year I am talking on my own responsibility—I am not talking with his approval." Then I added what was not true, but I wanted to get it across: "I find the President seems to be greatly displeased with what I have said." * * *.'"

Mr. Shouse said that he himself was not in the habit of voicing falsehoods to the "newspaper boys."

"The statement of the San Francisco Chronicle as quoted by Dr. Fess," he said, "was wholly untrue. The statement I made I have related, and after telling of the widespread circulation by the Republican national committee of the pamphlet containing the excerpts from the September issue of Scribner's Magazine, I asked the question whether the Republican national committee would have followed this course if John J. Raskob had been a member of some other church, rather than a prominent lay Catholic.

Shouse Explains Speeches.

"For the information of Dr. Fess, I have alleged in speeches that throughout the campaign last fall a studied effort was made to emphasize John J. Raskob as an issue because of his membership in the Catholic Church. Republican candidates for the Senate and House, Republican spellbinders everywhere, with a unanimity that reflected definite concert of action, devoted large parts of their frequent speeches to homilies on Raskob."

Mr. Shouse then cited the Senate hearing in which it was brought out that Robert H. Lucas, executive director of the Republican national committee, had financed the circulation of reading matter and cartoons from "the Fellowship Forum, Ku Klux publication," in a number of States having senatorial contests.

Until Senator Fess loosed his blast at Mr. Shouse there had been the semblance of a lull in the statement-making battle between the Republican and Democratic committees. Now that it is on again, the Democratic committee—at least, from the standpoint of words—has the edge. In denying Senator Fess' statement Mr. Shouse issued two statements, and the second one was twice as long as the one issued by Senator Fess.

Mann Plans Opposition.

(Associated Press.)

Horace Mann, President Hoover's Southern campaign director in 1928, said yesterday he would continue the formation of his Southern Republican organization during the coming summer from Linville, N. C.

Mr. Mann said he would go there about June 15 and would keep in close touch with Southern Republican leaders.

Mr. Mann plans to open national headquarters in Washington next winter to organize the forces for the approaching convention and campaign. The purpose of the organization will be to send delegates to the convention opposed to the renomination of President Hoover.

The Mann organization in the South, according to its leader, is being built on the basis of the 1928 Republican set-up, and Mann's associates hope to unite this Southern group with anti-Hoover delegations from Northern States.

Despite Mr. Mann's claims, however, Postmaster General Brown and other Republican leaders have predicted President Hoover's renomination with the full approval of Southern delegations.

PLOT AGAINST LIFE OF PRINCE BALKED

peror's brother, Prince Takamatsu, and Princess Takamatsu.

The emperor, in a message to the President, thanked him for the hospitality extended the prince.

"I wish to express to you my cordial thanks and deep appreciation of the generous and courteous hospitality extended to my brother, Prince Takamatsu, and his princess consort by yourself and your Government and people," the emperor's message said.

In his reply President Hoover said:

"I thank your majesty for your telegram and assure you that it has been a sincere pleasure to have as our guests your distinguished brother and his princess consort. The cordial friendship evinced by our imperial guests has completely won our hearts, and their visit will remain a most pleasant memory."

Simultaneously announcement was made of arrangements for an exchange of programs between the United States and Japan over the National Broadcasting System April 29, at 8:15 a. m., in celebration of the thirtieth birthday anniversary of the emperor.

Speaking from Washington, Secretary Stimson will broadcast, his address to be transmitted throughout the United States and to Japan for broadcasting in that country. Baron Shidehara, Japanese foreign minister, will reply to the Secretary in an address broadcast from Japan.

The program will include the playing in Washington of the Japanese national anthem and the conclusion of the program by a band of native Japanese instruments playing "The Star-Spangled Banner."

Girl Routs, Seizes Young Bandit Trio

Kansas City, April 23 (A.P.).—Miss Gertrude Harper, 20-year-old waitress out of work, fought with such fury to defend her last $6.35 that three young holdup men fled in disorder, only to be captured later by the irate young woman.

Accosted by the trio, the girl rapped them sharply over their heads with her pocketbook, which one of them finally snatched and ran, with Miss Harper in hot pursuit. Pausing to recruit police assistance, the waitress resumed search for her assailants.

Suddenly the girl leaped from the police car and rained blows upon two youths sauntering along the street. Police rescued them. They gave their names as Billy Wright, 17, and Louis Fink, 21. Lester Norris, 22, was arrested nearby. Miss Harper's $6.35 and her pocketbook and cigarette lighter were recovered.

RULING IS DELAYED ON RUSSIAN LUMBER

Treasury Awaits Report on Convict Labor Use in Its Production.

(Associated Press.)

A decision on whether a shipment of Russian lumber will be admitted to the United States was held in abeyance last night pending receipt of a report from the collector of customs at Providence, R. I., where the cargo was landed yesterday.

Treasury officials, however, expressed the opinion the lumber was not from sections of Russia in which convict labor is used in the forests and which would be barred from entry under the tariff law and Treasury regulations.

It had been announced in Russia that the cargo was being sent to test the law barring goods produced by convict labor, but the Treasury had information that the lumber was from southern sections of Russia where there had been no suspicion that such labor was used in lumber camps.

Treasury regulations promulgated two months ago barred all lumber produced in Russia north of latitude 60 unless it could be shown by the importer or shipper that convicts were not used in its production.

If the ship's papers show the lumber is from southern Russia and importers can produce evidence to that effect, officials said there would be no question as to its being admitted.

They added each shipment of Russian lumber must stand on its own merits. Officials expressed the belief the importers would not have permitted the lumber to be shipped had it contained any convict produced timber.

Customs Collector Sansouci, at Providence will determine whether the lumber should be barred and will notify customs headquarters here.

University Fight Won by Commons

Government Will Accept Recent Decision of House on Clause.

London, April 23 (A.P.).—A government surrender to the will of the Commons was announced tonight by Sir Stafford Cripps, solicitor general, who said the government would accept the recent decision of the House regarding the university representation clause in the electoral reform bill.

The reference was to the government defeat on March 16 by four votes when it sought to abolish the present system under which the universities send twelve members to Parliament.

There had been much speculation as to whether the government would risk another defeat on this question. It was felt that two rebuffs of the same question might well constitute matter for resignation. The government now is permitting the university members to rest undisturbed and attempting to obtain the passage of other clauses of the bill.

$100,000 DEMANDED OF KELLEY, REPORT

Kidnaped Doctor's Friend Denies Ransom Letter Has Been Received.

St. Louis, Mo., April 23 (A.P.).—The Globe-Democrat says indications tonight were that Dr. Isaac D. Kelley, jr., reported kidnapped Monday night, has established his first contact with his wife and friends through the medium of a letter, presumably written from Chicago, in which he set forth he was being held for a ransom of not less than $100,000.

The newspaper says a letter written in pencil and longhand, was delivered by a special delivery messenger at the Kelley home late today, and upon its receipt several attorneys who have been acting as Mrs. Kelley's advisors immediately went into a conference, the nature of which they declined to discuss.

The letter, the Globe-Democrat says, is understood to narrate that his captors believe him and his family to be extremely wealthy and they will not be content with a ransom of less than $100,000.

Carroll Harlan, attorney and friend of the Kelley family, denied emphatically, however, that a ransom letter had been received.

Cardinals Unveil Bust of Pope Pius

Rome, April 23 (A.P.).—Two thousand persons, including Cardinal Mundelein, of Chicago, and seven other cardinals, today witnessed the unveiling of a bronze bust of Pope Pius XI in the new College of the Propagation of Faith, the construction of which was financed by the Chicago Archdiocese. The institution will be opened tomorrow.

Among the speakers were Archbishop Salotti, secretary of the Congregation for Propagation of Faith, and Mgr. Dini, rector of the college. Both said the college owed its existence to the spiritual impulse of the Pope and to Cardinal Mundelein's economic impulse.

More than 100 American students attended the ceremony. The college will be the headquarters for education of missionaries of the church.

Acker Claims Libel Against Liebmann

Administrator of Lacey Estate Faces Suit in Rockville.

Suit for $100,000 alleging malicious libel was filed yesterday in Rockville Circuit Court by Samuel N. Acker, of the patent law firm of Lacey & Lacey, of Washington, naming August George Liebmann, administrator of the estate of Anderson B. Lacey.

A suit for injunction in which Mr. Acker asks that Mr. Liebmann be enjoined from interfering with conduct of the business of the patent law firm is pending in court and is set for hearing April 30. This suit also names Mrs. Liebmann, who is the widow of Mr. Lacey.

Yesterday's suit alleges that Mr. Liebmann filed a letter which was calculated to injure the good name and reputation in private as well as business life of Mr. Acker with the judges of the Orphans Court at Rockville. The suit was filed by Attorneys Albert M. Bouic, William E. Leahy, William J. Hughes, jr., and Eugere B. Sullivan.

Stmison Is Sought As July 4 Speaker

Secretary and C. G. Bowers Are Invited to Exercises Honoring Monroe.

University, Va., April 23 (A.P.).—Secretary of State Stimson and Claude G. Bowers, political historian, have been invited to speak at exercises in memory of James Monroe at the University of Virginia July 4, the one-hundredth anniversary of Monroe's death.

President Hoover was invited to speak at the exercises, but he has notified Dr. Charles G. Maphis, chairman, that he will be unable to attend.

Tentative plans provide for a luncheon to follow the morning exercises and for a pilgrimage to Ash Lawn, the home of Monroe during the years he was President and at work on the Monroe Doctrine. Monticello, the home of Jefferson, also will be visited during the afternoon.

AUTO LIABILITY LAW SOON GOES IN FORCE

Maryland Limits Provisions to Violators of Traffic Regulations.

Baltimore, April 23 (A.P.).—A modification of the Massachusetts motorists' compulsory liability law will go into effect in Maryland shortly.

The new law, enacted by the 1931 session of the legislature which has just closed, requires proof of financial responsibility to be provided by motorists involved in automobile law violations.

Specifically, the new law provides that the courts shall immediately report to the commissioner of motor vehicles all cases in which an automobile driver is found guilty of drunken driving, hit-and-run driving or any violation of the traffic laws resulting in death, and all cases in which a judgment for damages arising from an automobile accident has remained unsatisfied for thirty days.

License Shall Be Suspended.

The commissioner, on receipt of such notification, shall at once suspend the license of the driver involved and the registration of the vehicle until proof of financial responsibility in the sum of $11,000, either by bond or liability insurance, shall have been posted.

Under the new law, the State insurance commissioner shall pass upon all forms for the required liability insurance and only those approved by him shall be accepted by the commissioner of motor vehicles.

Unlike universal compulsory automobile liability insurance, the Maryland law will apply only to persons who have been involved in criminal prosecutions under traffic laws and those against whom judgments for personal injuries or death and property damage in excess of $50 are outstanding.

Definition Covers All Motors.

Provision was made in the act for the commissioner of motor vehicles to be empowered to prevent the transfer of a motor vehicle from any person coming within the scope of the new law when it appears to the commissioner that the transfer is intended to evade the requirements of the insurance law.

One important provision of the new law would permit the commissioner to lift the insurance or bond after three years, if within that time the operator had not been involved in the criminal prosecutions named and did not have any judgment for automobile accident damages outstanding.

MONTGOMERY TAX SALES TOTAL LESS

Montgomery County Bureau of The Post, 9103 Conn. Ave., North Chevy Chase, Md. Telephone Wisconsin 4205.

Montgomery County's tax sales this year were less than the property bought in by the county commissioners last year, J. Forest Walker, county treasurer, announced yesterday. A complete check of the property sold for taxes shows that there were 350 pieces sold at a total of $84,158.91. The county commissioners purchased a total of approximately $99,000 last year.

The commissioners this year purchased a total of $72,823.77 and individual purchasers bought property amounting to $11,335.14.

Mr. Walker expressed great satisfaction at the small amount of property sold for taxes in spite of the depression which has held the country in the last year.

Ward H. Marsh, executive director of the Greater National Capital committee, will be guest speaker at a meeting of a committee representing the six chambers of commerce and other business and civic organizations of Montgomery County tonight at 8 o'clock in the Bethesda County Building.

Mr. Marsh will talk on organization of a campaign of publicity and advertising such as the committee plans. He is well versed in the advertising of counties and cities.

Walter Funderburk, chairman of the committee, will preside and introduce the speaker. It is probable that the committee will accept the name of Greater Montgomery County committee at its meeting tonight.

Rockville's annual clean-up week will be held April 27 to May 2, according to an announcement yesterday by the sanitation committee of the Rockville Chamber of Commerce. The committee incudes Mayor J. Roger Spates, George H. Lamar, Leland Fisher and the Rev. B. M. Osgood.

The committee asks the cooperation of all citizens and businessmen in the campaign for a clean county seat. The pretentious new courthouse under construction in the town is pointed out as a standard of civic pride for the remainder of the town.

Removal of rubbish from streets, back yards and rear of stores and the clearing of vacant lots will have a practical, economical value, as well as esthetic, it is pointed out, as this will tend to reduce fire hazard and maintain more sanitary conditions. Enlistment of boys and girls of the town is planned.

Honorable mention will be given all places of business along principal streets, which will show worthy efforts to observe Rockville's spring cleaning time.

Annual meeting of the Community Council of Sandy Spring Neighborhood will be at 7:30 o'clock tonight in the community house, Sandy Spring Lyceum. Delegates from various constituent bodies will select members to serve on the council for the next three years and will consider amendments to the constitution and other important business.

Pleas, Sentences Planned for Today

Justice Gordon Moves Up Arraignments From Usual Saturday.

Justice Peyton Gordon yesterday altered the usual procedure of his court when he directed that all arraignments on recent indictments and all persons subject to sentencing be brought before him this afternoon at 1:30 o'clock.

The usual rule is for the arraignment and sentencing to take place on Saturday morning. His honor has been kept busy on Saturdays with the routine program, and he will now have his time free for other work.

Among those scheduled to appear for arraignment are Garry and Charles Owens, who are indicted for first degree murder; Arthur A. Fisher and Philip K. Stumm, who were indicted for conspiracy to commit robbery, and Charles A. Baker, who was indicted for the slaying of his wife. The arraignments are purely a formality and their execution requires only a few minutes.

Marriages Illegal, Woman Maintains

Annulment Suit Answer Says First Husband Was Not Divorced.

The noval claim that she did not have to be divorced, as regards her first marriage, because it was illegal, was set up yesterday by Mrs. Dorothy May Avaunt, youthful bride of Thomas L. Avaunt, in answer to an annulment suit recently filed by her second husband.

Mrs. Avaunt claims that her first wedding was illegal and therefore was no marriage. She married Mr. Avaunt, 50 years old, on January 8. In her reply Mrs. Avaunt appended a German marriage license showing that her first husband, Edward A. Neils, had married in Germany December 11, 1920. She asserts that because he was not divorced from his wife when she married him their marriage was not legal.

An automobile given the bride by Avaunt is being contested. He wishes its return on the grounds that he gave it as a wedding present and Mrs. Avaunt asserts that his move to regain it should be through the law courts and not in a suit for annulment.

District May Study Coal Dealers' Ads

Consumers Charge Prices Are Misrepresented in Advertising.

The District investigation into coal selling took a new turn yesterday, it was learned, when authorities considered the possibility of additional prosecutions for fraudulent advertising in violation of the District law.

Numerous complaints have been made to George M. Roberts, superintendent of weights, measures and markets, by consumers who were informed by circulars, letters and advertising that the price of coal had been reduced, but who later found that the price on the 2,000-pound unit was proportionally higher than that on the long ton.

Conviction under the fraudulent advertising act carries a penalty of not more than $500 or not more than 60 days' imprisonment or both.

Boy Patrol Causes Arrest of Autoist

The observing eye of a schoolboy traffic patrolman led to the arrest of an autoist yesterday in connection with the injury of another youthful patrolman near Sumner School, Seventeenth and M streets northwest. Benjamin Brent, 15, colored, is the boy who was slightly hurt when struck by the machine.

John J. Millsback, Twelfth street near M northwest, was charged with failure to give a pedestrian the right of way after he was traced by license numerals furnished by Benjamin's unidentified colleague, according to police. Young Brent returned to his classes after receiving first aid.

D.A.R. Gives Food To 300-Year Tree

For the first time in its lifetime of more than 300 years the famous Washington tulip tree at Falls Church, Va., received a meal of concentrated tree food yesterday afternoon.

The first helping was given to it by Mrs. Lowell Fletcher Hobart, president general of the National Society of the Daughters of American Revolution. The meal was prepared by former Representative Martin L. Davey.

Practically all members of the Falls Church Chapter, D. A. R., were present at the church to welcome their natioanl officers upon their arrival. The Washington tulip is the second tree the D. A. Milligan disappeared. He was arrested a few days ago in Alexandria. Questioned by Detective Sergts. J. Robey and Joseph Sincavitz, he is said to have admitted selling the truck.

HOOVER WILL ASSIST IN ROAD DEDICATION

Ground for Lee Highway Will Be Broken May 1 at Fort Buffalo.

Fort Buffalo, Va., April 23 (A.P.).—With the Virginia Department of Highways making preparations for President Hoover to break ground on the boulevard that will bring Lee highway into the Nation's Capital across the Arlington Memorial Bridge, plans are now nearing completion for a ground-breaking ceremony comparable to the dedication of the zero mile stone. The ceremony will be held May 1.

The celebration to be held here will mark the beginning of a program of highway construction and beautification costing in the next eighteen months more than $1,000,000.

Arrangements for the celebration are being made by the National Boulevard Association, of which Dr. S. M. Johnson, of Washington, is president. He is being assisted by the Chambers of Commerce of Washington and Fairfax County. Besides President Hoover and Gov. Pollard, other high officials of the Federal and State governments will be present.

The boulevard, planned to be the most beautiful highway in the world, will serve as the southern approach to the Arlington Memorial Bridge, first sponsored by President Jackson. This structure, now nearing completion, will cost approximately $15,000,000. The bridge and esplanade connect the Lincoln Memorial Temple in Washington with the Lee Mansion in Arlington.

The Southern approach will connect the arterial highway system of Virginia and the South, and also the Shenandoah National Park with the Memorial Bridge and the Capital.

Lee boulevard, by which the approach will be known, will have a 60-foot center speedway without grade crossings, flanked on either side by 30-foot strips for flowers, shrubs and trees. The parkway strips in turn will be flanked by 30-foot pavements for trucks and local use, and these by 10-foot strips for lawn, trees and sidewalks.

There will be no billboards, telephone or other poles or wires. Everything in the landscape will be in keeping with the character of the boulevard as the extension of the Mall to the Valley of Virginia.

Alleged Rum-Plot Evidence Closed

U. S. Completes Testimony Against Fourteen Accused of Conspiracy.

United States Attorneys James Kirkland and John J. Wilson late yesterday concluded the presentation of the Government's evidence in the trial of fourteen defendants on a charge of conspiring to violate the national prohibition act.

The case began Wednesday of last week, taking eight full days for the presentation of witnesses in support of the conspiracy charge. Approximately 35 witnesses took the stand for the Government. Two of these were Jerry Charteres and James P. Clarke, who were originally indicted and who entered pleas of guilty.

Defense counsel indicated after the day's session that today would be almost entirely taken up with special motions, such as requests for directed verdict for all, or certain of the thirteen men and one woman. Attacks are expected on portions of the Government's case while special rulings by Justice Oscar Luhring will be used as the basis for other attacks.

ERUDITE DIPLOMATS TO REPRESENT SPAIN

(United Press.)

A literary diplomat corps of unusual distinction is reported in process of formation by the new Republic of Spain, corresponding to what the United States would have if President Hoover should appoint H. L. Mencken, Ernest Hemingway and Carl Sandburg as ambassadors to leading nations.

State Department officials have greeted with enthusiasm word from Madrid that Salvador de Madariaga, erudite and witty author, publicist and critic of United States policy, has ben tentatively selected as Ambassador to Washington.

Another brilliant Spanish author, Ramon Perez de Ayala, has been sent as envoy to London. He has had no experience as a diplomat, whereas Madariaga has had only brief experience serving for a time with the League of Nations secretariat.

Other leaders of the new literature of Spain have been mentioned for other high posts. One of them, Americo Castro, who was a leader in last week's revolution, combines the sartorial splendor of a Beau Brummell and the reputation of being Spain's foremost philologist. He has been mentioned for the Havana post.

Gregario Maranon, one of the nation's leading physicians and an expert on sex questions, corresponding to Dr. Freud in Austria, has been mentioned for ambassador to Paris.

Nearly all of them have lectured in universities of the new world, as well as the old, and these and others mentioned are of the type whose writings are quoted and praised by university students, according to students of Spanish culture.

Madariaga's criticisms of the United States, which have been particularly vehement in conection with our Spanish and Latin-American attitudes, will be ignored by this Government, it was indicated. The friendly relations which have obtained between the two countries for the last three decades would not be impaired in the least by his private ideas, it is believed here.

Texas Girl Slain; Mexican Hunted

Body, Mutilated by Knife Wounds, Is Found in Gulley Near Home.

San Antonio, Tex., April 23 (A.P.).—The slaying of Merle Springer, 11-year-old school girl, aroused the community of Leming, Tex., today. The girl's body, mutilated by a score of knife wounds, was found in a gulley near her home last night after her stepfather, Elmer Dickey, became alarmed at her failure to return from school.

Police and sheriff's officers identified bloody overalls discarded nearby as the property of a Mexican and announced he was the object of their search.

Investigators expressed the belief the child had resisted an attempt to attack her on the secluded path to the Dickey home and that the assailant had slain her to silence her screams.

and the present republic in Spain, issued a manifesto tonight asking the Spanish people not to forget "I am always ready to help Spain avoid anarchy."

He asked the Spanish people to declare in the coming elections whether they were republican or monarchist and invited them to favor the latter, which he said would have no relations with the former regime, but would be "renewed, progressive and decentralized."

"My desire is to have the king head the federations," he said, "a king above parties. A great part of the Spanish people favor the monarchy, even the republicans admit. It is unjust to suppress the monarchy because the king didn't know how to make the people love him."

Son of Pretender Carlos.

Don Jaime is the son of Don Carlos of Bourbon, pretender to the throne of Spain. Several years after the dethronement of Queen Isabella II in 1868 Don Carlos asserted his pretensions by force of arms, but was defeated by King Amadeus and became A Yugitive. During the time of the first republic he again tried to ascend the throne, but was again driven out of Spain, becoming a wanderer in Europe. In the meantime his cousin, Alfonso XII, was crowned and was succeeded upon his death by Alfonso XIII.

London, April 23 (A.P.).—Alfonso de Bourbon mourned the death of his aged Aunt Isabella in Paris within the privacy of his hotel suite tonight, admitting only his closest followers. On other evenings since he arrived here on a business trip, he has made little sorties into the city to visit old friends.

Informed of the death within a few minutes of its occurrence, he declined to issue a statement. It was considered certain, however, he would go to Paris for the funeral and it was thought likely he would leave tomorrow.

Heart Still in Spain.

Since the Spanish Embassy is occupied only by an English caretaker in the interim between ambassadors, no official notice of Isabella's passing was taken there.

Alfonso revealed something of his emotions to a personal friend today. Though he has left Spain in body, he said, his heart still remained there.

"The only thing I am concerned with is the prosperity of Spain," he said. "The only thing in my mind is Spain, Spain, Spain."

Sister of Longworth Arrives in Cincinnati

Cincinnati, April 23 (A.P.).—Countess Adelbert de Chambrun, sister of the late Speaker Nicholas Longworth, arrived today at her girlhood home, after a trip from Tunis, Africa. The countess was met at a railway station by the Speaker's widow, Mrs. Alice Roosevelt Longworth, and daughter, Paulina, and her brother-in-law, Buckner A. Wallingford. Her sister, Mrs. Anna Wallingford, met her in New York.

Mrs. Longworth took the countess to Rookwood, where she lived as a girl and which residence was always maintained by the late Speaker.

WIDOW OF PERSIAN CONSUL SUES U. S.

Mrs. Katherine Imbrie Claims Part of Congressional Award Withheld.

A suit to compel J. Raymond McCarl, Comptroller General of the United States, to pay a balance of $1,325.86 due from a congressional award of $30,000, was filed yesterday by Mrs. Katherine Imbrie, of 1016 Sixteenth street northwest, whose husband, vice consul at Teheran, Persia, was slain by a Persian mob, in July, 1924.

Mrs. Imbrie, through attorneys Sherley, Faust & Wilson, charged that Mr. McCarl was withholding from her money that had been officially given her by congressional action. She said the refusal to pay her the full amount of $30,000 was based upon a claim that her husband, Robert W. Imbrie, was indebted to the United States in the amount withheld from her award.

Mrs. Imbrie sets up the claim that even if her husband did owe the Government that amount, she could not be held liable, and the Comptroller could not hold back money ordered paid her by Congress.

Mr. Imbrie was set upon and severely beaten by a Persian mob, and while in a hospital, he was further beaten by a mob that overpowered his guards. Mrs. Imbrie was herself beaten and it was for injuries she sustained that she was given $30,000 by Congress. Persia later tendered the United States $170,000 indemnity for the death of the vice consul. Justice Jennings Bailey cited Mr. McCarl to show cause May 11 why he should not pay Mrs. Imbrie the sum she claims.

10 YEARS' PROGRESS IS SEEN BY SCHWAB

men of the future will need to be bigger men than those that you or I have known. The vast discoveries of science have placed a burden as well as an opportunity upon the shoulder of the future.

"Speaking in terms of the material progress of the people, the past decade has been the happiest in our industrial history * * * We have learned the lesson that purchasing power must be maintained if there are to be markets for our goods. Industry has come to have a new responsibility toward employment."

Schwab recited the endeavors of leading industrialists to maintain working forces even during the depression, saying that "the results of these new policies in the mitigation of distress, and the provision of at least a minimum purchasing power in the industrial population have been one of the favorable factors of progress in the present situation."

"Today," he continued, "I would say that we are on the threshold of many developments. The fact is that business, along with every other institution, is continuously being reborn. I am looking forward to a greater America and a greater world."

The publishers in today's business sessions, passed a resolution against the free printing of radio programs, on the grounds that "with few exceptions" those programs "relate solely to advertising in one form or another and should be handled as paid advertising."

W. E. MacFarlan, of the Chicago Tribune, presided at tonight's banquet and introduced Amon G. Carter, of the Fort Worth Star-Telegram, as toastmaster.

Luncheon Man Robbed While Changing $20 Bill

Jack Haje, proprietor of a lunchroom at 1211 Seventh street northwest, was robbed of $12 yesterday by six colored men, who snatched the bills from his hand while he was changing a $20 bill.

LA FOLLETTE CITES PLAN TO AID TRADE

Senator Deplores Mergers and Wage Cuts; Speaker for Progressives.

Boston, April 23 (A.P.).—A seven-point legislative program designed to ease the Nation's economic strain was advanced tonight by Senator La Follette on behalf of the Progressive groups in Congress.

The Wisconsin Republican, who heads the committee on unemployment of the Washington Conference of Progressives of both parties, deplored mergers and wage reduction in a speech before the Ford Hall Forum and added:

"To avoid the evils of unjust distribution of wealth and anarchic control of industry, the Progressives are contending for Federal aid to meet the emergency of unemployment relief, a shorter work day and shorter work week, maintenance of wage levels, stabilization of industry, unemployment insurance, rehabilitation of agriculture, and exercise of the power of taxation through the graduated income and inheritance tax laws to meet the increasing burdens and responsibilities of government."

Reduction of Unemployment.

This program, Mr. La Follette said, whose group will hold the balance of power in both houses in the next Congress, would result in a maximum reduction of unemployment, maintenance of purchasing power of the masses and a constantly rising standard of living.

Although they mean permanent unemployment and lowered purchasing power, he said, mergers and wage cuts had been proposed by many industrialists as the only way out of present-day conditions.

"It is a bald proposal," he added, "to make the wage earner pay the cost of deflation. It means a debased standard of living and degradation of citizenship."

Again assailing President Hoover's speech congratulating the Red Cross for relying exclusively on voluntary private aid in its drought relief operations, Mr. La Follette said Labor Department data showed "while the spirit of those able to give charity was being well nourished, the meager physical nourishment of those out of work was being obtained primarily out of the Government funds."

Philosophy Brought Disaster.

"The Federal Government and the Federal income tax payers escaped, it is true," he said, "but as a result a staggering burden has been thrown upon municipal, county and State governments, which are forced in all too many cases to obtain a heavy share of their income from taxes on real estate."

It was the duty as well as the opportunity of Progressives to formulate a constructive program to be advanced at the December session, he continued, adding:

"The philosophy of laissez faire applied during the last ten years has brought disaster. It is obvious that we can not manage our highly developed and intricate machinery upon the basis of ideas or organization and control developed in a predominantly agricultural and individualistic society of 150 years ago. These ideas have in fact been abandoned by some of our more advanced industrial and financial leaders, as well as by our economists."

Wife's Divorce Action Calls Mate Indiscreet

Mrs. Bertie P. Jones, of Tenth street near C street northeast, yesterday filed suit for divorce from her husband, William R. Jones, charging that he had been guilty of indiscretions.

The wife, through Attorney Raymond Neudecker, claims that her husband, as a tariff reporter, has an income of about $500 a month. They were married March 8, 1915, and have one daughter, whose custody has been given to the wife by a court order in April, 1926.

Frank Arson Case Hearing Delayed

Authorities Investigate Fire Which Caused Damage of $25,000.

At request of Assistant United States Attorney Michael Keogh, Edward Frank, 39 years old, will be arraigned in Police Court next Tuesday on a charge of arson. He was brought into court yesterday, but because of investigations now under way by the Government the case was continued.

Frank's bond of $1,000 on the arson charge was renewed. He is also under $500 bond on a loan case in which he is said to have given a detective $2 on a watch.

Frank was arrested after a fire had partially destroyed a building at 430 Ninth street northwest, where he conducted a dry goods and novelty store. The fire caused damage of $25,000. The Dixie Shoe Shop and Friedlander Bros. clothing store, both adjacent to Frank's store, were damaged in the blaze. It was an early morning fire that resulted in four alarms being turned in.

BROADMOOR LOAN IS SHOWN AS UNPAID

Sullivan charged that neither the Shoreham Building nor the Broadmoor apartments were included in the auditors' report as properties on which the deeds of trust had been released. He charged that entries were made purporting to credit to noteholders properties involved in loan transactions that had never been completed.

Rheem accounted for this through the auditors' interpretation of a second trust taken on the Hurley-Wright Building. He said it was first decided to borrow the money from the New York Life Insurance Co., all of the papers were made out; but, due to a better offer, the trust was taken by the Metropolitan Life Insurance Co. instead.

Cross-examining Rheem on his Westchester testimony, Attorney Marcus Borchardt brought out that the bankrupt had only a bank balance of $1,037,000 on November 24, 1930, after checks for $822,947 and $302,000 had been received for release of the Westchester property. The amount of the trust was $1,350,000.

Agreed to Lend Money.

Borchardt asked Rheem if it was true that the Westchester Development Corporation, which was loaned the money by the bankrupt, was a "straw corporation." Rheem answered in the negative.

Earlier Rheem had testified that although $200,000 of the Westchester notes remained unsold, the entire amount of the trust was advanced to the Westchester Development Corporation. He told Sullivan he had agreed to loan the corporation $3,000,000 without interest.

The witness was briefly questioned by Attorney Robert S. Hume, who sought to find out who employed the Columbia Title Co. to handle the Westchester titles. Rheem said his company paid them, but he did not know by whom they were engaged.

STEEL STRUCTURE COLLAPSE QUIZZED

District Officials Start Inquiry Into Framework Fall at High School.

Two investigations were started yesterday by District authorities into the cause of the collapse of the major portion of the steel structure of the Roosevelt High School, but neither had been completed last night. The steel framework was swept into a tangled mass Wednesday night by a gale of 39 miles an hour.

S. B. Walsh, assistant municipal architect, declined to comment on the accident until his inspectors had reported, and the two inspectors from the building inspector's office will not make public their findings until today.

An opinion that inadequate guying of the steel frame was responsible for the collapse was expressed by Maj. H. L. Robb, Assistant Engineer Commissioner, who said that a careful check was being made of the design at the municipal architect's office as well.

Maj. Robb estimated that the damage would not exceed $10,000, while John A. McDonald, president of the National Construction Co., Inc., which holds the contract for construction, said that it might not run higher than $3,000 or $4,000. The latter said the loss would have to be sustained by the Lehigh Structural Steel Co., of Allentown, Pa., which held the steel contract.

Municipal Architect A. L. Harris expressed the belief that the accident was just "an act of God" and was in no way due to faulty material or design.

While it was said that practically all the girders would have to be condemned, Mr. McDonald said that not more than two days would be lost because of the collapse.

was sweet," said Beatrice, 17, the eldest.

"She told us how she and the President found a place where there wasn't any school and had one built close to their camp in the Blue Ridge Mountains," another said.

"And she said a girl from the Blue Ridge Mountains wrote to her that she wanted to go to the city, but Mrs. Hoover said that girl didn't realize how beautiful the mountains were.

"And she said she was glad we appreciated our mountains and liked to live there. She asked us what studies we liked best, too, and she told us she liked math, French, history and government best when she was in school."

It is the mark of a considerate hostess, by means of the Humidor Pack, to "Serve a fresh cigarette." Buy Camels by the carton—this cigarette will remain fresh in your home and office.

Every CAMEL Package Now a Tiny Humidor

Switch over for just one day then quit Camels, if you can

All regular Camel smokers have noticed a significant change in the Camel package. Now their favorite cigarettes come air-sealed in moisture-proof Cellophane.

An improvement in appearance, true, but the reason for this change that cost $2,000,000 was not mere looks.

It was done to protect the fine mild quality of Camels until they reach the smoker.

The best tobacco loses much of its rich flavor and aroma when its natural moisture content is lost through scorching or evaporation.

That's why we have made every Camel package a tiny humidor—so that you may always be sure of getting Camels in fresh mild condition.

Factory-fresh Camels are air-sealed in the new Sanitary Package which keeps the dust and germs out and keeps the flavor in.

It is peppery dust and harsh dry tobacco that are unkind to a smoker's throat.

We vacuum-clean away the dust and keep the natural moisture in by the exclusive Humidor Pack.

Make the switch to Camels for just one day, then leave them—if you can.

NOT A DUMPING GROUND.

The Daughters of the American Revolution may be expected to do a good job in arousing public sentiment against Soviet Russia's dumping program. The influence of the organization has already been felt in the public discussion of this question. Unfortunately the proposed "home boycott" against the products of Soviet conscript labor can not be very effective because most of the products which the Soviet sells in America are raw materials which do not reach the consumer in their original form.

Matches and lumber have already been embargoed by the Government. It is within the power of the Government to shut out manganese, oil, grains and all other products, but since these articles do not go directly into the home it is extremely difficult to develop a popular boycott against them. The duty of protecting the United States against the dumping of slave-made goods rests squarely upon Congress.

Unless steps toward this end are taken it will be only a matter of time until the United States will find itself in a position similar to that of Great Britain. The Moscovites baited the Labor government with generous orders for British goods. Britain's bewildered industrialists urged the recognition of the Soviet dictatorship in the interest of promoting trade. For a short time that trade was profitable. But having accomplished its purpose the Soviet government began playing for higher stakes; namely, recognition by the United States. Now British exports to Russia have sunk so low that the Soviet has acquired a favorable trade balance amounting to $479,000,000 in the last six years. The English people are clamoring for an embargo against slave-made goods, but Mr. MacDonald is not yet ready to turn his back on Moscow.

While the Soviet has been taking advantage of the British free market, it has been making a large share of its purchases in the United States. But its favors brought no weakening of the Hoover policy of nonrecognition. Russia has bought about all that American concerns are willing to sell on credit, and is now beginning to shower its favor upon Germany. American exports to Russia fell off sharply last month. About the same time orders totaling $75,000,000 were placed in Germany. This is in addition to the regular trade between the Soviet and Germany. It is estimated that Russian orders in that country over the next year will amount to $150,000,000. Germany is in a desperate economic situation. To make this trade possible the government has agreed to stand 70 per cent of the loss should the Soviet fail to pay. A similar arrangement is being made with Poland. These countries will take first honors away from the United States in financing the five-year plan.

There are a number of reasons why Russia has not been able to sell a larger quantity of its exports to the United States. This country does not need Russian raw materials, having plenty of its own. Some Russian products, such as wheat, are excluded by the tariff. The Soviet has found more ready markets in Europe than in America. But the reds have their eyes on the American market. This country consumes a large percentage of the world's industrial goods. When its industrialization program has been completed the Soviet will no longer be content with the narrow markets of Europe. Unless Congress is vigilant the United States will become a Soviet dumping ground, just as Britain is now.

THAT MORTGAGE.

Democrats are to be given a chance to lift the "mortgage" from their party. John Raskob and Jouett Shouse got their heads together and decided that the outlook for 1932 is so promising that they are justified in asking Democrats to invest a little hard cash in the party. In pursuance of this worthy purpose a cry for funds will go up throughout the land.

This little collection campaign is long overdue. Even with the hope for 1932 that stirs within every Democratic heart it is going to be difficult to raise $1,000,000 in these hard times, when most of it must go to pay for a dead horse. The party invested heavily in victory in 1928 and lost. During the last two and a half years Democracy has been under the shadow of a disagreeable debt. There is no encouragement in having to pay $650,000 for a defeat that is two and a half years old, even if the gentleman who holds the mortgage is generous. But the party will not be properly equipped to begin the 1932 race until this debt has been cleared up and a substantial sum has been raised for current expenses.

The Democratic party has many spokesmen, all of whom know just what is the best course to take. But few are willing to lead the party out of its financial wilderness. Only that guarding angel, Mr. Raskob, keeps the party away from the slough of bankruptcy. But even he won't promise to get Miss Democracy safely through without getting her skirts wet. It should not be difficult for staunch Democrats to sense the need of a rescue party.

It remains to be seen, however, whether Democrats are ready to divide their money between an expedition that failed in 1928 and one that is so uncertain as the campaign of 1932. It is hard to get practical politicians to bet money on a horse that they don't know anything about.

CHAOTIC MOTOR TRAFFIC.

When it was proposed to build the first crude roadway over the Alleghenies as an aid to trade with the great Western country there was as much opposition to the use of the State money of Pennsylvania for the purpose as there was to appropriations for the first public schools. Last year the Keystone State led the entire country with an expenditure by its highway department of $81,835,000. Over $900,000,000 was spent last year in the United States on roads, and this year the figure will reach nearly $1,000,000,000.

The gasoline tax has been the greatest factor in building good roads. Many efforts have been made to divert this revenue to other uses, but the eminent fitness of devoting it to the improvements of highways is so apparent that nearly all the States have reserved it for that purpose. The total tax on gasoline throughout the country now amounts to more than $1,000,000,000 annually.

Motor roads continue to improve, but motor accidents constantly increase. Conditions have reached an alarming stage. The American Roadbuilders Association and the National Conference on Street and Highway Safety are both working to improve highway traffic conditions. The latter organization has compiled statistics to show that in cities that have adopted and enforced the uniform vehicle code, including a drivers' license law, accident hazards have been reduced 25 per cent.

With motor vehicle accidents last year causing 32,600 deaths, the injury of 960,000 persons, and a property loss of nearly $1,000,000,000 the situation is one of major importance to the Nation. When added to this appalling total is the estimated loss of $2,000,000,000 a year through congestion and delays on highways, the need of more uniform and effective measures for controlling traffic is painfully apparent.

MR. COOLIDGE FOR SPEAKER.

Representative Johnson's suggestion that Calvin Coolidge be drafted as Speaker of the House aroused but little interest. Mr. Coolidge has been mentioned for almost every prominent position that has become vacant since he left the Presidency. For some reason politicians seem to be worried about his future. It is a subject of never-ending comment. Even after he has been out of the Presidency for more than two years and has settled quietly down to journalism people continue to fret about what to do with Mr. Coolidge. The current suggestion seems to be aimed more at resolving Mr. Coolidge's future than at solving the problem created by the death of Speaker Longworth.

The former President replied to the suggestion academically by saying that it might be legal for the House to choose an outsider to preside over it, but that it would be unwise. If the House should choose to honor a nonmember Mr. Coolidge has two excellent suggestions, neither of which is himself.

The idea of choosing an outsider as Speaker of the House is entirely fanciful. The Constitution merely says that "the House of Representatives shall choose a Speaker." But since the Speakership is modeled after that of the House of Commons, it may be presumed that the constitutional convention intended that only members of the House should be chosen. At least that interpretation has become traditional, and to alter it would change the nature of the Speakership.

Under the traditional arrangement the Speaker is a powerful leader of his party. A nonmember holding that position could be nothing more than an umpire. The entire nature of the House would be changed. Legislation would become more difficult. The discipline which has made the House a model of legislative efficiency, and which is absolutely necessary in a body of 435 members, would be substantially weakened. The House would tend to become more like the Senate.

It is idle to discuss the subject, however, for no House would choose an outside Speaker. Those who are ready to cast the Speaker's mantle upon Mr. Coolidge must be actuated either by a desire to rescue the former President from journalism or merely to create fodder for their own publicity machines.

FRENCH GOLD MOVEMENT.

France is making an experiment with gold. For the first time in more than four years a shipment of several million dollars is en route to New York. The French stock of gold has been augmented constantly since the government announced the establishment of its currency on a gold basis in June, 1898. The present shipment, naturally, is coming to this country with the approval of the Bank of France.

Foreign exchange experts disagree as to the precise level at which francs must be bought in order that gold may be transferred to the United States without loss, and the consignment now on the way may be looked upon as a test to determine the exact gold point under existing monetary conditions.

It is understood that the current shipment was made on a quotation for the franc of 3.9096 cents. Recent quotations of the franc have been around 3.91 cents. The present movement of gold toward America is not unexpected among bankers and was not a necessary step, but one that might have been readily avoided by the Bank of France if that institution had desired to make use of foreign exchange, of which it has large holdings.

The gold holdings of the Bank of France have now reached the unprecedented sum of 56,107,000,000 francs, or $2,244,280,000. This stock has been drawn from all nations, but principally from England. France has displaced Britain as a holder of the yellow metal. This first shipment to the United States after years of steady accumulation is probably with the sole view of learning the cost of such transfers. Financial authorities feel that French officials and bankers have become somewhat concerned over the record-breaking gold stock of the Bank of France, and are simply preparing the way for a redistribution of holdings.

FINGERPRINTS.

Fingerprints of all applicants certified for appointment to Federal positions by the Civil Service Commission are to be taken after July 1. The taking of fingerprints has been so effective in keeping crooks out of the prohibition and narcotic enforcement agencies that the commission has decided to extend the practice to all prospective employes of the Government.

Need for this new regulation can be seen in the fact that about one out of every fourteen persons applying for Federal positions has a police record. This means that the Government runs the risk of taking into its employ every year nearly 3,000 persons who have been in some way associated with crime. In a great organization like the Civil Service the strictest precautions are advisable.

Finger-printing has become one of the most effective weapons against crime. Every print is distinctive. The criminal whose prints have been taken finds it difficult to conceal his identity from officers of the law; the liability of his arrest is greatly increased. Only with extreme difficulty can thugs and racketeers masquerade as honest citizens when their fingerprints are carefully filed away in the Bureau of Identification. The New York postoffice found that its losses of holiday mail decreased 50 per cent when the fingerprints of temporary employes were taken.

This means of identification is certain to become more valuable in the future. At present there is a popular prejudice against finger-printing because it is associated with the detection of criminals. But the public will come to realize that it is used for the protection and not the prosecution of honest citizens. The finger-printing of thousands of Government employes will help to take away the fanciful stigma which many citizens attach to the practice.

THE WHEAT PROBLEM

From the London Times.

As a result of the recent wheat conference in Rome growers in the chief exporting countries are beginning to cherish some faint hope that a way may be found out of their difficulties. The conference included representatives of all the wheat-growing countries with the exception of the United States and was called to discuss the problem of disposing of next season's crop, a problem complicated by the existence of the heavy surplus from last year. In all the exporting countries the growers are already in difficulties owing to their failure to sell more than a portion of their produce and to unremunerative prices obtained for what was sold. Far from benefiting the wheat-importing industrial countries, the fall in prices, by ruining their customers in the agricultural countries, has had a disastrous effect on their export trades and has, in fact, been one of the main causes of the present depression. That wheat is being sold at a price which does not enable the grower to make a living is a misfortune for everybody, except perhaps for the live stock and dairy farmer, to whom grain is a raw material which he manufactures into more highly priced produce. And even he is not likely to gain in the end by the ruin of the wheat farmer. In the long run, it is true, the situation tends to adjust itself, low prices restricting growing and restricted production leading to higher prices. Growers, however, want an adjustment in time to enable them to make a profit in the coming season, and the object of the conference was to devise, if possible, some method of restricting production, of increasing the demand, or of regulating sales for the better protection of the producer. The discussion in Rome was general, but before the conference ended arrangements were made for a much smaller gathering, representing only the countries with an exportable surplus, to discuss definite plans for "orderly marketing."

This gathering will be held in London at Canada House under the presidency of Mr. Howard Ferguson, the high commissioner, who represented Canada at the Rome conference. Australia, Russia and Argentina will send delegates, and so, it is hoped, will the United States. The Danubian countries will also take part, and it is possible that, in view of the close understanding between them and the identity of their interests, they may decide to be represented by a single delegation; the smaller the size of the conference, the more businesslike its proceedings are likely to be and the better the prospects of a tangible result. Much will depend upon the preparatory work done before the conference, both in collecting the necessary information and in working out practicable schemes for discussion. As the first meeting is to be held on May 18 there is not very much time for this work, but the problem of selling their wheat at a remunerative price has been a constant preoccupation of the wheat growing countries for many months past, and it may be assumed that much of the preparatory work has already been done and only requires to be put into convenient shape. Two schemes have been tentatively suggested, one the formation of an international wheat committee to control the selling of wheat sold outside the country of origin, and the other an agreement on a schedule of quotas restricting the amount each country would be allowed to export. There are difficulties about both schemes, and possibly they would have to be combined to produce effective results. And above and beyond the difficulty of reaching an agreement on a concrete scheme is the further difficulty of making sure that it will be loyally supported by all the parties to it. The history of international agreements to cure disastrous falls in the value of particular commodities by the voluntary limitation of supply is not very encouraging. In this particular case, however, there is such a general recognition of the necessity for some remedial action that every effort will be made to find a successful scheme.

JUST FOLKS

By EDGAR A. GUEST.

IN THE GARDEN.

His garden was lovely, with bloom it was gay
And aglow with the splendor and glory of May.
As we strolled there I noticed some petals aflame
Which were strangers to me, so I asked him their name,
And he said: "I can't tell you, but wait! I suppose
The chap that I hired for a gardener knows."
"Hey, Bill!" he called out, "what is this growing here?
Is it new or a thing that we planted last year?"
Then I fancied I caught in the gardener's eye
A look of disgust as he turned to reply,
As if he thought owners of gardens should know
The names of the blossoms they're trying to grow.
Perhaps fearing more questions the millionaire said:
"Come on! Follow us round and explain every bed."
Which he did, hat in hand, in a manner polite
Very frequently setting his master aright,
But I'm sure at the end when I bade them goodbye
I picked up a wink in that gardener's eye!

It Is a Strange Love That Robs a Young Knight of His Armor.

By ROBERT QUILLEN

TODAY I talked with a successful business man who failed at the age of 40 and later recognized his failure as the greatest of blessings.

At 40 he had built up a business that enabled him to provide every luxury his family desired. Prosperity and affection combined to make him generous. His two sons, just out of college, had cars of their own and enough pocket money to live free of care. They had no acquaintance with work and were innocent of ambition.

At this stage the father made a few successful deals in real estate, began to dream of millions, and joined the ranks of the speculators in time to share their ruin. Good fortune in the guise of disaster stripped him clean.

He didn't recognize it as good fortune then, but he began to see the first inkling of the truth when his sons came to him and said: "Dad, we've always leaned on you and made no effort to help out; but now we've got our educations and are ready to go to work, and we want to help you rebuild."

To make it a perfect story, father and sons should be in partnership; but as a matter of fact one boy is an auditor for an oil company, and the other has a good job in one of the country's greatest banks.

"They made good," said the father, "because they had it to do. And I realize now that both of them would have been ruined if I had been able to continue supporting them in idleness."

You hear much about rich men's sons spoiled by their fathers' millions, but it doesn't take a million dollars to spoil a boy.

In large towns and small ones all over America are boys hopelessly handicapped by fathers only moderately well-to-do.

"I want the boy to have an easier time than I had," one of these fathers will say. Yet in another mood he will confess: "It was hard necessity that made me what I am."

If nothing succeeds like success, it is equally true that nothing fails like unearned success.

Only the hard process of winning a fortune can develop the wit and stamina to hold it. The vine that clings to an oak can stand erect only while the oak supports it.

PRO AND CON

The Electoral College.

St. Louis Post-Dispatch.

When the Progressives in their platform urge abolishing the electoral college as one step toward establishing truly representative government, they attack a political function which has never been more than a form. From the standpoint of carrying out the intention of the founding fathers, it has been obsolete since 1796. The quadrennial meeting of electors and the sending of ballots to Washington has become a senseless archaism, having only ceremonial connection with election of the President.

When the Constitution was drafted, only extreme radicals advocated letting the people at large vote for President. Some delegates wanted Congress to choose the Executive; others thought the State Legislatures should do so. Finally, this special body was set up for the purpose, the members to be appointed by the Legislatures, without instruction as to their choice. Popular government arrived with the rise of political parties, but still we have the pretense of the electoral college deciding the election.

Gov. Emmerson's Veto.

Danville (Ill.) Commercial-News.

Naturally an outburst of indignation and verbal abuse follows upon the heels of the veto by Gov. Emmerson of the legislative bill designed to repeal the prohibition laws of Illinois. Much of the caustic criticism comes from members of the Legislature who supported the bill. Whatever the merits or faults of the measure, abuse comes with poor grace from legislative quarters. It must be admitted on all hands that Gov. Emmerson displayed admirable courage in withstanding the terrific pressure that was brought to bear upon him from wet quarters, especially from Chicago. Neither threats nor promises moved him from doing what he considered his plain duty. No man will accuse him of acting from other than pure motives, whatever may be said of his judgment.

Handicap.

Los Angeles Times.

Air travel never will be popular among Democrats. They fall out too easily.

The Speakership.

Cincinnati Enquirer.

It has been proposed that the House go outside the House membership for the presiding officer who will succeed the late Mr. Longworth. The appointment of a former President has been suggested by Representative Royal C. Johnson, of South Dakota.

This can not be said to be the best way out of the present difficulty. Such procedure would seem rather to suggest that real patriotism was at a discount in the Nation, and that its public partisan servants were not to be trusted in the management of the country's affairs.

It is true that this might be done, as the former President has agreed, under legal sanction. But the traditions of this Government have made of the Speaker of the House something more than an individual of prominence, a partisan leader. He looms in the political historical perspective as one who is experienced and resourceful, and many such men are included in the membership of the House. These men are alert, intimately connected with imminent affairs. They know the ropes, so to speak.

Another Revolter From Raskob.

Topeka Capital.

Senator Walsh, of Massachusetts, at the New York Jeffersonian banquet proposed a different party program from that of Raskob and Shouse. He wants a better scheme of Federal taxation "to shift the burden less upon wage earners and small business men, and more upon the very wealthy." In a distress year in business the very wealthy come in for a good deal of complaint. The Massachusetts senator cited the Treasury figures giving the annual net income of 504 multimillionaires as $1,185,135,000, equaling the total value of the country's wheat and cotton crops. Hitting the "very wealthy" with taxes is one way to do it, but a better would be to find a way to prevent the accumulation of what Theodore Roosevelt used to term excessive "swollen fortunes."

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR.

Why Not an Old-Fashioned Barnyard at the Zoo, With Real Cows 'n' Everything?—Also a Farm House Where Visitors Could Rest and Get Lunch.

To the Editor of The Post—Sir: Having read from time to time about city children who have never seen a cow, the idea suggests itself to me that a blooded cow or so in the National Zoological Park might be a good thing. No doubt there are owners of fine herds who would gladly contribute one or more such animals.

There are undobutedly many grown-ups who would find such an exhibit extremely enjoyable along with the children. A herd of different breeds of cattle would be especially instructive as well as entertaining.

Indeed, while we are about it, why not a model barnyard at the Zoo? Chicken, turkey, ducks, geese, guinea fowl, pigs, calves, a typical old farm horse—there is plenty of room for them all in the spacious park.

This barnyard might be placed in charge of the Agricultural Department as a special experiment station, thus serving a practical purpose while at the same time contributing greatly to the enjoyment of Zoo visitors.

A farm house with wide porches, furnishing rest and shelter and a bite to eat when desired, should be added to the outfit.

I feel convinced that a feature like this would prove one of the Zoo's chief attractions, in the course of time outrivaling the recently established snake house in popularity.

ZOO FAN.

Fence or Hedge Your Lawn to Protect It From "Domestic Animals," Including Children.

To the Editor of The Post—Sir: Every year with the return of spring clean-up time we hear complaints about children who overrun flower beds and tear the sod of well-kept lawns to pieces. It certainly is aggravating to have a season's carefully tended growth of grass ruined by an hour or so's trampling of childish feet. But I don't blame the children so much as I do the lack of fences.

Quite a number of years ago some one sprung the brilliant idea that fences are unnecessary and, in fact, that our outdoor tout ensemble would be improved by their absence. The picture of verdant front yards blending into each other all over town caught most of us, and since then it has been considered the proper thing to omit the fence in the plans of home builders. In theory this arrangement is all right, but as long as children are permitted to enjoy fresh air and sunshine in front of their homes it will be unsatisfactory, especially where houses are built in rows.

Unfenced city yards may properly be called commons, and I defy any one to convince a healthy and vigorous child that the commons are not naturally intended to be played on. Common law is on their side. You can expect no relief for damage done by domestic animals on unfenced ground, and so far as this argument is concerned I consider children domestic animals.

Householders are beginning to accept this view of the matter, and many now provide fences or hedges around grass plots which were formerly devastated by romping children.

A neat fenced-in mid-Victorian front yard is very attractive, and in the general adoption of fenced-in yards I see the only satisfactory settlement of the front-lawn problem.

American Boy Sees Washington and Helps His Parents to Gain a Liberal Education.

To the Editor of The Post—Sir: Our son is 12, and is passing his spring vacation with his parents here in Washington. We want him to breathe the atmosphere of governmental surroundings and feel the importance of becoming a citizen and of assuming the duties and obligations that come with the liberties granted under the Constitution. Here he sees the emblems of nationality—the home of the President, the buildings which house the various departments, with a Cabinet officer at the head, and the Capitol; the Monument and the Lincoln Memorial, the Silent City across the Potomac, "Fame's Eternal Camping Ground;" the statues, scattered about the city—will also leave an imprint on his memory. To him everything seems educational. The architecture, that most enduring form of art, has wonderfully impressed him, especially the latest addition to the Red Cross group, in white marble, and the Lincoln Memorial, the stately grandeur of the Capital and the exquisite beauty of the Library of Congress. It all serves to give him a mental picture that will never fade from his mind. May I say, too, that his parents have "brushed up" not a little on some points of history, while we enjoyed the boy's enthusiasm over Lindy's We and Teddy's lions. We return to our "hick town" of 40,000 people in the Middle West, delighted with our experience and with the hope that the boys and girls of the Nation may enjoy the opportunity which a trip to the Capital City affords. It will make them proud of their country.

99,610 COMMUNISTS EXPELLED BY PARTY

Charges Include Sympathy With Trotzky and Work Against Soviet.

Moscow, U. S. S. R., April 23 (A.P.).—After a considerable "cleansing" period, the Communist party announced today that 99,610 members had been expelled on a variety of charges, including sympathy with Leon Trotzky, exiled leader, antisoviet activities, drunkenness and "antimorality."

The number of members subjected to the "cleansing" process was listed at 1,273,000, of which 130,497 were ordered dropped, but thousands appealed and were reinstated. Reprimands were issued to 256,916 for such misdemeanors as drinking in public places and laxity in observing party discipline.

Other charges on which the expulsions were based were embezzlement, lavish living and ostentation, belief in religion and failing to disclose that near relatives were traders, priests or army officers under the old regime.

Under the heading of "antimorality," Communists may be punished for beating their wives and children or for immoral relations. In other words, the Communist who expects to rise in the party must walk a straight and narrow path and hew to the line of the late Nicolai Lenin.

Membership of the party on February 1 was announced as 2,040,558, compared with 1,572,161 on the same date in 1930, and its complexion was given as 67 per cent workers, 22 per cent peasants and 11 per cent professional people.

La Gorces Sail From France Today to U. S.

Have Had Tunneys With Them in Following Marco Polo Trail.

HOMEWARD bound from far ports that lead to the trails of Marco Polo, Mr. and Mrs. John Oliver LaGorce will sail today from Cherbourg on the Leviathan for New York after traveling for some time in the Near East, part of their trip accompanied by Mr. Gene Tunney, of boxing fame, and Mrs. Tunney. Mr. LaGorce, who is vice president of the National Geographic Society, captained the group which "put into port" at Beirut, Syria, earlier in the winter to round out arrangements for the famous overland trip of scientific observation over the paths of Marco Polo.

In two divisions the scientific crews are traversing high mountain ranges, one having set forth from Beirut, where the Panir unit was assembled by Mr. LaGorce to be commanded by Georges-Marie Haardt and the other division, under Lieut. Comdr. Victor Point and Dr. Tsu Ming Yi, of the Chinese Geographic Society, which is journeying westward from Peking across Mongolian deserts and the plateau of Chinese Turkestan.

The unit assembled by Mr. LaGorce at Beirut will form a caravan of seven caterpillar tractors. The equipment includes radio, sound recording apparatus and color cameras and traverses lofty ranges as high as the Alps and endless desert stretches of almost unbearable heat and sandstorms. M. Haardt, noted explorer and scientist, is the first man to cross the Sahara desert by motor.

Representing the National Geographic Society, Dr. Maynard Owen Williams is a member of the French expedition and is official photographer and correspondent. The Chinese caravan will cross India, Baluchistan and Arabia and round out an overland journey of more than 13,500 miles, lasting about eighteen months.

Indoor and Outdoor Gardens

By JANE LESLIE KIFT

THE USE OF PERENNIALS.

PERENNIALS lend themselves to all sorts of planting. You can use them for formal or informal gardens, borders, among the shrubbery, about your house or other buildings, or you may naturalize them in a nearby meadow. They are also useful for period gardens or gardens of any special type such as a water garden, bog garden or rock garden.

Usually in a formal garden, design and outline is of paramount importance and the planting is subservient to it, that is, the planting helps in showing the design rather than to hide it.

In a formal garden we have curved or straight lines which must be rather accurately adhered to. It is sometimes hard to find plants which lend themselves to this type of arrangement. In less formal gardens we can use almost any variety irrespective of whether it be an annual or a perennial.

In an old-fashioned garden the arrangement was formal with the design well defined, but the planting was in most cases informal. When used among shrubbery the perennials should never be arranged in single file or ribbon effect, but should always be placed here and there in groups or clumps. Of course, when planting you must allow for individual development. Usually it is best to leave bays or pockets where shrubbery in placed and plant the perennials in between. In such planting the shrubbery will protect the herbaceous plants from strong winds.

Usually it is best to keep low growers in the front and the taller varieties in the back of the pocket. Keep in mind when planting herbaceous plants among shrubbery that you must use only varieties which have rugged constitutions. For they must share their food with the strong growing shrubbery. Another thing to consider is the fact that they will naturally be somewhat shaded, therefore choose only plants which will tolerate some shade. It is also well to give perennials, when planted in a shrubbery border, some food at least twice each season. You can use a well-rotted manure mulch in the fall and dig this under in the spring, and you can use bonemeal about June or July.

A Interprets the Mode

New York, April 23.

AND it's nothing more than two wide ermine sleeves, with a band across the shoulders in back to keep them together and two bands of the ermine in front to tie on—and what do you think it is? An evening wrap, no less—at least Jane Regny calls it that. And very convenient it is, too, for warm summer nights when you don't want to go bare-armed even as far as from your door step to your limousine, and you don't want, either, to be bothered with anything more complicated than just a pair of sleeves.

And that, my dear, is just one of the kinds of evening wraps you can choose, in a season which seems to be full of nothing so much as an endless variety of them. And the smart lengths include everything from this briefest one way down to the kind that only shows a few inches of the bottom of your ankle-length gown.

Next in length after this mere pair of sleeves is the little fur bolero, either sable or ermine, which just reaches to a few inches below the armpits. Then there are the waist length wraps which fit snugly around the waist. These can also be in fur, but are also very effective made of the same material and color as the dress are in a contrasting color. And these little wraps, by the way, transform your very decollete evening gowns into modest dinner dresses.

Or if you feel swankier in the knee-length velvet wrap, with the huge fox collar, that you can hold closely around your hips (the wrap, not the collar) wear it by all means, it's still very smart. Or, but this is only for lucky tall girls, you can have your evening wrap almost full-length (some of the fullness of the bottom of your evening gown must show). This last kind is very straight and very tailored, almost like a redingote and is best in a stiffian material—such as faille or taffeta. Which leaves only a million or more styles of evening wrap still undescribed—what a life.

The coat of Mirande's afternoon ensemble is so chic and simple and madly, wickedly feminine with its silver fox trimming that I knew you would want more than words to describe it—hence my sketch. Mirande uses material of that lovely blue-green that is so new and so lovely this season. The neckline is that adorably flattering cowl effect—and the raglan sleeves have simply huge bracelet cuffs. And though I haven't space to show you today the dress under this lovely coat is crepe romain of the same blue-green color. This—and a sunny day for strolling—and the man. Perfection?

I just bet there's something needed in your kitchen, in your closet, in your office—and other places, too, to save a few precious minutes each day. Economy of everything—including and especially time—is fashionable right now, and I thought of the smartest ways to save time the other day, and I was so proud of 'em that I sat me down and wrote a marvelous leaflet for this week on gadgets, 'N' if you want to see how practical a Dare gadget can be, you'd better send your stamped, self-addressed envelope right away to the Dare department of The Washington Post. It tells ways to double your closet space, save the lingerie cuffs on that beatest dress from grime—and ever so many more secrets that I can't even hint about here.

• • • •

And there are some graceful lingerie touches I thought you would like, on the half figure. A collar and cuff of rose georgette, draped in a novel manner and edged in tiny pleats.

Formal pyjamas. Read about them in Dare's weekly fashion letter in The Sunday Post.

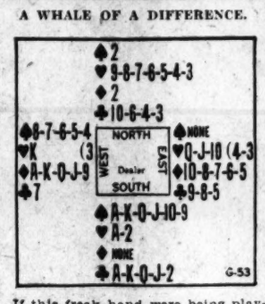
A WHALE OF A DIFFERENCE.



If this freak hand were being played at Auction Bridge, South would bid one Spade. A hand as strong as this does not need preempting. West would bid two Diamonds, and probably East five Diamonds in a desperate effort to keep the enemy from a sure game. To South a bid of five Spades would look safer than six Clubs, although as it happens the slam in Clubs is a show-down, but the Club bid would seem to raise the contract unnecessarily. South's bid of five Spades probably would secure the contract, possibly doubled.

However, the hand was played at Contract Bridge and South bid six Spades. West doubled and South, although vulnerable, redoubled on the assumption that West was doubling on Diamond tricks.

South ruffed West's opening Diamond lead and led a trump. When East discarded on the first round, South knew his fate. West now had one more trump than South and, by trumping Clubs and returning Diamonds, could maintain that advantage to the end. Declarer could win but six tricks in Spades, one in Clubs, and one in Hearts—a loss of 2,800 points.

Do you see how Declarer could have made any more, against the atrocious trump distribution he encountered?

THE CORRECT PLAY.

When six cards are divided between two hands, a 6—0 distribution rarely occurs. But South can make provision for it on this hand by discarding his one sure losing trick—the Deuce of Hearts—instead of trumping West's opening Diamond lead. Both dummy and Declarer now can trump Diamonds, so West must lead another suit to trick 2. Whether he chooses a Heart or a Club (a Diamond would not be any better), South's hand is a show-down for the remaining tricks. Figuring 500 for the game, this play made a difference of 4,970 points.

YOUR NAME — WHAT DOES IT MEAN?

By HARRY A. DEFERRARI, Ph. D.

THE family name "Tunney" (also spelled "Tunny") is of Irish origin. In most cases it is the modern form of the original Irish "O Tonnaigh," which means "the descendant of Tonnach." The personal name "Tonnach" means "glittering." This name appears to have originated in Sligo. In a few cases "Tunney" is derived from "O Tuine," which is a corruption of "O Tuile." "O Tuile" is a shortened form of "Mac Mhaoltuile," which means "the son of the man devoted to the will of God."

The family name "Brann" is of Celtic origin. It means "the raven," and was once commonly given as a personal name and as a nickname.

The family name "Brannon" is of Celtic origin. It is merely a dimnutive form of "Brann," and, therefore, means "the little raven."

The family name "Brennan" has come down to us from two quite different Celtic sources. It has sometimes been adopted as a modern form of the original Irish "O Branain" and therefore means "the descendant of the little raven." In other cases its source is the Irish "O Braonain" which means "the descendant of little Braon." The personal name "Braon" means "sadness" and "sorrow."

The family name "MacNeely" has come down to us from two main Celtic sources. It is often derived from the original Irish "Mac Conghaile," which means "the son of Conghal." The personal name "Conghal" means "high valor." Sometimes "MacNeely" may be traced back to the Irish "Mac an Fhileadh," which means "the son of the poet."

What Today Means to You

"TAURUS"

IF April 24 is your birthday the best hours for you on this date are from 11:30 a. m. to 1:10 p. m., from 3:30 p. m. to 5:15 p. m. and from 8 p. m. to 9:30 p. m. The danger hours are from 8:15 a. m. to 1:30 a. m. and from 6 p. m to 7:30 p. m.

April 24, according to the stars, is fraught with danger, and no risks should be taken. On the other hand, those who "carry on" conscientiously and industriously will reap some unexpected reward. In the evening the conditions denote restlessness and feelings of annoyance will easily be aroused.

A child born on this April 24 will be spiritual in its nature, and refinement and culture will mean much to it. Whilst strongly addicted to its home, it will have many outside interests of the higher type. It will plan carefully, execute intelligently and it will only make friends with those of high ideals.

Born on April 24, you havb a very strong imagination. The commonplace never appeals to you. Without being one of its votaries, you are a great lover of art. The glories of the past stir you more than the utilitarianism of the present. You could spend weeks in the Alhambra at Granada. You would see little to interest you in the Ford factory at Detroit, Mich.

You are somewhat of a dreamer and love solitude, where undisturbed you can build "castles in the air." You are satisfied, and never try to make your dreams come true. If gifted with any literary ability you should be successful in telling your fancies. You are very liberal in thought, very unselfish in action and very conventional in conduct. You talk well and are entertaining. Also you can act well, and become diverting.

Not endowed with great ambition for material success, you would not shine in any executive position of responsibility. In a secondary capacity, subject to one whom you really liked, you would always be reliable and pendendable. Conscientiousness is one of your chief assets. your emotions are very powerful, and when you mate wou will bestow on the chosen one a wealth of affection and will demand much in return.

Successful people born April 24:

Benjamin J. Sweet, soldier.

Santos Dumont, aviator.

Cyril Maude, English actor.

Oliver Cromwell, English general and statesman.

FRANCES M'DONALD

A Big-Spender!

DEAR Frances McDonald: For some time I have been an interested reader of your column, wanting several times to ask your opinion in my particular case, as I feel that you will give me your unbiased opinion, like it or not.

About a year and a half ago I met this man I am engaged to now and although we have considered ourselves engaged for fully eight months, no ring has as yet been forthcoming. From the first I realized that he was not the kind to throw money away and admired him for it. As time went on, however, it seemed to get more evident, on the big things and on the little which have meant so much to me. I tried to make allowances on the ground he was saving for us. About four months ago the firm he was working for sent him away, a promotion, but after just two weeks he quit "because he didn't like the work." Again I tried to make allowances, but with jobs not so plentiful and necessitating starting out all over again, I couldn't help but feel he had acted a bit hastily. Since he has returned, he has hardly bothered his head about looking for another job, makes a pretense at it occasionally, but most of the time sleeps until noon and whenever I offer a suggestion I get either a remark or look that makes me wish I had kept it to myself.

Since the first of the year I too have had a little hard luck, while I am working, there has been no salary. I have been with this firm for years, ever since graduating from school, and they have always been perfectly wonderful to me. While business is good, collections have been terrible, and we are trying to carry on over this period hoping for a break. I am trying to do my share and he seems to resent it.

During the past three wretched months, those traits of "Scotch" have become more and more prominent and has truly put me to thinking. For instance, on one of the recent holidays we decided at the last minute to have a little picnic and I volunteered to pack the lunch. The next morning, however, I found mother did not have enough bread so I phoned him and asked him if he wouldn't stop by the store and get a loaf. When he arrived mother laid 8 cents on the table and told him he'd better put it in his pocket before he forgot it.

I was nearly struck dumb when he picked it up, especially after mother was furnishing the rest of the food. We have him over to dinner on the average of twice a week; his mother works and doesn't bother about doing much cooking. On one occasion we ran out of milk and I asked him to get me a pint, for which he allowed mother to pay him. Am I wrong in branding him "tight" when he accepts that money? Now he's started crabbing about my clothes, says I have entirely too many and whatever I do wear a new dress instead of receiving a compliment or having it admired as all girls like to do, all I get is, "What! Another dress!" Rather than hear that each time which always takes the enjoyment out of it, I wear my old clothes with him and save my new clothes for other occasions. These are only a few examples, Mrs. McDonald, I could give you lots more.

I do like nice things, all girls do, and why shouldn't I have them so long as I am paying for them and can afford them. I have a good-sized bank account and one I am proud of. My folks enjoy seeing me have nice things, want me to have them in fact, and I do it all on my own salary after paying board at home and contributing to the church.

Please tell me which one of us is right? I have been doing a lot of thinking and worrying lately and I'm afraid it has changed my whole attitude toward him. Probably he has, too, for we have become actually distant, lost everything we had in common and are rather bored in each other's company. If I am wrong, I would like to know it before it is too late as some day I hope to marry and don't want to give others the idea I am a spendthrift and would make an extravagant wife.

Most sincerely, JANE.

Jane you are through with this great-hearted lover and you know it. You are merely writing to ask my blessing upon your decision. Well, you have it! He would charge you for husbandly advice not to mention his time and trouble! Give a farewell party for him and charge him admission. Where do you girls find these men? Better luck next time, Jane!

PARKING VIOLATORS GET TICKETS TODAY

Brown Believes Motorists Have Had Plenty Time to Learn New Rules.

Violators of the new traffic regulation prohibiting parking in the downtown area between 8 and 9:30 a. m. will face arrest beginning today, according to Inspector E. W. Brown, in charge of the Traffic Bureau.

Inspector Brown believes motorists have had sufficient time to familiarize themselves with the new rules, and instructions will be given policemen to place tickets on cars of all violators.

Leniency, however, will still be extended to visiting motorists who are not familiar with regulations here. Observance of the new rules was better yesterday morning than on Wednesday, Inspector Brown reported, saying most of those who were parked in the restricted area were from out of the city.

As a result of the change, Brown noted, general traffic conditions have shown a marked improvement. In the downtown section there was an uninterrupted flow of traffic.

ACTION PREDICTED ON ELECTRIC RATE

Utility Body Announcement Today May Follow Conference.

A Public Utilities Commission announcement of its next action in the electric rate controversy appeared likely before the end of the week after Corporation Counsel William W. Bride and his special assistant, William A. Roberts, conferred yesterday with Maj. en. Mason M. Patrick and Harleigh H. Hartman, of the commission.

None of the parties would reveal the trend of the conference other than to say that it had to do with the opinion submitted by Mr. Bride to the utilities body last week. Another conference will be held today, and a public announcement may follow.

All indications are that the commission has accepted the challenge of the Potomac Electric Power Co. and will order a new schedule of rates and establish a new sliding scale, thus scrapping the consent decree, without filing any petition in the District Supreme Court, which drew up the decree.

Unless the power company succeeds in blocking the commission by obtaining an injunction, electricity users may expect to have another reduction in rates before summer arrives despite the mact that the rates were cup only last Janury.

Power company officials have indicated their intention of opposing any further reductions in their revenue, which is now 10 per cent of the rate base, but they will have to convince the court that whatever new rates are ordered by the commission are confiscatory.

Stealing of Kiss Denied by Cleric

Kansas Pastor Accuses Woman of Attempt at Blackmail.

Kansas City, Kans., April 23 (A.P.).—The Rev. James Cornish, 52-year-old grandfather, denied from the witness stand today that he had stolen a kiss from Mrs. Bertha Thomas, former choir singer and Sunday school teacher, who is seeking $5,000 damages for the alleged incident.

The Great Bend, Kans., pastor told the jury his first knowledge of the kissing charge came when he was invited to the Thomas home and there accused of forcing his attentions upon the 37-year-old matron by her husband. He repeated what he said was his conversation at the time.

"It is a falsehood. You can't blackmail me," Mr. Cornish said he told his accuser. The minister, then pastor of a Christian Church here, said the accusation was made six weeks after the date upon which Mrs. Thomas has declared she was kissed while discussing church affairs in Mr. Cornish's study.

Lines Serving Capital Figure in Bus Merger

Merger of several bus lines which link Washington and Richmond with the Middle West and South was announced yesterday by W. F. Geoghan, district manager of the Blue and Gray Lines, according to an Associated Press dispatch from Portsmouth, Ohio.

Through the consolidation, the lines wil become a unit in the Atlantic Greyhound Lines, operating between Jacksonville, Fla.; Atlanta, Ga.; Knoxville, Tenn.; Cincinnati and Columbus, Ohio; Pittsburgh, Washington and Richmond. The Camel City Coach Co., Camel Coach Lines of Georgia, Old Dominion Stages and Skyland States are among the lines which will be combined.

RUM FREEDOM AIDS RENO

games) he announced, for publication, that Reno had begun to do within the law just what it had always done.

It was not only the advent of the crowds, from New York, from the Pacific Coast, from, more or less, the whole world, that made Reno gay in July, 1910. The gambling tables were having their "last" fling.

In 1910, by a bare majority, the Nevada Legislature repealed the legalized gambling act which had been on the statute books for more than 40 years.

Reformers acclaimed the action. Nevada's two United States senators, Francis G. Newlands and George S. Nixon, indorsed it. The law became effective October 1, and the gambling houses of Reno, famous from coast to coast—the Palace, the Oberon, the Louvre-Lacy and the rest—closed their doors.

Ten years passed, ten years of deep morality, broken only by the metallic click of pari-mutuel machines and by the whirr of shuffled cards—racing and poker have been legal in Nevada for nearly two decades.

Nevada, in its righteousness, passed a State liquor restriction act in 1918 and ratified Federal prohibition January 21, 1919. The Volstead act clamped down on January 16, 1920—a date you may remember.

What happened in Nevada was what happened elsewhere, but with trimmings. The speakeasy came in and the "soft drink parlor," with its hard drink appurtenances. Nevada, in disguest, repealed its State-wide prohibition act July 3, 1923, the eve of Independence Day. There had been 40-odd saloons in Reno. There were, perhaps, some 60 "speaks" with every kind of liquor but good liquor on the bars.

At that, the gamblers saw their opportunity. Nevada, with no dry act, had no interest in the speakeasy. The Federals, interested in the sale of liquor, cared nothing for the doings in the back room. Such Nevada officers of law as dropped into the blind pigs and the basements off the alleyways of Reno came not on official business. Prohibition agents, there officially, took the liquor—and let the games go on.

Mad Whirl Resumes.

"Club rooms" sprouted. The dice whirled, and the cards turned in secluded hideaways, which, soon, became less secret. Gambling was back in Reno. And, by 1926, the operators had discovered that the Easterners taking "the cure" in Reno—the "cure" is Reno's euphemism for divorce—made up a congeries quite worthy of attention.

There was gold in them thar visitors—and, when some quiet, nicely furnished, frankly wet places were established for their comfort, the visitors showed gratitude by dropping gold (or bills would do as well, though they still like coined money in Nevada) onto the squared cloth.

By 1926, you could hear talk of "graft," "protection," "influence" and other words that made the New York colony feel quite at home. There was no official action, and, by 1927, sentiment was such that a proposal for wide-open play was beaten by a single vote in the State Senate.

Right there, the prohibition-watered bud of gambling flowered, rankly.

Reno let the anti-gambling law go Gallagher. True, the games stayed in the basements and, for some reason never yet explained, roulette was frowned upon, officially.

Tolerate—and Collect.

But the sign "club rooms," with an arrow pointing to a flight of steps, became a common sight. Introduction by a friend, or by a guest card became unnecessary. These were quasi-public places. The city tolerated such, and more than tolerated. It collected.

All gambling games—with the exception of roulette—were licensed as innocuous card-play. For each table, Reno got $50, monthly, and for each slot machine a fee of $10. The revenue per year was $35,000, 4 per cent of Reno's total income.

It is of record that, throughout the State, policemen, prosecutors, State officials and authorities made no effective protest.

One prosecutor of an eastern county of Nevada did, indeed, announce that he would close "illegal" games. There was a howl of protest—from the business men—and he withdrew the statement.

All of which, of course, was satisfactory to the gamblers. In 1929, they made no effort to have the anti-gambling law repealed. History credits the controling interests, in fact, with heading off some liberal minded legislators bent on repeal.

"Bootleg" gambling proved reasonably profitable to the operators, and they squeezed even the legal race meetings into their schemes of things. At the tracks there was, and is, no open bookmaking. But in 1926 there were—and are today—some racetrack pool rooms operated in conjunction with the gambling halls.

Graft Rumors Grow Apace.

What would have happened had Idaho and Arganssas failed to make their bid for the divorce trade is, of course, a question. Nevada might have gone along as it was going, gambling in secret, as Mayor Roberts said.

On the other hand, it might not so have done. True, there was no official inquiry and a grand jury, probably, could not have found sufficient evidence for even one indictment. Nevertheless, the talk of grafting grew. By 1930, it was a deep-set feeling that the gambling halls paid something more than $50 monthly for their privileges. And, at the election of that year, several officials of Washoe County went by the board for lesser known opponents by a startling count of votes.

Then came the bid of Boise and Hot Springs for a bit of Reno's best known industry, the divorce law with its residence requirement cut to six weeks, and the new gambling law, carried with only three dissenting voices.

Under the new regulations, gambling tables with the exception of the old licensed card games, draw and stud poker and the Filipino indoor sport, panquinqui, pay a state license fee of $50 a month. Slot machines pay $10. Half the income goes to the city where the games are played, the county gets a quarter and the state a quarter.

Two Big Businesses.

Municipalities can impose additional fees for licenses, and most of them will do so, though Reno has not, so far, passed a gambling ordinance.

Reno will. The gambling halls have come up from their smoke-filled basements into the sunlight of the main-street frontage, as a subsidiary to the great and sacrosanct divorce mill.

Reno would like to keep them there, and Reno is the best provider for the balance of the State.

Mayor Roberts said that, under the new law, the city would do openly just what it always had done—would gamble, in a word. He might have said, and with some show of justice, just what it always will do.

After all, the first dice ever made were found in Indian ruins, in Nevada.

The fourth article of this series, published tomorrow, will picture the men who control gambling in Reno and the plant they have built up.

It would cost $2,250 to send postcards to all the readers that can be reached any morning by Post Classified Ads.

$20,000 Pledged In Jewish Drive

One-Third of Quota Already Subscribed by One-Fifth of Prospects.

Although scarcely one-fifth of the prospective givers in the united Jewish campaign have been approached, well over one-third of the $60,000 goal has been raised, Joseph D. Kaufman told drive workers yesterday at a luncheon at the Jewish Community Center.

Mr. Kaufman deplored the fact that a small proportion of the workers were doing most of the soliciting, while many who had promised to help have done very little. He urged those present to help get the others busy during the last half of the drive, which gets under way today.

The cooperation of non-Jewish citizens was cited by Maj. Julius I. Peyser as an example of the widespread sympathy for the cause of eastern European relief. He announced a $100 contribution from Joseph P. Tumulty, secretary to the late President Wilson. Numerous other non-Jews also have contributed liberally to the cause, it was said.

Condition of Employment Here Better Than Elsewhere, Is Claim.

Four out of every ten persons who registered for work with the employment supervisor of the District cleanup committee during March have obtained permanent jobs, it was announced yesterday by F. W. A. Sommers, supervisor.

Mr. Sommers reported that there is a growing disinclination on the part of those who have registered to accept temporary positions. He attributes this to the fact that permanent positions are becoming more plentiful.

Commenting on the employment situation, George J. Adams, executive secretary of the District of Columbia committee on employment, stated that the increase in permanent jobs is a clear indication that conditions of employment in the District are improving and that the local employment situation is better than elsewhere.

CENTRAL BATTALION WINS CADET HONORS IN ANNUAL CONTEST

AWARD OF TROPHIES SET FOR NEXT WEEK

Dr. Ballou Will Officiate at Pesentations in Griffith Stadium.

Central won the distinction of having the best battalion in the high school cadet corps and Eastern the best band yesterday afternoon at the annual battalion and band competition at Wilson Stadium.

First place went to the second battalion of the first regiment of Central, under command of Maj. Leonard S. Wiener. The Eastern High School cadet band, of the third regiment, was led by Capt. John Davis.

Eastern also captured second place in the battalion honors, the first battalion of the third regiment being given this place. Maj. Dan Radice was in command. Second place in the band contest went to McKinley High School, which has the largest high school cadet band, under Capt. William Cowgill.

McKinley Battalion Is Third.

The first battalion of the second regiment of McKinley was given third place in the battalion drill. Western was third in the band contest.

The winning battalion will receive the Col. Craigie silver cup, presented by Col. Wallace M. Craigie, U. S. A., professor of military science and tactics in the public schools. The commanding major of the winning battalion will receive the Cadet Cup Fund. The winning band will receive the Military Instruction Cup, and the captain will receive a gold medal. The trophies will be presented at the close of the annual competitive drill at Griffith Stadium next Thursday, by Dr Frank W. Ballou, superintendent of schools.

Donovan Trained Winners.

The winning Central battalion was trained by Lieut. Col. John G. Donovan, military instructor in charge of cadets at Central and Business high schools. L. E. Monoley, director of music activities in the public schools, was responsible for the winning band.

Judges of the battalion competition were Capt. Alexander R. Bolling, U. S. A.; First Lieut. James C. White and First Lieut. Thomas H. Allen. Judges of the band competition were Band Leader L. C. Yessel, Third United States Calvary, and Warrant Officer J. Dufresne, Sixth Field Artillery.

Elinor Smith Fails On Altitude Record

(Associated Press.)

Calibration of the barograph carried April 9 by Elinor Smith, girl flier, yesterday left the women's world altitude record of 28,743 feet with Ruth Nichols, Rye, N. Y., who is planning a solo flight across the Atlantic.

Maj. Luke Christopher, of the contest board of the National Aeronautic Association, announced that Miss Smith's barograph reading was 24,951 feet. The instrument was checked at the Bureau of Standards. Failure to set a new record marked the second defeat for the juvenile flier in her attempts to become queen of the upper air as she had been before Miss Nichols made her mark March 6.

Street Explains Chest Accountancy Methods

Detailed explanation of how the Community Chest handles its 120,000 individual accounts, the largest number handled by any one concern in Washington, was given by Elwood Street, director of the Chest, in a talk before the Cosmopolitan Club at the weekly club luncheon at the Carlton Hotel yesterday. Mr. Street took as his topic "Personal Efficiency in Business." Mr. Street explained the necessity for mapping out each day's work as well as that for the week and month.

The large shield won by the Cosmopolitan Club Bowling Team was on exhibition as well as the cups and medals won by the team members for individual performances. Edward Rule and Harry Huntsberry won the attendance prizes.

ROBBERY AND DEATH SUSPECTS INDICTED

True Bills Name Fisher, Stumm, Garry and Charles Owens.

At the request of United States Attorney Leo A. Rover, the District grand jury yesterday returned a supplemental report to its usual Tuesday presentments. The reason given by Mr. Rover in asking a special return was the importance of two of the cases that had been submitted to the jury, both of which involved men now in jail.

The first case was that of Arthur A. Fisher, a former District Building employe, and Philip K. Stumm, who were indicted for conspiring to commit robbery. The pair are said to have planned to rob the paymaster of the District Building of a semi-monthly pay roll that would have approximated $120,000. Overheard in their conversations, they were arrested as they emerged from a hotel room.

Garry Owens and Charles Albert Owens were indicted for first degree murder. They are charged with having slain James H. Lane, street car motorman, when he resisted a holdup. The two were caught several days after the alleged murder.

SHIFT IN HOSPITAL FUND BASIS URGED

Report Asks Reimbursement Be Fixed by Actual Cost of Patients.

Hospitals which are members of the Community Chest should be reimbursed for their community service on the basis of the actual cost of patients for which the community is responsible instead of on the present basis of making up the hospital's deficit, according to the final section of the health and hospital survey of the District completed yesterday by the health committee of the Washington Council of Social Agencies.

This survey was made by the American Public Health Association. A summary will be given by Dr. W. A. White, superintendent of St. Elizabeths Hospital, at a luncheon meeting Monday at the Y. W. C. A.

The survey recommends that hospitals be urged to pay proper attention to the collection of accounts and to take advantage of the various methods of prepayments for service in certain instances, such as the maternity service, and the deferred plan that is proving helpful and successful in several medical centers.

Some of the other recommendations made in the report are that hospitals be encouraged to meet the requirements for approval by the Council of Medical Education and Hospitals for intern and resident training, that the period of intern training be lengthened with two months in a division as a minimum, that there be one or more full-time resident physicians in hospitals with four or more interns and that X-ray methods be improved.

Woman Overcome By Smoke.

Mrs. Alice B. Daut was overcome by smoke yesterday when a short circuit caused a fire in the living room of her home at 66 New York avenue northeast. After receiving hospital treatment, she returned to the house. Damage was estimated at $200, chiefly to the furniture.

OUTSIDE PLAYERS HAVE PRIZE CHANCE

Contestants Limited Only to 25-Mile Radius of Capital City.

In case a team or a pair, one or more of whose members lives outside of Washington, has top score in one of the events of the bridge tournament, will they be entitled to receive the trophy?

The answer is yes, provided they live within a radius of 25 miles of Washington. One of the conditions of entry, stipulated at the time announcement of the first annual bridge tournament of Washington players was made in The Post, was that persons living in Washington, or within 25 miles of the city were eligible to become participants. The purpose was to invite all bridge fans within the metropolitan area of the National Capital. Thus far entrants have adhered to the rule, although inquiries have been made as to whether or not players living in Baltimore would be qualified. Such would-be entrants have been advised of the 25-mile radius limitation.

Suburbs Are Well Represented.

The suburban districts, however, are well represented in the lists, Chevy Chase, Md., Bethesda, Silver Spring, Takoma Park, Alexandria, Arlington, Fairfax and other nearby localities having caught the enthusiasm of the enterprise and forwarded their application with the firm determination of doing their best to capture one or more of the prizes. In fact, some of the suburbanites living in the fashionable sections surrounding Washington express great confidence of demonstrating their ability over the city players.

In answer to numerous inquiries regarding the hours during which the various sessions will be held, the committee on arrangements announces that the schedule will call for starting the afternoon games on each day, Thursday, Friday and Saturday, promptly at 2:30 o'clock, and the evening games promptly at 8:30 o'clock. Players, however, are requested to report at 2 o'clock in the afternoon and at 8 o'clock in the evening, as a few minutes will be required for seating, and at each session, the manager of the tournament will occupy 10 to 15 minutes in explaining the method of the duplicate play, the position of the boards and the movement of the players and the boards from one table to another after the hands are played.

Directions also will be given with respect to the use of the scoring cards to expedite the compiling of the records after each hand is played. Charts and cards giving the assignment of tables and the position the players are to take, whether as North and South or East and West pairs, also will be provided to aid in showing the order of prodcedure. Even those who have never before taken part in touranment plays will find it easy to fall into the corerct method to be followed.

Punctuality Is Essential.

Participants are urged to be punctual in attendance in order that unnecessary delays may be avoided. Each session will last for approximately three hours after the playing actually starts, and each contestant in an event will play exactly as many hands as every other player. Pairs will play together at all times whether in the team or in the pair contests. Four persons constituting a team, however, will not play together; that is, at the same table. While a North and South pair of a given team is playing at one table, their teammates will be playing as an East and West pair with the North and South pair of another team, and the series of plays will continue until they have played with the opposite of each and every other team. There would be no competition as between teams if the two pairs of a team played only each other.

Remember the dates, May 14, 15 and 16, and file your application without further delay. The place is the new Shoreham Hotel.

KING OF SIAM TURNS TO CARES OF STATE

Westchester Estate Serves as Summer Capital of Orient.

Purchase, N. Y., April 23 (A.P.).—King Prajadhipok of Siam concerned himself today, the first since he completed a 12,000-mile journey from his Oriental monarchy, with affairs of state.

Ophir Hall, the palatial Westchester estate that is the official residence of the king and his consort while in the United States, has for many practical purposes become the summer capital of the country on the other side of the earth by the China Sea.

The king conferred with members of the household cabinet, which includes his father-in-law, Prince Svasti; his cousin, Prince Chirasakti; Phra Noraraj, the royal chamberlain of the household, and Prince Amoradat Kridikara, Minister to Washington. The absolute monarch of 11,500,000 subjects, the king was in close touch with Bangkok, capital of Siam, by radio and cable communication.

Fond of both golf and tennis, for which the estate affords fine facilities, the king was prevented from playing either by showers, and he and the Queen Rambai Barni spent the day in leisurely fashion.

A heavy guard of police patrolled the estate to assure the rulers from the East protection from any disturbance.

In preparation for the operation on the king's eyes, which is the purpose of his visit to this country, a bathroom in the gray manor house has been equipped for that purpose. Dr. John M. Wheeler, of the Presbyterian Hospital, will perform the operation—removal of a cataract from one eye.

New York Lawyer Ends Life.

Special to The Washington Post.

Charlottesville, Va., April 23.—The age-long struggle between the English crown and Parliament has to a large extent been duplicated in a like struggle between the executive and legislative heads of the American republic, declared George Wharton Pepper, former United States senator from Pennsylvania, in addressing a capacity audience at the University of Virginia on "Family Quarrels: The President, the Senate, the House."

In dealing with the three types of quarrels, he said, the Senate should use its treaty power cooperatively with that of the President; it should act with bold independence in regard to investigations, and, when rejecting nominations, should act subordinately to the President.

The old doctrine of senatorial courtesy which used to be an effective argument against a personally obnoxious nominee has been outlived, he declared, adding that it now is dangerous to give the Senate the right of rejection on the mere statement that the person in question is obnoxious, if anything of legislative or judicial dignity is to be upheld. The President must have a free hand, he asserted, in sending men of his choice to the Senate for confirmation.

Senator Pepper cited the case of the nomination of Charles Evans Hughes to be Chief Justice of the Supreme Court as showing the Senate at its worst. There seemed no justification whatever for the opposition encountered, he asserted.

NATIONAL RUM-RING PROBE IS UNDER WAY

U. S. Jurors at Baltimore Are Investigating Wide Liquor Operations.

Baltimore, April 23 (A.P.).—An alleged country-wide bootlegging ring formed for the manufacture and sale of alcohol is to be investigated by the Federal grand jury here, Simon E. Sobeloff, district attorney, announced today.

He said he would request Judge William C. Coleman to have the grand jury sit daily starting May 4.

Government investigators have been working on the case for more than a year, and approximately 125 persons, 38 from Baltimore, are involved, the district attorney said.

Kansas City, New York, Philadelphia, Brooklyn and New Jersey cities apparently were used as bases of operations, with Baltimore the distribution center, officers said.

The investigation started in December, 1929, when three large stills and a cutting plant were raided here.

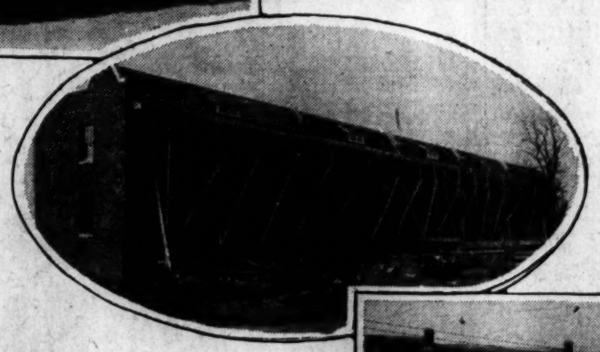
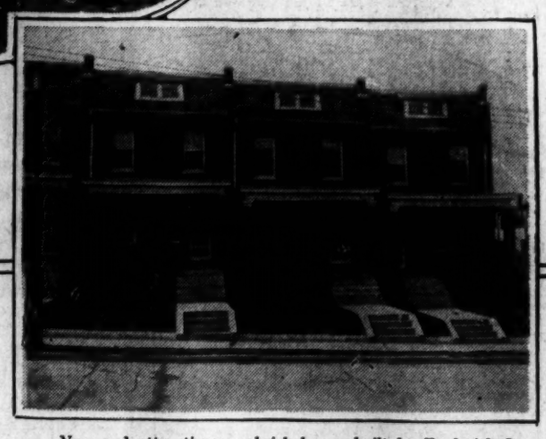
WASHINGTON CAN BE PROUD OF ITS Home builders

This English type home for sale by W. C. & A. N. Miller at 4315 Hawthorne St. N. W., in Wesley Heights, is representative of hundreds of homes which have been and are being built with Bryant Gas Heat in this beautiful section of suburban Washington.



Workmen are just completing 20 up-to-date gas heated Flats at 1650-58 West Virginia Ave. N. E., the first unit of 100 Apartments planned by the Cafritz Construction Co. in the Northeast section. They are soon to be opened for inspection.

BRYANT GAS HEATING



New and attractive row brick homes built by Frederick B. Mills at 711-05 Ingraham St. N. W.; two of which remain to be sold. These homes also have the advantages of Automatic Gas Heat.

Situated as we are, we are in a position to know how the large builders of homes analyze, investigate, test materials and appliances before buying for their houses.

Take the heating plants, for example. We know that Bryant Automatic Gas Heating Plants are more efficient than heating plants which burn any other fuel because our tests show this to be true.

But the builders want to know for themselves. They have compared Bryants with every other known heating plant and heating method, they have analyzed materials used, they have conducted exhaustive comparative tests and checked up on users' records. They know the demands put on building equipment, and they have gone out to get the best.

With what result? The very builders who have made the most careful tests have been the most enthusiastic in adopting and standardizing on Bryant Automatic Gas Heating. They are literally building life-time comfort, cleanliness and value into their homes. Such homes make good investments and such builders make good men for home buyers to deal with.

HOW IT BEGAN

By Russ Murphy and Ray Sernusky

TUMBLER
IN THE DAYS OF KING ALFRED WINE GLASSES WERE MADE WITH ROUND BOTTOMS SO THEY COULD NOT BE PUT DOWN WITHOUT SPILLING THEIR CONTENTS. THAT WAS TO MAKE SURE EVERYONE DRANK HIS PORTION. NOWADAYS WE PUT FLAT BASES SO THE GLASSES WILL STAND UP, BUT WE STILL CALL THEM TUMBLERS
TABBY CATS
IN THE DAYS OF GOOD QUEEN BESS, A BEAUTIFUL BLACK AND WHITE SILKY CLOTH MADE AT ATTABIEH NEAR BAGDAD WAS VERY POPULAR IN ENGLAND. IT WAS CALLED "TABBI SILK" AND WAS SO LIKE A CAT'S FUR THAT CATS WERE THEREAFTER CALLED "TABBY."
AXE AND HELVE
WHEN A LUSTY WOODSMAN BROKE HIS AXE-HANDLE OR HELVE, HE WOULD SOMETIMES IN A FIT OF ANGER OR DISGUST THROW AWAY THE AXE-HEAD TOO. SO "SEND THE AXE AFTER THE HELVE" MEANS TO HAVE DONE WITH THE AFFAIR.

TO MAKE BABY GROW TALL.

THE advantages of having plenty of vitamin B complex in the diet are of several kinds, some on the positive and some on the negative side. Dr. S. R. Hoobler finds that when babies are given a powder composed of two parts dried extract of wheat germ and one part dried watery extract of yeast, in addition to ordinary foods, they grow rapidly in height or length, whichever you choose to call it. It would seem that if a mother wants her baby to grow tall she should add these articles to her diet, or give him other foods equivalent in this vitamin.

These babies did not increase in weight any faster than other babies. Their gain was in stature. In addition Dr. Hoobler found that babies who had a tendency to rigidity lost that tendency as a rule when they had this diet. This rigidity, something of a nervous tension, but far short of the level at which convulsions appear, is prone to develop in babies that are not getting as much of this vitamin complex as they need.

This observation by Dr. Hoobler raises the question as to the advisability of giving yeast and wheat germ or their extracts to babies who have convulsions frequently — those with marked spasmophilic tendencies.

Referring to the good effects of vitamin B complex foods in rigidity carries us over into the negative group alluded to above. When people are fed for a long time on diets poor in one of the vitamin B group they develop pellagra. If they are switched to foods rich in this vitamin they escape. Such foods are yeast and yeast extracts, wheat germ or its extracts, lean meat, salmon, peas and beans.

When people are fed for a long time diets that are poor in another part of this vitamin they develop beriberi. When they are switched to a diet rich in this vitamin they escape it. There are conditions akin to beriberi and pellagra, but much milder, which are due to moderate deficiency of diets in this vitamin.

They are forms of neuritis, various neuralgic pains, some so-called rheumatic complaints, constipation, and various minor skin disorders. These get well when the amount of vitamin B complex in their diets is increased. When people take cod liver oil or viosterol without increasing their intake of vitamin B complex foods they sometimes develop mild evidence of vitamin B complex starvation. This is remedied by adding more of these foods to the dietary.

And, finally, when prospective mothers and lactating mothers get plenty of these foods they nourish their babies well and the babies are apt to be vigorous and to thrive.

JONES TO FACE WALBERG AS NATS-MACKS RESUME

Boxers Each Risk Title Tonight

Lightweight Crown Is Chief Prize; Advance Sale Lags.

CHICAGO, April 23 (A.P.).—Two championships or none at all! That is the ambition of Tony Canzoneri, the gamecock lightweight champion of the world, and Jack (Kid) Berg, Great Britain's fistic pride and holder of the world junior welterweight title. Their ambitions will be realized, one way or the other, when they toss their respective boxing crowns into the Chicago Stadium ring tomorrow night.

Canzoneri's lightweight championship will be at stake and so will Berg's title, a minor championship, recognized by the National Boxing Association. The titles will be involved as both warriors will be under the lightweight division limit of 135 pounds. Canzoneri scaled 132 pounds today after going through a brisk warming-up workout, while Berg tipped the beam at 135. The British fistic ambassador says he will make 135 pounds easily when they officially weigh in at 2 o'clock tomorrow afternoon.

The battle promises to be the most exciting lightweight championship encounter since the days of Benny Leonard, but the attendance may prove disappointing.

Advance Sale Disappoints.

With prices ranging from $2 to $10.80, the bout, with a sellout, would have grossed a gate of $136,000. The advance sale, however, failed to come up to expectations and the gate may not gross more than $65,000 and may fall short of that figure unless there is a last-minute rush toward the box office.

The challenger remained a 7 to 5 favorite to win, with little or no Canzoneri money in sight. Ring observers believe Berg will beat Canzoneri and carry the lightweight title back to England.

Berg made the weight without difficulty, he is in superb condition and his ability to set and maintain a terrific pace, is expected to carry him to victory if the bout goes the limit. Canzoneri figures he will win within five rounds by a knockout.

Berg said he had no trouble in defeating Canzoneri in their battle in New York before the champion won his title, and figures he can repeat. Canzoneri will go into the fight under a slight handicap as he received a small cut over the right eye in his final workout with the gloves yesterday. This wound, if opened up, may prove troublesome.

William-Mary Track Team in Easy Victory

Special to The Washington Post.

Williamsburg, Va., April 23.—By taking first place in every event but one, William and Mary's cinder artists snowed the University of Richmond track team under a 109 to 17 score here today.

The Indians scored one two three in the hundred, half, discus, pole vault, high jump and javelin events.

Wink Johnson, with ten points, took high point honors, winning both the mile and half mile events. Vial, University of Richmond quarter miler, by a sprint on the back stretch, managed to nose out Clark, of William and Mary, for the Spiders' only first place.

A high wind blowing in the face of the runners in all events but the hundred kept the time comparatively slow.

Berlinger Favorite; Record Menaced by Penn Quartet.

By HENRY McLEMORE.

PHILADELPHIA, April 23 (U.P.).—An army of nearly 3,000 college and high school athletes from all parts of these United States was camped in this good city today awaiting the running of the thirty-seventh annual Penn relays here tomorrow and Saturday.

It was a trifle cold and a bit blustery today and few of the athletes ventured forth from their hotels for warming-up exercises. Fair and warmer is the weather prediction for tomorrow, but, hot or cold, wet or dry, the 3,000 will be out in full force to convert Franklin Field into something more elaborate than a three-ring circus.

The field, by the way, is dressed to kill. Whitewash lines run here and there; hurdles have been repainted in bright colors; rings have been roped off for the weight throwers, and there is considerable amount of bunting fluttering in the breeze, or breezes.

37 Events Scheduled For First Day.

No less than 95 events will be contested during the two-day stand, tractions on tomorrow's program are the decathlon, intercollegiate quarter-mile relay, intercollegiate distance medley relay, intercollegiate spring medley relay, interscholastic quarter-mile relay and the intercollegiate 120-yard high hurdlees.

Barney Berlinger, Pennsylvania's "one-man track team," is a decided favorite to win the decathlon title for the third successive year. Berlinger will shoot for "Jarring Jim" Bausch's decathlon total of 7,846 points made in the Kansas relays. Bausch made his points in two days; Berlinger and the other entries will step through the competition in one day which makes it much more difficult.

In the distance medley, consisting of 440, 880, three-quarter and mile legs, in that order, Penn is almost certain to smash the record. The Quakers won a year ago in 10:20 1-5, just a fraction behind the mark established by Yale in 1915. They could easily have bettered the record had Billy McKniff, anchor man, chosen to run it out to the tape.

High Hurdle Race Draws 40 Entries.

The 3,000-meter steeplechase, in which Joe McCluskey, of Fordham, is favored to defeat C. Chamberlain, of Michigan State, interstate collegiate cross-country champion, is certain to provide the opening day with humor.

The running hop, step and jump, always an intriguing feature, will close tomorrow's program.

Amateur Shoot Entries Now Being Accepted

Subscription cards for the first District amateur championship shoot are being received by E. G. Fawsett, vice president of the Washington Gun Club, at his office. It is imperative that all members who intend to enter submit their cards at once in order that the program may be completed.

INDIANS WIN, 8-2, BEHIND FERRELL

COMISKEY PARK, Chicago, April 23 (A.P.).—Wesley Ferrell won his third game of the season here this afternoon, limiting the White Sox to five hits, as Cleveland won the second game of the series, 8 to 2. Ferrell gave but one scratch hit in the first five frames, but eased up when his mates gave him a lead to work on.

Fonseca and Hodapp, with three hits apiece, led the Indian attack on Braxton and Moore. The first scores came in the third when Burnett singled, Fonseca tripled and Hodapp singled. The winning run came in the next inning when Sewell got a two-bagger and scored on Burnett's single.

Hartig Resigns as Pro At Army-Navy Club

Frank Hartig, golf professional at the Army-Navy Country Club, has notified that organization that he will leave his post on May 31 to accept a similar position with the Saranac Inn Country Club at Saranac, N. Y. Efforts are being made, it is reported, to induce Hartig to remain at the local club.

The Saranac Inn Country Club has a four-month season, May to October. The management also operates two hotels in Florida and Hartig hopes to gain a winter berth in the South.

Hartig is the only American golf professional who holds the coveted Victoria Cross, the British government having made the award in recognition of heroism while he was an American officer serving in the British sector in Flanders during the World War.

Stanford-Dartmouth May Play at Princeton

Princeton, N. J., April 22 (A.P.).—Use of Palmer Stadium at Princeton for the Stanford-Dartmouth football game November 28 was suggested in an editorial published by the Daily Princetonian today.

Mentioning the refusal of Mayor Curley of Boston to permit the use of Harvard stadium for the game, the editorial continues:

"If no more suitable location presents itself, it seems to us that a move on the part of the Princeton Athletic Association, offering to put the Palmer Stadium at the disposal of Stanford and Dartmouth would be a most considerable courtesy."

On November 28 Princeton and Yale play at New Haven.

TECHVICTOR; RUSSELL SHINES

Stars on Mound and at Bat as Wash.-Lee Bows, 13-8.

GIVEN a big early lead, Everett Russell, Tech High School right hander, handily pitched his team to victory over Washington-Lee High, of Ballston, Va., yesterday by a score of 13 to 8. Tech took the lead, never to be headed, by scoring once in the first inning and then locked up the decision in the second frame with an attack that yielded seven runs.

Russell was touched for eleven safe hits but he scattered them pretty well until the ninth when his foes bunched blows for five runs. Besides striking out twelve Washington-Lee batters, Russell figured prominently in the Tech offense with a double and home run. Levy, with a homer and two singles, and Benner with a triple and two singles also starred at bat for the winners. Batson, pinch hitting for Crenshaw, of Tech, in the eighth, got the third Tech four-base hit of the game.

DETROIT, April 23 (A.P.).—Tom Bridges, rookie Detroit pitcher, and Walter Stewart, ace of the St. Louis Browns' pitching staff, gave a demonstration of fine hurling today, as the Tigers won the season's opener at Navin Field by 1 to 0.

In the fourth inning Charlie Gehringer doubled and raced home on Alexander's single for the only score of the game. Kress, who collected three of St. Louis' four hits off Bridges, doubled with one out in the ninth, but Schulte and Jenkins popped out.

New Haven, Conn., April 23.—St. John's College, of Annapolis, intercollegiate lacrosse champions, today blanked Yale, 6 to 0, on a muddy field and in a light drizzle. The teams had not met in three years. The visitors excelled in stick handling and consistently worked the ball down the field by short passes. All the goals were driven into the Eli netting on shots directly in front of the cage.

Capt. Bobby Pool at all times headed the victors' attack and shot three of the six goals. A. Ziegler, A. Lynch and Haff each shot a goal into the Yale netting. The defense of the visitors was extremely tight and the Yale attack made little impression upon it. Beggs featured the Yale advance, Fields and Flygare played well on the defense and Draper stemmed the persistent scoring attacks effectively. He was bombarded from start to finish. The visitors scored three goals in each playing period.

Today's victory was St. John's sixth of the season. Only two goals have been scored against that team this spring. Today's defeat was Yale's second of the season. It has won four games.

Spring Training No Publicity Stunt, Chuck Klein Insists

By EDWARD J. NEIL
(Associated Press Sports Writer).

NEW YORK, April 23 (A.P.).—Any one harboring the impression that this major league spring training is just a junket, designed to catch the public eye and start the publicity ball rolling early, can start a large argument with Chuck Klein, the husky young steel mill graduate, who hits home runs for the Phillies.

Chuck is in shape for arguments. He spent the spring training period lolling about Indianapolis, conducting a long-distance wage dispute with the proprietors of the Philadelphia Nationals, without even appearing in camp. The training season and the wage war ended simultaneously.

Hafey Is Due Suspension Today

Grace Period Expires; Asks $13,500, Is Offered $12,500.

Fans Are Anxious for Return But Believe Wage Sufficient.

ST. LOUIS, Mo., April 23 (A.P.).—The ten-day grace period in which Chick Hafey, hard-hitting Cardinal outfielder, may don a Cardinal uniform expires tomorrow and his automatic suspension will follow. Holdout Hafey and his baseball club are only $1,000 apart in their terms. President Sam Breadon has offered the outfielder $12,500 and Chick has asked $13,500. All trade deals are off, President Breadon said.

Hafey's whereabouts were unknown in the Cardinal camp tonight and the last parley between the player and his club was made at long range some time ago when he was in California.

St. Louis fans and the Red Birds themselves are anxious for his return. His powerful and timely blows have proved important factors for the success of the Red Birds ever since they started their pennant winning ways.

The fans feel that a $3,500 raise in salary, as incorporated in the $12,500 offer of the Cardinal management, is a substantial increase, especially coming from a club which offered him a good prospect of sharing in a world series bonus.

May Reach Terms After Suspension.

However, neither the Cardinals nor Hafey are probably losing much sleep over the failure to come to terms. If Hafey were suspended, he and his club could still get together after the grace period and, with the consent of the commissioner, come to terms. In that event Hafey would probably lose the amount of salary equivalent to the time he had held out and the period needed to get into condition.

If no agreement is reached Hafey will be suspended until the club engineers a trade or disposes of him otherwise. There have been instances where valuable players have been left to "rot," but such a course is not in prospect in the case of Holdout Chick.

Derby Eligibles Fail In Lexington Races

Lexington, Ky., April 23 A.P.).—While patrons of Eastern tracks have watched three prominent Kentucky Derby eligibles canter home in front, Kentuckians have witnessed candidates racing here finish in the ruck. It may be a different story Saturday, however, when the $3,000 Camden Handicap is run.

Equipoise, Payne Whitney's Anchors Aweigh and Surfboard, highly regarded as contenders for the Derby at Churchill Downs May 16, have won this year on Eastern tracks. Another Derby eligible, Ladder, also has won in the East.

66 by Diana Fishwick Sets British Links Mark

London, April 23 (A.P.).—A record score of 66, made by Diana Fishwick over the little Ranelagh Club course in the British international team matches among England, Scotland, Ireland and Wales, is expected to stand a long time.

Although Miss Fishwick returned from the United States without a major conquest to her credit her American tour very evidently has helped her game. She took lessons from Johnny Farrell and other well-known American professionals while playing in Florida last winter.

Her 66 yesterday was eight strokes better than the second best score, that of Enid Wilson. Miss Wilson and Molly Gourlay are expected to be Miss Fishwick's most formidable opponents in the British women's championship at Port Marnock, Ireland, June 8 to 12.

Peteson, Cue Expert, To Show Wares Here

Charles C. Peterson, of St. Louis, who is billed as the world champion trick shot expert, has been scheduled for an appearance at the Lewis & Krauss billiard parlors, of this city, on April 24.

Peterson was formerly the traveling partner of Willie Hoppe, 18.2 balkline champion. He left Hoppe, however, about a year ago, and since has devoted his time to mastering some new and difficult shots.

Postponement Seen Boon To Macks' Mound Staff; Spurns Twin Bill Today

Johnson Sought to Play 2 Games But Mack Refuses.

Grove Now Able to Work Second Time in Series.

By FRANK H. YOUNG
(Post Staff Correspondent.)

PHILADELPHIA, April 23.—Unannounced, but effective, Jack Frost joined the relief corps of the Athletics this afternoon in the form of a sweeping, chilly wind off the shores of the Schuylkill and the Delaware and gave the harassed pitching staff of Mr. Mack's merry men surcease from its labors for the day. It was a great break for the champions when their game with the Nats was postponed. The two clubs meet today in the second game of their current series.

Because there is no Sunday baseball played here, the American League rule prohibiting double-headers on a team's first visit has been waived in Philadelphia and Manager Walter Johnson, of the Nationals, was most anxious to play two games tomorrow after Connie Mack announced this morning that today's scheduled contest would not be played.

"If we could have gotten Mack to stage a double-header tomorrow, we would just about temporarily have ruined his pitching staff," said Johnson tonight, "for he has only shown two good pitchers this season. Grove already is out of the way because he took his turn yesterday and Mack either would have had to use Walberg and Earnshaw tomorrow or use a rookie in one of the games. I guess he saw things in this way, too, for he has put off playing the twin bill until July 13, by which time he hopes to have his mound staff in better shape."

Not only would two games tomorrow have played havoc with the two-man Mackian staff, but they would have come in nicely for the Nats, as Johnson has several pitchers ready and he would have been glad of the opportunity of starting two. "Sad Sam" Jones, scheduled to have pitched today, will be held over until tomorrow, probably facing George (Rube) Walberg. Lloyd Brown needs plenty of work to keep him on edge and he will have to wait over until Saturday, by which time Grove will be ready to work again.

3 Other Pitchers Need Work.

This still leaves Fred Marberry, Irving Hadley, who went less than a frame yesterday, and "General" Alvin Crowder, these completing the Nats' "big five." Crowder is not quite ready, but he showed a big improvement between his first and second starts and Johnson figures that, irrespective of results, he must keep this quintet working in rotation until all get going. And when this time arrives, he is confident that his team will make up for any lost games resulting from whipping his mound men in shape.

Johnson this morning had nothing but praise for the work of Carl Fischer and Wally Tauscher, his two relief moundsmen in yesterday's game. This pair held the slugging world's champions to three hits in eight and two-thirds innings, which is quite a stunt. Fischer came in for particular praise from his boss.

"Yesterday was the first time since he has been with us that Carl showed signs of using his head and benefiting from what Coach Patsy Gharrity has been teaching him. He has always had a good fast one, but it was not speedy enough for him to get by on it alone. He's been working on a curve, while in the bull pen and has developed a fair one, but what caught my eye was the manner in which he used it. He showed that he was out there thinking, keeping it low and inside where it was difficult to hit and frequently used it as a change of pace. I'd almost given upon Carl at one time, but it looks as if he's going to be quite a pitcher for us if he uses the same kind of good judgment whenever he's called on."

Swinging Bat Painful To West.

Outfielder Sam West is still resting his ailing arm and will continue to do so for sometime. He can throw as well as ever now, he states, but finds that it is swinging a bat which does him harm, as the twist necessary seems to tangle up one of his muscles with the growth in the elbow crease of his forearm. It is the player's opinion that this growth, rather than a floating piece of chipped bone in his elbow joint, is what is causing him trouble.

If no improvement is shown following the rest cure West is now taking, an immediate operation will be made. Both Sam and the club, however, are anxious to avoid him taking the ether until after the season ends, if possible.

Coach Al Schacht hustled to his home in New York for a short visit just as soon as today's game was called off. He will be back on the job tomorrow.

Choices Best in First Two Races; Fervid Wins at 6 to 1.

By J. B. SNODGRASS.

Special to The Washington Post.

HAVRE DE GRACE, Md., April 23. Con Amore, 4-year-old bay daughter of High Cloud—Billet-doux, racing the silks of Bill Martin, of Baltimore, failed to run like a 3-to-5 shot in The Modest, the day's mile and 70 yards feature, as she only won by a nose from S. W. Labrot's Rocket Glare.

Albert Robertson, who rang up his twelfth victory of the meeting by driving Con Ameore home, sent her to the lead at the rise of the barrier, but she could never get far away from Rocket Glare.

When they hooked up in the home stretch Con Amore was three-quarters of a length in advance of Rocket Glare. The latter started creeping up foot by foot, but Robertson managed to outride Pegg in the closing strides to win by a nose. Third money went to the Middleburg Stable's Sunny Lassie, candidate for both the Preakness and Kentucky Derby.

Illium Never Headed In Opener.

The brown son of Buchan-Tracedes, raced the distance over a slow track in 1:47 2-5 to pay $3.30. Trailing Ilium to the wire came the Mapleton Stud's Tancred, with L. E. Keiffer's Miss Madelyn third.

Ellis broke Ilium on top and at no stage of the race asked the Kentucky Derby and Preakness eligible for his best. It was his first winning effort, but race fans can expect him to show vastly better form from now on.

Marcasite Just Lasts To Capture Second.

The Middleburg Stable's Marcasite, paying $4.40, made it a double for form players, as well as Trainer Clyde Phillips and Jockey George Ellis, by racing four and one-half furlongs in 0::55 1-5 to win the second.

Ellis took the filly on top soon after the rise of the barrier and she led her fourteen opponents a merry chase until the wire. However, she just lasted to stall off Dolly's Baby's stretch run. Third money went to Escoba Land.

Little Gyp Gallops Home in Third.

Little Gyp, 6-year-old chestnut daughter of Captain Alcock—Gypsy Gold, proved the easiest sort of winner in the 6 furlongs of the third. J. D. Ferguson's mare was restrained off the fast early pace made by Supreme Sweet and Hacky H until straightened out in the home lane, where D. Meade let her down. She soon bounded to the lead to be home an easy winner over Hacky H, with Scatter third.

There was a powerful tip out on Sublevado and the horse was backed from 20 to 5 to 1 at post time, but he was given an easy ride. He has worked fast and can do much better than he showed today.

Robertson Wins With Fervid at 6-1.

Albert Robertson, leading winning rider, ran his total for the meeting to thirteen when he won the fifth, a mile and 70 yards affair, with Mrs. J. M. Black's Fervid, which paid $14. Robertson kept Fervid within striking distance of Gilded Arch, the early pacemaker, until straightened out in the home lane. After a short battle with Gilded Arch, Fervid went on to an easy score. Gilded Arch outlasted Best Ace for the place. The last named had a very rough journey.

The Wisteria Stable's Fair Bill surprised by winning the mile and one-sixteenth of the sixth, to pay $19.60.

Frank Madeley kept the gelding close up until straightened out in the home lane, when he took to the outside, and, closing with a rush, won going away from Elizabeth, with Red Cliffe third. Thyman finished a fast going fourth after being held too far out of it the first three-quarters.

ROCKET GLARE moved up with a determined challenge rounding far turn, but hung when taking the lead from leader. SUNNY LASSIE easily disposed of SISTER ZOE in stretch run. TWO HORSES INJURED IN STAKE

Westy Jr., General Advance Idle as Result of Aberdeen.

Special to The Washington Post.

HAVRE DE GRACE RACE TRACK, April 23.—The nineteenth renewal of the Aberdene Stakes, run yesterday, proved disastrous to H. Teller Archibald's Westy Junior, who finished second, and the Middleburg Stable's General Advance, who was fourth.

Westy Junior bucked in the race, while Trainer Clyde Phillips stated that General Advance was badly cut down in the 4½-furlong sprint and will be on the shelf for several months.

The horses of Brick Torrell, James McGee, Al Thomas and J. W. Potter will leave Sunday for Louisville, Ky. Jockey D. Meade will accompany Potter's stable.

Jockeys W. Day and B. Hanford will leave on Sunday by motor for Chicago.

Word reaching here from Hagerstown states that more than 100 horses are already in training there for the spring meeting, which opens May 12.

There are seventeen horses on the schooling list with the adding of Noisy Miss and Stelvio.

A division of the Greentree Stable will be sent back to New York on Sunday.

Jockey C. Pegg, who was injured in an automobile accident on Sunday, is wearing a brace over his eyes while riding. This keeps the clods of dirt from reopening the wound.

J. E. Smallman registered the tenth claim of the meeting when he took Frank Fullen for $2,500.

Pipe Dream, 3-year-old chestnut son of Lucullite—Phantom, brought top price of $1,050 at the sale of horses held in the paddock at noon today. C. H. Hughes, who has a breeding farm in southern Maryland, bought the former Rancocas Stable thoroughbred.

Other horses to go under the hammer were: Rancocas Stable's Boundary, bought by J. Stanley for $500; Rancocas Stable's Center March, who went to E. Weiss for $575; B. F. Christmas' Cloudy, taken by J. B. Taylor for $240, and G. W. Foreman's Gay Stella, led away by D. Homewood for $375.

Georgetown in Penn Relays, at Philadelphia.

CAPITAL college athletes face their busiest week-end of the spring season today and tomorrow, when a total of twelve contests in five different sports are scheduled. However, as far as the fans are concerned, the current program does not hold so much attraction as all but five of the contests are to be played on foreign soil.

Locally the features are the baseball games scheduled at College Park, where Maryland today will engage Washington and Lee at 4 o'clock, and tomorrow will take on Virginia Poly in a double-header, beginning at 2:30.

Maryland Can Climb In League Race.

All of these games are included in the Tristate League schedule, and Maryland faces a chance to climb near the top in the standings. Washington and Lee fell a victim to the College Park Club at Lexington last month, but Virginia Poly, the league leader, has yet to battle Maryland.

Harry Milburn, who hurled Maryland to a 3-to-1 victory over W. and L. in the first game, probably will take the hill against the Generals again today. Tomorrow the fans will see in one of the twin attractions young Bill McIlwee, diminutive southpaw, who allowed but one hit when he pitched the College Parkers to a 10-to-1 triumph over Virginia last Tuesday.

Pittsburgh University's golf team will appear in the other two local contests. Today it encounters George Washington's team at Indian Spring Club, and tomorrow opposes Georgetown at the Manor Club.

Georgetown Trackmen At Penn Relays.

Chief interest in the out-of-town engagements centers around Georgetown's efforts in the Penn relays at Philadelphia, the Maryland-Syracuse lacrosse game at Syracuse, N. Y., and the George Washington-Duke tennis match at Durham, N. C. The relays begin today and close tomorrow.

Maryland Cub Nine Defeats Baltimoreans

The Maryland Freshmen ball tossers rang up their fourth win in as many starts when they downed Baltimore City College, 6 to 1, yesterday at College Park. Steve Physioc, former City pitcher, limited his former team to three hits and fanned seven.

Maryland did all its scoring in the four and fifth innings, in each of which it got three runs. City's lone marker came in the eighth on a clout by Johnson that took a bad hop by Benner, Maryland left fielder, for a home run.

A PYTHON CAN SWALLOW AND DIGEST A LARGE DEER ANTLERS AND ALL ...
SUGGESTED BY ALFRED GROEN

THE tiny copy of the "Rubaiyat of Omar Khayyam" is the most unusual book in the Cleveland Public Library, and is worth more than numerous libraries that carry thousands of volumes on their shelves. To the naked eye, the diminutive pages of the book, appear to be nothing but a gray mass, but when put under a strong microscope, and magnified several hundred times, these gray masses reveal the clear cut lines of the famous poem.

Clever engravers, displaying almost superhuman skill and patience, worked under powerful lenses with the most delicate of tools, etching each individual letter. As an engraving achievement, the etching of this volume outranks the accomplishment of those engravers who etched the Lord's prayer on the head of a common pin, because each letter had to be perfectly cut in order to insure perfect printing.

Serpents devour such large animals as deer, and usually swallow them hind-part first. Cases are known of pythons swallowing a buck deer when the horns protrude through the reptile's skin after it has passed into the digestive organs. However, the python soon digests the whole deer, including the horns.

Washington-Lee Cubs Beat Danville Cadets

Lexington, Va., April 23.—Few spectators braved a frigid windstorm this afternoon to watch the Washington-Lee Freshmen defeat Danville Military Institute, 8 to 4, in the first game of a two-day engagement here this afternoon.

"Lefty" Sauerbrum, Little General hurler, pitched masterful ball until the eighth, allowing but one hit—a double by W. Wentz in the seventh. Three hits, a base on balls, two errors, and Danville garnered four runs in their half of the eighth.

Washington and Lee scored five runs in the seventh on four hits, two passes and an infield error. The Little Generals ran riot on the bags, pilfering eleven bases.

Tom Mangan Extends Hall in Net Tourney

White Sulphur Springs, W. Va., April 23 (A.P.).—Competition in the men's Mason-Dixon championship tennis tournament advanced to the semifinals today, with George M. Lott, Philadelphia; Dr. J. A. Wright, Montreal; Clifford S. Sutter, New Orleans, and J. Gilbert Hall, South Orange, N. J., surviving.

Hall found a stanch foeman in Thomas J. Mangan, Washington, and was obliged to go at top speed to win, 8—6, 6—4.

Mrs. Thomas J. Mangan, Miss Virginia Rice, Mrs. John Van Ryn and Mrs. P. B. Hawk, all of New York City, were the winners in the women's singles and will play their semifinals tomorrow, with Mrs. Mangan meeting Miss Rice and Mrs. Van Ryn opposing Mrs. Hawk.

PLAYERS NEED SPRING TRAINING, SAYS KLEIN

Whereupon Chuck appeared in the Philadelphia line-up without even a warm-up and belted a pair of home runs off the pitching of Freddie Fitzsimmons, Giants' ace, the very first day.

"Humph," humphed the humphers, "that's the tip-off of spring training. Here's a guy who doesn't even go South and he gets two homers the opening day."

While the rain pelted against the lobby windows of the Phillies' hotel here today, washing out any chance there might be for a game with the Giants, Klein crossed his legs painfully in a big easy chair and sighed his relief.

"Charley horses in both legs," he said. "That's what comes of missing spring training. How I hate to move.

"Sure, I got two homers the first day, and I got another the second day off young Schumacher. But I don't know how I did it."

"You see," he said, "you may feel fine physically when you start to play ball. I never get out of shape in the winter. But you get out there racing around and the legs aren't there. The wind isn't so good. The sun beats down on you and you wilt away.

"Up there at the plate the big thing missing is the timing. My eyes are all right. I can see them coming up and I can tell the good balls from the bad ones. I know the ones I want to hit. But I can't sock 'em on the nose. It's the timing. Two hits I got yesterday. But I dragged 'em both through the infield. They didn't ring like they will later."

Thinks .400 Hitters Are Passe.

Chuck has an idea the .400 hitter has gone from baseball for the time being at least and he's glad of it, despite his own chances of getting in that class. But he doesn't base his thought on the new ball.

"Taking away that sacrifice fly when you score a man will do it," he insists. "The umpires are helping the pitchers, too. They're leaving the ball in the game longer and it gets discolored and helps the pitcher. I'm for that. It makes quicker games, better fielding, better baseball all around. And it gives every one an even chance. The new ball doesn't ride quite so far either, but if you hit it on the nose it'll still go plenty."

Suburban Bowling Sees 3 New Leaders

Three new leaders were recorded last night in the Washington Suburban Duckpin Association tournament being conducted on the Silver Spring alleys. In the class A singles, Harry Strickler trippled 416 pins to displace Irving Billheimer with his mark of 386. In the class C singles, Turner Hall edged into the leaders position by chalking up a total of 352, just twelve pins more than Norvel Viers had to his credit.

The Rosalyn Postoffice team seized first place in the class C team division when they sent the wood sprawling for a count of 1,628. The former leaders were the Raney-Snyder team, who had compiled a total of 1596 chips.

MRS. HAYNES BEATEN IN VIRGINIA

Mrs. Hill, Conqueror, Plays Helen Hicks in Golf Finals.

HOT SPRINGS, Va., April 23 (A. P.).—Miss Helen Hicks, of Hewlett, Long Island, and Mrs. Opal S. Hill, of Kansas City, won decisive victories here today which entitle them to compete in the final round of the Old Dominion women's golf championship over the Homestead course tomorrow.

Miss Hicks won from Miss Betty Dix Perkin, of England, 6 and 5, and Mrs. Hill defeated Mrs. J. Marvin Haynes, of Washington, D. C., 6 and 4.

English Girl Off Her Game.

The long-hitting Long Island girl who in two previous meetings won from Miss Perkin on the eighteenth green was in top form today, while the English visitor was not playing so well as in the earlier rounds of the tournament and failed to take advantage of some of her opportunities. Miss Hicks was out in 38, playing almost flawless golf.

Hyattsville Bows, 7-4, To Charlotte Hall

Special to The Washington Post.

Charlotte Hall Md., April 23.—Charlotte Hall School Baseball Team took advantage of wildness of Babe Anderson, Hyattsville High School pitcher, to register a 7-4 victory here this afternoon. It was the fourth loss in five starts for Hyattsville.

Charlotte Hall did all its scoring in two innings, shoving across four runs in the second on three singles, two walks and an error and adding its other three in the sixth on three passes, a single, error and passed ball.

Hyattsville did not score until the seventh when it counted one run on three errors and Headley's single. The visitors marked up their other three tallies in the eighth on a pair of walks, Glasgow's double, Miller's single and an error.

V. P. I.'S LEAD IN LEAGUE MENACED

Special to The Washington Post.

CHARLOTTESVILLE, Va., April 23. Virginia Polytechnic Institute's leadership in the Tristate Intercollegiate Baseball League will be challenged here tomorrow by Virginia and again the next afternoon at College Park by the Maryland nine in a double-header.

Tech's veteran team, which won the league trophy last spring and tied with Alabama for the championship of the Southern Conference, is undefeated in four games played. The Gobblers have defeated North Carolina and W. and L. and have tied two other games.

Week-End Games to Change Standing.

Contests this week-end are likely to cause considerable turnover in league standings because four teams, Maryland, North Carolina State, Virginia Military Institute and Washington and Lee, all stand even in games won and lost.

Every league member is scheduled to be in action during the next two afternoons. In addition to Tech's trip against the Cavaliers and the Old Liners, the V. M. I. Cadets will travel in the other direction for games with the Tarheels and the Wolfpack. The Generals play Maryland tomorrow afternoon before meeting Navy, not a league member, on Saturday.

Virginia's Cavaliers, champions of the league during its first campaign, continue to let one big bad inning stand in their way. Gus Tebell hopes to have his charges over this handicap before Tech arrives tomorrow. Fletcher will probably pitch.

V. P. I. Mound Staff Thought Best.

Now that Mapp is back in shape to work on the mound, the V. P. I. nine probably has the best pitching staff in the Tristate organization, besides having a combination of fast fielding veterans.

Present league standings are as follows:

	Won.	Lost.	Tied.	Pct.
V. P. I.	2	0	2	1.000
North Carolina.	3	2	2	.600
Wash. and Lee.	3	3	0	.500
N. C. State	1	1	1	.500
V. M. I.	1	1	1	.500

Episcopal Track Team Routs Washington-Lee

Episcopal High defeated Washington and Lee High, of Ballston, on the former's field, yesterday, by the wide margin of 97-16.

The high winds which prevailed throughout the meet greatly hampered the track events, but the javelin tossers, especially Brawley, the winner who set a new field mark, were benefited by the blow.

DIAMOND DUST FROM THE SANDLOTS

THE eyes of the sandlot world will be focused on the Alexandria High School diamond Saturday, when the Koontz Service Station Team, entrants in the senior section of The Post's Capital City League, face the Nation-Wide Grocers nine, starting at 3 p. m.

The latter team is entered in the Virginia section of the Capital City League. They are best remembered for the splendid showing made in the American Legion series two years ago when they copped the State title and almost reached the finals in the Eastern division of Legion play. Manager Ricker will have his full strength available for the clash Saturday, and is confident that his charges will make a strong showing against the Virginians.

The Springers Juniors Baseball Club, of Richmond, Va., would like to arrange games with strong teams in their class, to be played on a home-and-home basis. Manager Charles V. Bosher is handling the Springers' schedule. He may be addressed at 1310 North Twentieth street, Richmond, Va.

The Senator Midgets are anxious to schedule a Sunday game with some strong midget team. Teams interested may call Manager Nash at District 9159.

The Franc Jewelry Co. Seniors, which team will seek the honors of their section of the Capital City League, will hold a workout Saturday at 3 p. m. on diamond No. 4 of the Monument Grounds. Sunday the Jewelers oppose the Lionel nine at the same time on the West Ellipse. Manager Farrell requests the following players to report at both places promptly: Ready, Howard, Donaldson, Irving, Jarvis, Kinnahan, Ryan, Lynch, C. Albert, Rosenbaum brothers, Dixon, H. Albert, Trundle, Harrington and Smith.

Mickey McDonald has been assigned the task of stopping the Wonder Bread Midgets when that team plays the Columbia Midgets on the North Ellipse at 1 p. m. Sunday. Mickey shut the Breadmen out, 1-0, in a thirteen-inning game last year, and is confident of repeating his triumph in the regulation distance this time. All players are requested to be on hand at 12:30 p. m. The Wonders are contenders in the Capital City League and the Columbias are contemplating entering.

The Barr Jewelry Co. Midgets will clash with the Victory Post nine today on the East Ellipse diamond at 3:30 p. m. All Barr players are requested to call Columbia 8414. The team is in need of a capable first baseman. Any boys desiring a tryout should call the manager at Adams 7543-J.

Four teams from the leading department stores of this city have banded together and organized the Department Store League, with the opening scheduled for May 17. The stores represented are S. Kann Sons, Palais Royal, Lansburgh & Bros., and the Hecht Co.

Officials of the league are as follows: William F. Friel, president; H. G. Malone, secretary, and H. L. Darby, treasurer. The board of managers will be composed of the following men: J. Bogan, W. Ragan, P. B. Adams and H. G. Malone.

The Ross Jewelry Co. midgets will convene in special session tomorrow night at the home of Manager Lawrence, 156 Tennessee avenue northeast, at 8 o'clock. All players are requested to attend, as matters of vital importance to the club will be discussed.

All members of the Foxall A. C. are requested to report on the field at 1 p. m. Sunday for a short practice session before the game at 3 p. m. The Foxalls are particularly anxious to meet any other unlimited nine which is entered in the Capital City League. Teams interested should call Manager Joe Elliott at Cleveland 6064.

The Takoma Tigers, Capital City League champions, will practice today and tomorrow on the field at Silver Spring for their game Sunday with St. Mary's Celtics of Alexandria, in the Virginians' ballwick. The Tigers will be considerably strengthened by the addition of two catching prospects, Eddinger and Hogarth, a pair of classy receivers, who swing mean bludgeons. Last year the Takoma crew played the Celtics and finished on the short end of an 8-6 score, but this time the Marylanders are predicting a reversal of situation, and there is no doubt but that the game will be hotly contested.

The following members of the Wonder Boys Insect team are requested to report for practice on the Phoenix Field Saturday at noon: Koontz, Galeano, Boyle, Lacey, Wyche, Blackwell, Lovelace, Best, Appold, Perry, Eaton, Bell, Keoan, Stein, Poston, Maloney and Clark. The Wonders are polishing up their attack for Capital City League competition.

The Rambler A. C. will hold its final drill in preparation for Sunday's contest with the Bolling Field A. C., on diamond No. 2 of the Monument Grounds, Friday at 5:30 p. m. All players are requested to report promptly.

The Dixie Pigs, which team is a strong favorite to cop the Capital City League title, will oppose the Fort Washington nine on the Berwyn Field Sunday at 2:30 p. m. All of the barbecue players are requested to report on the grounds at 1:30 p. m.

The Columbia Heights A. C., entrants in the District section of the Capital City League, are without a game for Sunday and would like to book a strong opponent. Manager Edwards may be reached by addressing the sandlot editor of The Post.

Rough Water Hinders Crews at Annapolis

Annapolis, Md., April 23.—Navy and Massachusetts Institute of Technology varsity, Jayvee and 150-pound crews waiting for their annual regatta here Saturday afternoon did little more than loaf again today. The most terrific wind storm of the spring season lashed the river but College Creek was navigable for the crews for short spurts.

The first race Saturday, that between the light weights will begin at 3 o'clock, weather permitting. The Jayvee and varsity brushes will follow at half hour intervals. The course will be patrolled under the charge of Charles S. Walsh, the plebe coach.

STOCK PRICES CLOSE WITH SLIGHT GAINS

New York, April 23 (A.P.).—The stock market managed to sell itself a rally today, but not until a good bit of liquidation had been absorbed. It was the most active session since February and one of the most erratic. Volume jumped to 3,800,000 shares.

Closing prices showed a majority of small net gains among leading stocks, the advance in the 90-issue composite, which early in the afternoon had been at a new 1931 low, amounting to half a point. There were two rallies, one in the first hour, the second in the last. Between those intervals the market was decidedly weak, with virtually every important tsock making a new minimum for the decline, for the year, or for several years.

The early advance pulled prices up a point or two and the ensuing decline sent them 1 to 5 under the Wednesday close. New York Central, U. S. Steel, Fox Film, American Telephone, Southern Pacific, General Motors and Baltimore & Ohio dipped sharply, and the market seemed at last to be approaching the selling climax which brokerage house statisticians had been looking for. At times the ticker got three or four minutes in arrears.

Just as sellers were pausing for breath General Motors Corporation made public its first-quarter earnings statement, showing 61 cents a share against 57 cents in the three months of 1930, and this comparatively good return appeared to have some influence on the covering that went forward in the last hour. Final prices, however, were under the highs of the morning advance.

U. S. Steel, which touched 129 in the forenoon, dropped to 124⅞ and closed at 127¼, up ¾. General Motors, which had been down to 38¾, finished unchanged. American Telephone virtually recovered a 4-point break. American Can, Bethlehem, General Electric, Du Pont, New York Central, North American, Eastman Kodak and Allied Chemical were up 1 to 3.

Rails are Resistant.

With the exceptions mentioned, railroad shares were rather noticeably resistant. March earnings to date have made much pleasanter reading than for many months, which is a point for the shorts to consider, for some roads are reporting small gains in comparison with a year ago. Lehigh Valley and Lackawanna, as well as Chesapeake & Ohio, are in this group, although all three are coal carriers and their position may have been helped by increased movements by that commodity as a result of price reductions.

It was rumored early in the day that the New York Federal Reserve Bank was to reduce its rediscount rate, but the directors took no action. Stock traders are not particularly interested, for cheap money is unable to cure speculative blues. A lowering of rates might, however, have an effect on longer term funds in the interior and also would be theoretically helpful to bonds.

The investment market was worried by the performance of shares. Second grade rails led the decline. Gains also felt the effect of Wall street selling. Wheat lost ¼ to 1⅜ net, while corn futures closed about a cent lower. Cotton gave up an early advance but closed steady, almost unchanged.

Strength of Sterling Cables, reflecting the recent cut in bankers' bills here, spread to other sections of the foreign exchange list, where rates were generally firm. The French franc improved nominally.

CHICAGO GRAIN.

Chicago, April 23 (A.P.).—Many grain traders took their cue from the stock market today and all cereals went lower, with corn and oats hitting new bottom-price records. Selling pressure enlarged in the late dealings, and the close was at virtually the year's lowest level. Overseas demand for North American wheat was meager, total purchases being estimated at barely 400,000 bushels.

Wheat closed heavy, ½ cent to 1⅜ cents lower, corn ¾ to 1¼ down, oats ⅜ to ½ off, and provisions at 3 to 45 cents setback.

Aside from the bearish effects of unsteadiness of securities, wheat gave indications of declining powers and at one stage scored net gains. The combination of weak stock market and of Liverpool wheat quotations lower than expected, however, proved too much of a burden to be withstood. Neither a drop in the volume of wheat shipments from the Black Sea and from Argentina nor reports that frost damage had shown itself in strips and patches of some of the tallest jointed fields of winter wheat in Illinois, Kansas, and Dodge City could act as a counterbalance.

Renewal of dry weather complaints from sections of spring-crop territory, both American and Canadian, served at times to check wheat selling. Canadian reports said that as a rule the conditions of the seed bed was unsatisfactory.

In the American Northwest the gist of a majority of advices was that frequent rains would be essential, although seeding had made excellent progress and would be finished earlier than usual. Old May wheat touched 81⅛ cents, within half a cent of the pegged price that has been sustained by Government-sponsored operations.

Stop-loss selling of corn and oats was in evidence, especially by holders of May contracts. The near approach of May settlements rendered holders sensitive to lack of demand, with purchasers few except previous sellers collecting a profit.

Provisions went lower with hogs and cereals.

BOND PRICES SLUMP TO NEW LOW LEVELS

Government Issues Are Firm, While Foreign Obligations Show Weakness.

New York, April 23 (A.P.).—Bonds receded generally today and a series of new low prices for this year were reached.

The slump, which carried the average prices for railroad and industrial bonds and the consolidated average for those groups and public utilities to new bottom levels, was most apparent in issues of second grade standing. Dealers reported that a good many buying orders given some time ago at prices then below the market to be considered good until canceled were filled today. Trading was more active. Sales totaled $9,544,000 compared with $8,427,000 yesterday.

Firmness in United States Government loans was an outstanding feature, although sales of more of this group were of the reecnt limited proportion. The Liberty fourth 4¼s were unusually active and sales of them exceeded $500,000 par value. Most of this group have returned now to slightly less than their 1931 high levels.

Foreign obligations opened firm, but the weakness of most domestic issues gradually spread to this group, the majority of which closed lower. Dealers reported that foreign buying in this and other groups was smaller than heretofore. Uruguayan loans slumped sharply although the fiscal agents announced that the interest due May 1 on the two 6 per cent issues would be paid.

Amusement obligations broke badly in common with the stocks of such companies. General Theaters Equipment 6s touched a new low at 40 and closed with a net loss of 7½ points. Warner Brothers Pictures 6s also reached a record low at 45¼ and closed 4½ points off. Loew's 6s lost fractions. All of this group were active.

Railroad and public utility liens shared in the general decline but the majority of both groups were not under serious pressure.

Foreign capital issues floated in the United States in the first quarter of 1931 totaled $118,060,000 compared with $341,000,000 last year according to the Department of Commerce.

District Bankers to Urge Use of Documents Employed by New York Exchange.

By THOMAS M. CAHILL.

The committee on standardized forms, District of Columbia Bankers Association, at a meeting yesterday voted to include in its annual report to the association's convention at Hot Springs, Va., in June, the New York Stock Exchange "form of assignment" along with two forms of "certificate of authorization" to be used where a stock certificate offered in pledge is registered in the name of some party other than the one offering it.

Decision to include these forms in its annual report means that the committee, as indicated last week, has recommended to the association that the New York Stock Exchange form be adopted. It is understood that the Washington Stock Exchange will offer no objection to the committee's action and in the event the association approves its recommendation in June this institution probably will take similar action.

The matter was referred to the standardized forms committee and the office of the general counsel of the association in December. It arose over the stock power form adopted some years ago by the Washington Stock Exchange and now used by most member banks. It appears that stock sold and delivered accompanied by the form now in use locally is not accepted by brokers of the New York Stock Exchange as constituting "a good delivery" and creates the problem of delayed delivery. Vice President and Cashier Thomas J. Groom, Bank of Commerce & Savings, is chairman of the standardized forms committee.

File First Statements.

Washington and Georgetown Gas Light Co.'s are the first to file March statements of operation with the Public Utilities Commission. The report of the former company filed yesterday shows its net income for March amounted to $128,764.51, as compared with $56,403.15 for the month a year ago. Net income for the three months of 1931 now totals $417,007.48, as against $271,197.33 for the corresponding period last year.

The Georgetown company's net corporate income for last month totaled $13,059.61, a decrease from $16,666.50 in March, 1930. For the three months of this year, it is $42,929.41 as contrasted with $62,801.15 for the first three months of 1930.

Kansas City Southern Gets Profits of Stock

New York, April 23 (A.P.).—Profits of $144,707 made in 1924 by L. F. Loree, chairman of the Kansas City Southern and president of the Delaware & Hudson Railroad, through purchase and sale of stock of the Missouri, Kansas, Texas Railroad, have been turned into the treasury of the Kansas City Southern, it was learned today.

Mr. Loree's transactions in 14,000 shares of Missouri, Kansas, Texas were the subject of an inquiry by the Interstate Commerce Commission in 1928. The inquiry was based on the fact that shortly after Mr. Loree bought the stock for his own account, the Kansas City Southern decided to buy the Missouri, Kansas, Texas as a part of its unsuccessful plan to merge the two roads, together with the St. Louis Southwestern.

Wall Street Briefs

General Foods Corporation and Standard Oil Co. of California today announced the pending formation of Pacific Frosted Foods, Inc., organized for the commercial development of the Birdseye quick-freezing patents in the Pacific West. Standard Oil Co. of California is interested because of its management control of the Pacific Public Service Co., which already has extensive interests in refrigeration. The company will act primarily as a coordinating unit in making the Birdseye process available to the Western perishable foods industry.

C. O. Mininger, president of Electric Auto-Lite Co., said specifications already received by the company for the balance of the second quarter will permit the company to earn the present dividend of $1.50 quarterly for the first half of 1931. He said April earnings will be approximately 30 per cent above March.

Harry Bonner, chairman of the bondholders' protective committee representing holders of Pan-American Petroleum Co. of California fifteen-year convertible 6 per cent sinking fund gold bonds, due December 15, 1940, issued a statement urging all bondholders to deposit their bonds with the committee because of the approach of the date on which interest payments are again due.

National Electric Power Co. had added to its system the Buckeye Light & Power Co., operating chiefly in Ohio.

Elisha Walker, chairman of Transamerica Corporation, and Jean Monnet, vice president of Transamerica, have been elected directors of Diamond Match Co. of Delaware.

Hanna Furnace Co., subsidiary of National Steel Corporation, will blow in the second of its two blast furnaces at Detroit on May 1. The two furnaces have an annual capacity of more than 350,000 tons of pig iron and supply the entire pig iron requirements of Great Lakes Steel Corporation, another National Steel subsidiary, at Detroit, besides producing merchant pig iron for general distribution.

Arthur G. Humphries has been reinstated as a regular member of the New York Curb Exchange, it was announced today. He was suspended last January for inability to meet his commitments.

J. D. Tew, president of the B. F. Goodrich Co., has been elected president of the Rubber Manufacturers Association, succeeding the late Samuel Woolner, jr. F. B. Davis, jr., president of the U. S. Rubber Co., was elected first vice president, and C. D. Garretson, president of Electric Hose & Rubber Co., was reelected second vice president. W. H. Lailey, president of Kelly-Springfield Tire Co., and Herbert E. Smith, vice president of U. S. Rubber Co., were elected directors, succeeding Mr. Woolner and H. L. McClaren, resigned.

W. S. Knudsen, president of Chevrolet Motor Co., announced that production is now on a full schedule of five and a half days in all nine assembly and eleven manufacturing plants in the country. Approximately 34,000 employes are on the pay roll and several plants are working both day and night shifts, Mr. Knudsen said. Although no definite estimate was obtainable, it was reported that April production will considerably exceed the month's schedule of 85,000 units.

Although the trend of trade activity in Canada during the past year has inevitably been in the direction of that followed by United States business the tendency toward depression has in many cases been considerably modified, a current survey by Standard Statistic Co. says.

The Allis-Chalmers Manufacturing Co. report for the first quarter shows net profit of $482,807, equal to more than 38 cents a share on the common stock, against $1,170,937, or 93 cents a share, in the corresponding quarter of 1930. Bookings for the first quarter this year totaled $6,450,788, against $14,661,418 for the first quarter last year. The report, however, said that each month's bookings thus far this year have shown an increase over the preceding month, February recording a 33 per cent increase over January, and March a 26 per cent increase over February; unfilled orders as of March 31 were $11,517,082, against $13,002,923 at the close of 1930.

NEW YORK COTTON.

New York, April 23 (A.P.).—An early advance in cotton on trade buying and covering was followed by a reaction under a renewal of liquidation, coupled with some commission house or local and Wall street selling, which appeared to be stimulated by the early afternoon decline in Liverpool, contracting after selling up to 10.40 early, broke to 10.29, or 3 points net lower, and closed at 10.31. The general market closed steady net 1 point higher to 2 points lower.

The opening was steady at unchanged prices to an advance of 1 point, and the market showed a generally steady tone during the early trading. Early cables from Liverpool were relatively easy, but prices there steadied up before New York opened, and later in the morning there may have been some buying here on reports of a steadier tone in the stock market. May contracts sold up to 10.14 and October to 10.77, with active months generally showing net advances of 8 to 9 points, but these prices seemed to bring in a little more selling and offerings increased as the stock market eased off during the early afternoon. May declined to 10.03 and October to 10.65, making net losses of about 2 to 3 points on the active months, but there was enough trade buying or covering to check the decline at these figures, and the late market was a shade steadier in sympathy with the rally in stocks.

There was further criticism of low temperatures reported in the South, but on the whole the weather news was considered a little more favorable than it was yesterday, and seemed to be without much effect either way on the market. Traders evidently found no particular incentives in the cotton trade news otherwise, and the day's fluctuations, while relatively narrow, appeared to follow the movements of the stock market quite closely.

Liverpool cables said that covering and continental buying in that market had been supplied by liquidation and Alexandria selling, and reported a poor demand for cotton cloths from India and China. Egyptian cotton futures in Alexandria were unchanged to 23 points higher, while the Indian spot quotation was 4 points lower. A private crop report issued here this morning, pointing to a decrease of 11.9 per cent, was without apparent effect on the immediate market.

Exports today, 6,901, making 5,958,852 so far this season. Port receipts, 8,414. U. S. port stocks, 3,541,241.

PARLEY ON BUSINESS HELD AT LEXINGTON

Special to The Washington Post.

Lexington, Va., April 23.—The chain store as a factor in retail distribution formed the basis tonight for the second session of the conference on business affairs at Washington and Lee University. Three addresses and an open forum occupied the evening.

Addresses were given by Albert H. Morrill, Cincinnati; William Nelson Taft, Philadelphia, and Edward A. Filene, Boston. Open forum was conducted by Roger Winborne, Lenoir, N. C., and W. P. Irwin, Lexington, Va. Maj. LeRoy Hodges, managing director, Virginia State Chamber of Commerce, Richmond, presided.

Chain Store Addresses.

Discussion and addresses on the national chain store as compared to the local chain store and independent merchants featured the session.

The opening session of the conference, held this afternoon, was devoted to banking problems. Addresses by Oscar Wells, Birmingham, and Thomas B. McAdams, Richmond, featured the meeting. Open discussion, conducted by James R. Gilliam, Lynchburg, Va.; John L. Campbell, Lexington, and L. W. H. Peyton, Staunton, Va., concluded the opening session.

Mr. Wells pointed out the advantages of unit banking over multiple banking.

Multiple Banking Explained.

"Multiple banking is a term which has come to mean group, branch and chain banking as differentiated from unit banking. My own feeling is that as a system unit banking is likely to be more dependable through all the years of the future, both for the banker and his customer. If the choice were left to me, as to whether we should have, in this country, multiple banking to the exclusion of unit banking or unit banking to the exclusion of multiple banking, I should choose the unit."

He would make an exception, however, of municipal branches in cities large enough to support suburban divisions. "Branch banking is preferable to group banking and is the best means by which growth of group banking may be curbed."

Outlining what he believed to be the causes of many bank failures throughout the country recently, Mr. McAdams suggested methods for protection of bank deposits.

"Bank failures in 1930 reached the unprecedented total of 1,345, involving aggregate deposits of $865,000,000," he said. "Poor management, accentuated by drought and unfavorable agricultural and industrial conditions, rather than type of character was primarily responsible for these suspensions.

Now Greatly Improved.

"The situation is now greatly improved. Failures for the entire first quarter of 1931 were 747, less than during the month of December, 1930, alone."

Mr. McAdams outlined five possible remedies: Retention of present dual system of national and State banks, with the best of each of these systems embodied in all of them; responsible management under Government supervision, divorced as far as possible from politics; development of branch banking along conservative lines, thus meeting the need of smaller communities; accumulation of reserve for the protection of depositors, and improving management through education of bank employes.

The third session of the conference, to be held tomorrow morning, will be devoted to business depression. Three addresses and an open forum will be featured. The conference will end tomorrow afternoon, the final session also being devoted to depression. Speakers will be Edgar J. Rich, of Massachusetts; R. K. Brodie, Cincinnati; Dr. Williford I. King, New York University; H. Parker Willis, Columbia University, and Dr. Alexander D. Noyes, New York Times.

NEWS OF LATEST HAPPENINGS IN MARYLAND AND VIRGINIA

ALEXANDRIA STREET REPAIRING TO START

Material From Boulevard Course Will Retop Other Routes.

THE WASHINGTON POST BUREAU.
907 Prince St., Alexandria, Va.
Phone Alexandria 323.

Work of removing the top dressing of paving material from Washington street will be started Monday, according to City Manager Wallace Lawrence. This material will be hauled to various sections of the city to be used in new road construction, the city council having, at its last meeting, passed a resolution providing for an appropriation of $30,000 for this work. The streets which will be improved with this material total 4¾ miles in length, and since they are all much narrower than Washington street, this material will be sufficient for the greater part of the work.

Mr. Lawrence stated yesterday that the city will, in order to accommodate residents on Washington street who wish to have water or gas mains renewed, omit the usual repaving charge, and the applicants for this work will only have to replace the sidewalk. Those desiring this work done are urged to make application before actual construction of Mount Vernon boulevard, which will traverse Washington street, is begun.

Work of grading South Washington street, from Franklin street to Hunting Creek, is now under way, and is being rapidly pushed to completion. With favorable weather last winter the construction is much further advanced than was expected, and practically the whole roadway is ready for top dressing.

The Alexandria Kiwanis Club was entertained yesterday at its weekly luncheon with a humorous talk on farming by Cpt. Thurlow White, of Fairfax County. Capt. White was formerly a member of the local club.

Lieut. Gov. Robert Hutchinson, of Manassas, of the Capitol District of Kiwanis, gave a short talk on underprivileged children and the part the Alexandria Kiwanis has taken in aiding them. Speakers were introduced by Thomas Chauncey, former president of the club, and Roger C. Sullivan, president.

Next Tuesday Kiwanis members will be the guests of the local Rotary Club at luncheon. "All Kiwanis Night" will be celebrated May 4, when a program of high-class acts will be given in the auditorium of the Virginia Public Service Building. D. C. Book and Irvin Diener will have charge. Members of families of Kiwanians have been invited to attend.

A meeting of directors of Kiwanis and chairmen of committees was held last night in the George Mason Hotel, with Mr. Hutchinson presiding.

Mary Washington Council, No. 4, Daughters of America, at its meeting Wednesday night, considered plans for entertaining the district council, which will meet with the local council next Wednesday evening. A number of prominent State and national officers will be present, and Mrs. Bessie N. Kenyon, district deputy, wil preside.

Plans for attending the State council meeting in Winchester in May were also discussed.

Sudden change in weather brought 58 lodgers to police headquarters Wednesday night, which is a record for the year. Both corridors of the building were filled with men, practically all of whom are on their way South, claiming to be in search of work.

Clearance papers for the barge houseboat Playhouse and the gas screw tug Elk have been issued by James R. Mansfield, collector of customs, to enable them to leave the Port of Alexandria. The Playhouse wintered in Alexandria, having come to the Camerson street wharf in October. It will go from here to Leonardtown, Md.

Mrs. Cora Jones Davis has sold to Charles P. Weir house and lot 36, block 6, Wilmer Park; J. Randolph Davis has sold to Robinson Moncure house and lot 313 Wolfe street, and Joseph M. Pancoast, special commissioner, has sold to Genevieve Hendrickson a lot at the northeast corner of Fairfax and Wilkes streets. Deeds of conveyance for these properties have been recorded with the clerk of the courts.

An oyster supper will be served at Lee Camp Hall from 5 to 8 o'clock this evening, for the benefit of the ambulance fund of the Fire Department.

Word has just been received here of the death on the Isthmus of Panama of Robert Beverley, a former resident of Alexandria, and brother of R. H. C. Beverley, of this city. Since leaving Alexandria several years ago Mr. Beverley has been connected with the Panama Railroad Co. He was a son of William Beverley, of Broad Run, Va., and a grandson of the late Robert N. Beverley, of Blairfield, Va.

DEMOCRATS TO BACK DOUW IN ANNAPOLIS

Special to The Washington Post.

Annapolis, Md., April 23.—That Col. John De P. Douw will be the Democratic candidate for Mayor of Annapolis became virtually certain today as city politicians began to discuss prospects for the municipal election to be held in July. Col. Douw's name was brought strongly to the front during the last few days by many of his friends, and it is understood that party leaders will not oppose him, as it is desired to avoid a primary fight, which ordinarily would be held in June, if possible.

Col. Douw served a term as mayor 25 years ago. Prior to that he was an alderman from the First Ward, and later on filled a like post from the Third Ward. Former Mayor Charles W. Smith, Democrat, also had been mentioned in connection with the mayoralty nomination, but it is understood that he does not desire to become a candidate. Hence, Col. Douw appears to have clear sailing.

Democratic leaders still are smarting from the overthrow of two years ago when Walter E. Quenstedt, Republican, slipped into office by a bare one vote majority over Charles E. Chance, Democrat, who was nominated after more or less dissension. Mr. Quenstedt's strength apparently was underestimated and Democratic workers were caught napping. Hence, they would avert a primary and present a united front to place a Democrat at the helm of city affairs.

Mayor Quenstedt, it is understood, will seek reelection. Slate-making soc : will be in order and indications are that the majority of members of the present council, the complexion of which is seven Democrats and three Republicans, will seek reelection.

Crisfield Fire Is Checked.

Crisfield, Md., April 23 (A.P.).—The Crisfield business district was threatened by fire early today when flames were discovered in the Arcade Theater Building on Central Main street. The fire department saved the building, which is the largest in town.

James F. Ballard, 80, Rug Collector, Is Dead

New York, April 23 (A.P.).—James Franklin Ballard, 80, world-famous collector of Oriental rugs, died today, the victim of filiria, a tropical blood disease contracted two years ago during his travels in Oriental countries.

Mr. Ballard, who at 55 developed a sudden passion for collecting strange and rare rugs, had in the last quarter century traveled more than 500,000 miles to collect his unusual specimens of weavings, valued at more than $750,000.

$50,000 GEM THEFT SUSPECT IDENTIFIED

Baltimore, Md., April 23 (A.P.).—Miss Peggy Stewart, one of the debutante victims of a holdup early Friday in which a party of homeward-bound operagoers was stripped of $50,000 in jewels, today identified a suspect as one of the bandit pair and said gems valued at $25,000 he had were part of the loot.

The suspect, Leo Navarro, 26, was arrested yesterday at his home. He said he was a tin cutter. Police said they were on the trail of another man.

Two diamond bracelets and a diamond-studded watch found in Navarro's possession were identified as her own by Miss Stewart, and a diamond pin was said to belong to Miss Nancy Miller, another debutante.

Navarro said he found the jewels in a park. He is to be given a formal hearing Saturday.

Other members of the party, robbed at the entrance to the suburban home of C. Wilber Miller, a manufacturer, were Mr. and Mrs. Miller and two other daughters.

With the arrest of Dale Lambert, 18, police were confident today they had solved another major crime here of the last few days. Lambert confessed, they announced, that he was one of the pair who in an attempt Monday to rob John Anderson, 42, a milk collector, shot and fatally wounded him. A search for the man he named as his companion was centered today in New York.

THE ONCE OVER

By H. I. PHILLIPS

THE ALL-METAL HOUSE.

NOW for the "canned house!" The latest thing in architecture is an all-metal home. The frame is of aluminum alloy and steel, the walls of aluminum sheets and the floors of steel. When a man resides in one of these things he is practically living in a metal container.

If father wants a new door cut through to his room he doesn't get a saw. He gets a can opener.

It is the Fabricated Residence. Once the idea takes hold, home building will no longer be a matter of construction. It will become a matter of delivery and assembly. You will order your new house by catalogue, specifying the size and shape. The factory will go to the stock room and ship out the parts at once. Home, Sweet Home will be thrown together while you wait.

* * * *

You can order your new country house on Friday morning and give a house party in it over the week-end.

* * * *

The idea hasn't gone that far yet, but in time a system may be arranged by which it will be possible for a home owner to turn in his old house and get an allowance on a new one every two or three seasons.

* * * *

This will divide society into two classes: those who always get the first wear out of a residence and those who believe the best values are to be found in a used home.

* * * *

* * * *

IF a living room goes bad on him he can get a new one at the nearest service station. And there will always be a couple of spare sun porches with every building.

* * * *

Insulation is said to make the new Canned Home soundproof, but it is a fifty-fifty bet that when pop drops his iron-heeled brogan on the bedroom floor it will make a noise like a driver dropping an ash can onto a concrete walk.

As the poet might put it:

Mid steel mills and canneries, though we may roam
Be it ever so tinny, there's no place like home;
A charm from the iron mill hallows us there
Home, Home, sweet, sweet Home.

Oh, give me my little tin cottage again!
The woodpeckers blunting their beaks on the door
Home, Home, sweet, sweet Home.

SPRING DIAGNOSIS.

"I HAVE a thought, but can't express it," The poet said in deep dismay; "You have no thought, and have expressed it," The cynic said, and went his way.

BE KIND TO ANIMALS WEEK SUGGESTIONS.

4—Do not talk back to African lions.

7—Remember before you strike—a mouse that it has a mother.

I MA DODO thinks the United States Steel Corporation must have something it wants to hide in view of the fact it held its annual meeting in Hoboken.

As white elephants are regarded as omens of good luck by King Prajadhipok of Siam, it is hoped that America will arrange to have Paul Whiteman cross his path in summer flannels.

BANQUET SPEAKER PRAISES FIREMEN

ARLINGTON COUNTY BUREAU OF THE POST.
Tel. Cla. 309. Clarendon, Va.

The Cherrydale Fire Department celebrated its fifteenth annual banquet last night in the auditorium of the Firemen's Hall with more than 200 persons attending. Ray Sha, president of the department, made the address of welcome and acted as toastmaster. Invocation was given by the Rev. Hunter Lewis.

Representative Judge Howard W. Smith, the principal speaker, congratulated the Cherrydale Fire Department on its progress. He praised the service given by the volunteer fireman who leaves his home at all hours and in all kinds of weather to help others.

Other speakers included G. Frank Allwine, president of the Arlington-Fairfax Volunteer Firemen's Association; Walter U. Varney, president of the Clarendon Fire Department; Sergt. Barganio, of the Washington Fire Department, who expressed the regrets of Chief Watson, who was unable to be present; Robert Jansen, former president, and E. C. Turnburke, prime mover in the organization and the first president of the Cherrydale department.

Other features of the program, of which Robert Caubaugh was master of ceremonies, were the dancing of Frances Williams, songs by Virginia Rowell and Lida Hoy, and violin solos by Rose Novak, with Edith Reed as accompanist.

The banquet was furnished and served by women of the auxiliary, of which Mrs. Frank Shaw is president. She was assisted by Mrs. Grace Donaldson, Mrs. Arthur Walker, Mrs. C. E. Wismer, Mrs. S. C. Tacker, Mrs. Wesley Vermillion, Mrs. E C. Johnson, Mrs. Frank Shaw, Mrs. W. E. Rowe, Mrs. John Gredlin, Mrs. E. Thomas, Mrs. Ollie Williams, Mrs. F. Strickler, Mrs. Edward Donaldson, Mrs. Crandal Mackey, Mrs. William Topley, Mrs. Nelson Parker, Mrs. Mary Brown, Mrs. Blanche Tabor, Mrs. C. E. Batchelett and Mrs. Fred Wetzel.

That Arlington County will have an adequate approach to the new Arlington Memorial Bridge is assured in a letter to Robert E. Plymale, president of the Northern Arlington County Memorial Bridge Approach, from Supervisor B. M. Hedrick of Arlington district, in which he says:

"After having made a very careful study of the estimated revenue for the year of the Arlington district road fund, in conjunction with such road projects as are now under construction and under consideration, I am pleased to be able to inform your association that the county will be able to accept the most generous offer of the property owners in that section to dedicate a right of way from the Military road to the Alexandria road, in prolongation of Washington street, and will be able to at least grade this section at once, so that the completion of this project may be assured next year in time for the opening of the bridge.

"The completion of the grading this year and the surfacing at a later date is most advisable from an engineering standpoint, in order that the fill may properly settle; and from a financial standpoint in order that the limited amount of money available may be equitably distributed among several local improvements that are urgently needed."

The letter will be read at a special meeting of the association in the auditorium of the Woodrow Wilson School tonight at 8 o'clock.

The decision on the part of Supervisor Hedrick is the result of the movement started by the association February 23, when county officials an others interested made a tour of inspection over the proposed right-of-way.

The building of this road, it is pointed out, means a direct approach to the new Arlington Memorial Bridge for residents of Falls Church, Cherrydale, Thrifton Village, Aurora Heights, Lyon Village, Clarendon, Ballston, Fort Myer Heights and sections of Lyon Park and Ashton Heights ,together with Livingstone Heights and Leeway.

An Arlington County Civic Federation committee, with Grover E. Payne as chairman, which is to formulate plans for a community chest for Arlington County in 1932, will meet tonight in the Brumback Realty Co. offices at Clarendon at 8 o'clock.

Delegates from the Arlington-Fairfax Volunteer Firemens Association consisting of George F. D. Rollings, J. R. Royston and William C. McKim, and the Rev. Perry L. Mitchell, the Rev. Lsaac Steenson, and the Rev. Ira P. Harbaugh, of the Arlington County Ministerial Union, will attend.

The thirty-first annual session of the Virginia Conference on Social Work will be held in the George Mason Hotel at Alexandria, May 4, 5 and 6, when problems that have developed as a result of the drought, unemployment, poor relief, crime, insanity and child welfare will be discussed.

Among speakers will be Col. Arthur Woods, chairman of President Hoover's unemployment commission, and Miss Joanna Colcord, director of the charity organization department of the Russell Sage Foundation.

F. E. Warren, of Bristol, Va., is president of the organization, which was formed in 1900 to promote social service work and public welfare activities in Virginia. Vice presidents are: Mrs. W. W. King, of Staunton; T. C. Rohrbaugh, of Roanoke, and Mrs. Jessie Lamb Woolfolk, of Lynchburg. Other officers include Arthur W. James, of Richmond, executive secretary, and Frank E. Cavedo, of Richmond, treasurer. R. C. Hough, Dr. E. R. Rogers, Mrs. Mae E. Jacobs, Judge John Massie, F. D. Preston, and Dr. H. DeJ. Coghill, constitute the executive committee.

According to a report from the office of Mrs. Mae Jacobs, superintendent of public welfare in Arlington County, for the year ended June 30, 1930, the following amounts of money have been expended for dependent, delinquent and defectives: State, $5,765,471.61; cities and counties, $1,553,487.14; private agencies, $4,008,025.83, or a total of $11,326,-991.58.

Another case of the same character on complaint of Louise Etta Cheyney for the same amount also was continued until June 22. Attorneys Frank L. Ball and Lawrence Douglas represent the plaintiff, with Attorneys Amos C. Crounse and Harry F. Kennedy for the defendant.

Meeting yesterday at Windsor Arms in Glebe road, the Arlington County Monarch Club completed plans for its annual ladies' night to be held the evening of May 7 at the Army-Navy Club in Arlington County.

INDICTED OFFICER STANDS HIS GROUND

Would Repeat Course Under Circumstances, Prince Georges M.. Says.

Indicted by a Prince Georges County grand jury for malfeasance because he allowed a woman prisoner to remain in his office until she could arrange for bond, Earl Blackwell, constable in Capitol Heights, was yesterday arrested on a bench warrant.

Blackwell was at once released on bail of $300. He has retained State Senator Lansdale G. Sasscer to represent him.

Blackwell says that the charge against him arose out of the arrest of Miss Caroline King on April 12. Commitment papers were made out for her and he took her to the jail at Marlboro, he says. Here he found that she would have to be placed in a cell with three colored women, so he brought her back to his office in Capitol Heights.

His secretary, Miss Marjorie Oliver, and Blackwell sat up with Miss King all night until she could arrange to put up collateral in the morning. She was brought to him in the first place, he said, by a bondsman who had put up bail for her on a charge which she did not appear in court to face.

Blackwell said yesterday that he would repeat his course under similar circumstances. He has a good record as a policeman, having been in office under the former sheriff, Charles S. Early.

His theory that Emanuel Thorne, Marine private, whose body was found in a shallow grave in Capitol Heights, was slain in an automobile during a drunken fight, is generally regarded as being the most promising theory in the case.

Two children were slightly hurt yesterday when a school bus bearing 40 children to school slid off the road near Croome and struck a culvert. The occupants were all children of the neighborhood being brought to the Marlboro School.

Those hurt were James Tayman, son of the driver, and Oscar Duley. The Tayman boy received a cut on the head requiring two stitches to close and the Duley boy's hands were cut by glass. They were treated by Dr. Reverdy Sasscer after being brought to Marlboro in a passing car.

According to Harry Tayman, driver, a gust of wind struck the bus, blowing it toward the side of the road, where it sank in the soft shoulders and slid into a culvert. The children were all insured by the board of education against injury, and their parents have been instructed to send doctors' bills to the board.

One little boy, who was sucking a large piece of candy at the time of the accident, became worried when he missed it, thinking he had swallowed it. It was later found in the debris, however.

Harold Beale, a young colored inmate of the House of Reformation, at Cheltenham, was yesterday sentenced to four years in the penitentiary for starting a fire at the institution. He is alleged to have set fire to one of the buildings last June. He pleaded not guilty, but was convicted by a jury.

George Johnson, Grenville Haskill and Thomas DeShields, also prisoners at Cheltenham, were each sentenced to three years, also for arson. They are alleged to have fired the broom factory at the school several months ago. They pleaded guilty.

Three colored boys, Andrew, Robert and Elwood Young, were each sentenced to serve two years for larceny and receiving stolen goods. They are alleged to have taken a quantity of locust fence posts and sold them. They were convicted by a jury.

Paul M. Taylor, indicted for assisting in the hold-up of a jewelry store in Laurel, pleaded guilty yesterday to a charge of larceny after an indictment for robbery had been nolle prossed. The trial will be before the court, which took testimony in the case yesterday, although a verdict will probably not be rendered until Monday. Thomas A. Phillips, of Baltimore, who was also engaged in the hold-up, pleaded guilty to both charges several days ago.

Taylor, his wife and his father all testified that he had been drinking heavily before the robbery, but that he had changed since his arrest. His father testified that his son had learned to drink while at school. Eldridge Taylor, a third member of the bandit gang, shot himself shortly after the robbery, when he was cornered by police.

Pointing out the benefits of the proposed new road law for Hyattsville, Dr. H. T. Willis, mayor of the town, yesterday issued a statement to the voters who will accept or reject the new measure at a referendum on May 4.

Dr. Willis, who says he at first objected to the law, discusses its advantages at some length. There are three main benefits, he says; the town pays for more of the paving work, the property owners have more time to pay their assessments, and it will be easier to collect assessments, when due, under the new measure.

Dr. Willis' initial opposition to the bill was based on his reluctance to saddle the town with a bonded indebtedness and on the ground that it might be unfair to property owners who had paid for improvements on a different plan. His statement says that about three-fourths of the voters now live on improved streets, although only one-third of the streets have been paved.

Under the new law the town will pay for paving all alleys and intersections, this assessment being saved to the abutting property owner. In addition, the owner will have ten years instead of two to pay the assessment, and the rate of interest will be only 5 per cent. "The new law also provides that any excessive cost due to unusual conditions be left to the discretion of the mayor and common council which would be to the advantage of the property owner," his statement says.

Dr. Willis points out that under the old law the cost of road construction, including interest, is often allowed to accumulate at the expense of the town. The new law will take care of this by making all payments collectible when due.

The most important feature of the new law, Dr. Willis says, is the provision allowing the mayor and council to refinance the special road fund. This will allow them to dispose of a considerable amount of property brought in by the town which is now carried by the town as a liability with a poor prospect of ever disposing of it to an advantage.

Dr. Willis says that he is convinced that any indebtedness legally contracted by the mayor and council is equally binding upon the town, whether it is in the form of a ten-year bond, a certificate of indebtedness, or a 30-day note. "Under the new law the town will simply guarantee the payment of any amount borrowed, as it has done in the past, and will not be put to any expense unless the owner whose property has been benefitted fails to pay." This will be less frequent when the owner has a longer time to pay, he concludes.

Examinations will be held in Hyattsville on April 25, to fill three typist and stenographic positions, according to an announcement made yesterday by the State Employment and Registration Service. Examinations will be held for junior stenographer-typist, $780 to $960 a year; senior stenographer-typist, $1,080 to $1,800 per year, and senior stenographer-typist, $1,320 to $1,800 per year.

FAIRFAX BUREAU OF THE POST.
P. O. Box 245, Fairfax, Va.
Phone Clarendon 2324-W-2.

The northern Virginia bicentennial coordinating committee met in the auditorium of the Madison School at Falls Church. The Arlington County delegation, headed by Arthur Orr, protested the previous action of the central committee, limiting the membership from each of the four jurisdictions to seven representatives each.

As a result of the discussion it was decided to complete the organization on the basis of eleven main activities in each of the four areas, which includes Arlington and Fairfax Counties, the cities of Alexandria and Falls Church. Chairman of each of these activities will constitute the coordinating committee for the entire area. The executive committee will consist of one member from each area and officers from the central committee. It was decided to elect permanent officers at a meeting next Wednesday in the Madison School. Representative Howard W. Smith, of Alexandria, has been acting as temporary chairman.

Following the general meeting, Mayor L. P. Daniels, of Falls Church, called the town's delegates into conference and selected additional representatives. The personnel of the Falls Church committee has been announced as follows: Executive committee, Maj. L. P. Daniels; planning and beautification, Mrs. J. H. Hill; clean-up, Olin Snyder; housing and subsistence, Mrs. O. B. Livingston; publicity and advertising, J. O. Martin; first aid and comfort, Dr. C. A. Ransom; general information, Guy N. Church; history and celebration, Mrs. Harry E. Moran; officials, Dr. Julius H. Parmelee; routes and guides, J. O. Belz; Boy and Girl Scouts, Charles Fenwich. Capt. Thurlow White, of Baileys Cross Roads, will appoint additional representatives from Fairfax County, and John Barton Phillips will do the same from Alexandria, prior to the meeting next Wednesday.

Supervisor W. F. P. Reid of Groveton has been chosen chairman of the special committee appointed by the Fairfax County Chamber of Commerce to formulate a road improvement program for Fairfax County to oresent to the State Highway Commission. Mrs. E. D. Vosbury, of Merrifield, was named secretary.

The commitee will study the danger points and the possible changes or developments on each of the State highways that cross Fairfax County with the view of having improvements made. The committee plans to hold its next meeting on Wednesday, at which time the various danger points will be grouped into a general report, to be submitted to the Fairfax County Board of Supervisors for indorsement. The committee will also seek the support of the various town councils, the Alexandria Chamber of Commerce, city officials, and civic organizations of the county.

It has been stated that the Culpeper district of the State Highway Commission, in which Fairfax County is located, receives the second smallest district appropriation in Virginia, although a greater volume of traffic travels these highways than any of the other districts. More than twice as many cars have been repeatedly counted on the Washington-Richmond highway, especially between Alexandria City and Mount Vernon, as have been found on the Valley pike, which has been recently widened to 28 feet.

The report, which is to be submitted by the special committee of the Fairfax chamber, will follow two main subdivisions.

An educational talking motion picture, the first talking picture to be presented in the town of Falls Church, will be shown this evening in the auditorium of the Madison School. Sponsored by the Falls Church Episcopal Church, with Fred Huber acting as chairman in charge of arrangements.

The bridge luncheon planned by the Acacia Chapter, Order of Eastern Star, Falls Church for this afternoon at the home of Mrs W W. Rucker, has been indefinitely postponed because of the illness of Mrs. Rucker.

The Willing Workers Society of Lincolnia will hold its regular meeting this evening.

The garden department of the Woman's Club at Falls Church will meet this afternoon at the home of Mrs. J. H. Hill. Members will discuss a program for spring planting and the potting of chrysanthemums for the fall flower show.
